NOTES OF THE DAY.

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS SERVED IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

The Minor Events About the City as Gathered by the Alert Reporters of The Day.

The Granville Institute opened to day with a good number of pupils.

A two-story frame dwelling house is going up on McClannahan street. It is being built by Mandy Anderson, a colored woman.

Keysville, Va., is not to be outdone and sends in half a thousand to the Oxford Land, Improvement and Manufacturing Company.

Far-off Colorado is sending subscriptions the Oxford Land, Improvement and Manufacturing Company to swell Oxford's boom.

Why have not steps been taken to develop the brownstone quarries near Oxford? Here is a chance for a syndicate of enterprising business men.

L. L. Lewis, of Mecklenburg county, Va., is offering daily on our market very fine watermelons. THE DAY is indebted to Mr. Lewis for a sample melon.

We call attention to the advertisement of J. P. Stedman. He will retain that popular and worthy pharmacist John T. Thomas, as his chief clerk.

The Oxford Literary Society will meet tomorrow night at the residence of Prof. J. H. Horner. The subject for discussion will be Shakespear's "Romeo and Juliet."

The Presbyterian congregation will have Sunday school every Sunday morning and hold services twice a month at the Opera House until their new church edifice is completed. The old church building is being torn down.

Applications for prize houses continue to come in. We fear unless more of these buildings are erected at once Oxford will lose some large buyers who would come here if they could get houses in which to store and handle tobacco.

Capt. John A. Williams, dealer in real estate, has just made a spot cash sale of the entire stock of drugs, medicines, etc., of Davis, Thomas & Co., to J. P. Stedman. Mr. Stedman is said to be a live business man and THE DAY heartily welcomes him to our city.

The series of meetings at the Methodist church has excited much interest and is attended by large congregations. There have been so far four or five professions of faith. Rev. Mr.
Pell is an earnest, able and persuasive preacher and commands the closest attention of his hearers.

Wants to Move to Raleigh.

At a meeting of the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday night, the State Chronicle says a letter was read from E. I. Harris, of Wilton, Granville county, offering to provide the necessary machinery for manufacturing "well and economically" 300,000 lbs. of tobacco annually, provided the citizens of Raleigh would take stock to the amount of $6,000.

The machinery is to be valued and considered as so much stock (to be valued by disinterested parties). None of the money subscribed by the citizens is to be invested in machinery, but to be used as working capital.

The Chamber decided to take up Mr. Harris' proposition, and a committee was appointed to raise the necessary stock.

Special Notice.
The tax books having been placed in my hands for collection for the year 1890, tax payers will please come at once and settle without delay. C. M. ROGERS, Sheriff.

PURELY PERSONAL.

The Doings and Whereabouts of Some People You Know.

Miss Roxie Suit, of Dutchville, is in the city on a visit.

Miss Ruth Lanier left yesterday afternoon for Raleigh.

Ola Forbes, of Pitt county, N. C., is in Oxford with tobacco.

E. G. Butler, of Henderson, was in the city a short while this morning.

Miss Annie Powell returned yesterday from a week's stay in the country.

Mrs. L. M. Gregory and Miss Lucy Gregory are on a visit to Chase City, Va.

Miss Ella Yarborough, of Semora, N. C., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. F. M.
Meadows.

Miss Nannie Crowder and Miss Kate Bagby, of Halifax county, Va., are the guests of Mrs. W. A. Adams.

Miss Mollie Chambers, of Boydton, Va., arrived in Oxford yesterday, and left for her home this morning.

F. H. Hooks & Bro., prominent merchants of Fremont, N. C., are in the town with a large shipment of tobacco.

Miss Lizzie Briggs and Miss Ruth Ferebee left yesterday afternoon, for Hillsboro where they entered Misses Nash and Kallock's school.

Mrs. J. J. Davis, Jr., of Stovall, and her sister, Miss Annie Webb, of Louisburg, arrived in Oxford yesterday afternoon and left this morning for Louisburg.

Mrs. Bettie Smith, mother of our townsmen, L. G. and R. T. Smith, after spending a month or more in Oxford, left this morning for her home in Louisburg, N. C.

J. A. Roberts, of Richmond, Va., is in the city today. He has been canvassing for the Oxford Land, Improvement and Manufacturing Company, and made large sales. We are pleased to learn that he will soon move to Oxford with his family, and occupy the Beasley cottage on Main street.

Rev. J. T. Harris Accepts.

The following, published in the Durham Globe of yesterday afternoon, explains itself:

OXFORD, N. C., Sept. 2, 1890.
Rev. J. T. Harris:

You were unanimously elected superintendent of the Asylum today.
A. H. A. WILLIAMS.

DURHAM, N. C., Sept. 3, 1890.
Mr. A. H. A. Williams:

MY DEAR SIR AND BRO.—I received yesterday your telegram notifying me of my election to the superintendency of the Oxford Orphan Asylum. You will please allow me to express to you personally, and through you to the whole board of directors, my high appreciation of the confidence you have thus imposed in me, and all the more so, because of the prominent and very excellent gentlemen throughout the state who have been mentioned for this position. I hope I fully appreciate the importance of the work to which you call me; a work "no wise man would seek and no good man could decline." I can only say, in accepting this position, that under the blessing of God, and with the prayers and help of the good people of North Carolina, I will perform the delicate duties you assign me as best I may be able.

Yours fraternally,
J. T. HARRIS.

THE LATEST NEWS.

SIFTED AND ARRANGED FOR THE BUSY READER.

Happenings in North Carolina and Elsewhere as Gathered from Today's Exchanges.

Raleigh is to have a land improvement company.

The Durham Sun announces that the work of building Trinity College will be started at once.

Twenty-four town lots were sold at Asheville, N. C., yesterday for $45,- 000. They were sold at auction.

There was an election in Arkansas Monday, and the Democrats carried the State by an increased majority.
The Maine election comes off next week.

A new daily newspaper of independent Republican politics will make its appearance in Savannah, Ga., about the middle of this month. All the stockholders are colored.

Married, in the M. E. Church, South, Henderson, N. C., by Rev. F. A.
Bishop, at 11 o'clock Wednesday, Sept. 3, Chas. G. Moore, of Littleton, N. C., to Miss Mamie, daughter of J.
P. Massenburg.

The Democratic Convention for the Second Congressional District of North Carolina met at Kinston yesterday, and nominated W. J. Rogers, of Northampton, on the first ballot. Mr.
Rogers is a good farmer and a graduate of the University. He is unmarried.

According to official estimates the total cotton crop of the United States amounts this year to 7,311,322 bales —of a quarter of a million bales more than the yield of any former year. Of the total production of 6,978,290 bales last year, 4,996,543 bales were exported. The present year promises a still larger exportation.

Aul's saloon at Greentown, Indiana, was destroyed by dynamite at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning. The entire front was blown out and the contents totally wrecked. The Greentown people have fought the location of a saloon in their town for years, and the fact that Aul succeeded without trouble in getting a license exasperated them and they determined to blow him up.

An election was held in Vermont Tuesday. A late report says: There will be large Democratic gains in the House. Thirty-seven Democratic as-semblymen are so far known to have been elected. There were only eighteen Democrats in the last assembly. Two Farmers' League candidates and an unexpectedly large number of high license Republican assemblymen are elected.

The Winston correspondent of the State Chronicle, says: "Last night the Winston baseball club, the champions of North Carolina, left to play four games with the Roanoke team, the champions of Virginia. Great interest is manifested here and telegrams will be received at the end of each inning.
Roanoke will come to Winston next week, also Richmond, to play our boys on their own grounds."

NEW PASSENGER STATION.

A Correspondent Gives His Opinion About the Best Site.

EDITOR OF THE DAY.—Soon our new passenger depot will be permanently located, and, as it is a matter of importance to the people of Oxford, that the location should be convenient to the business centre of the town, it behooves us to speak now or hereafter hold our peace.

Recently the Richmond & Danville Co. purchased the Kivett machine shop place on McClannahan street, it was generally thought as a site for this depot. This lot fronts one of our widest streets, is easily reached and is probably the best that could be gotten in the town. It was believed, until a few days ago, that it was a settled thing that the depot would be put there, but land improvement company no.

2 offers to give the R. & D. a site two or three hundred yards higher up on opposite side of the track, in the direction of Stovall. Will this latter location suit the people of Oxford? I do not think so. CITIZEN.

Ex-Speaker Webster Will Support the Nominees in the Good Old Way.

In an account of the Rockingham County Democratic convention, the Twin City Daily says: "Bro. Webster, of the Reidsville Weekly, was found to be a consistent Democrat.
He got up in the convention at the beginning of the proceedings and declared that he would 'support the nominees in the good old way.' This did not suit some, and to calm their fears he said: 'I declare here, flat-footed, that I will support the nominees of this convention, and Williams and Barber.' A very flattering vote was given him for the General Assembly which showed that he has a large personal following in old Rockingham."

DAVIS, THOMAS & Co.

I have this day bought out the entire stock of Mesers. Davis, Thomas & Co., and will continue the drug business at the old stand.
With a practical experience of many years I begin business in Oxford and hope to merit the patronage of the public.
Mr. John T. Thomas will remain with me.
