NOTES OF THE DAY.

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS SERVED IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

The Minor Events About the City as Gathered by the Alert Reporters of The Day.

The glad sunshine is with us again and we are happy.

D. S. Osborn is having a new platform to his wagon scales built.

The accommodation train from Durham last night was two hours late.

Hundley Bros. & Co. are putting in new machinery to manufacture tile and drain piping.

C. J. Ward is today removing his store to Herndon Block No. 2, on College street.

"The Progress of a Century," lecture by Dr. Lafferty, at the Opera House tonight.

Old newspapers to put under carpets can be had at this office at twenty-five cents a hundred.

The banks have paid many thousand dollars in the farmers' hands the past two or three days.

B. M. Overton has arrived in the city, and will open a grocery store on Commercial Avenue. He is now opening his stock of goods.

Two white men had a fight this afternoon on the road between Oxford and Ragland's store. Knives were used, and both were badly cut.

Dr. Lafferty will lecture at the Opera House tonight, the proceeds to go towards building the new parsonage of the M. E. Church, Oxford station.

Work on the new parsonage of the Methodist Church of the city was commenced yesterday. The house will be pretty, roomy and comfortable.

F. Schwartz has sold out to C. J.
Turner, who now occupies Stalls Nos.
1 and 5 in the market house. Mr.
Turner will keep at all times the best meats that can be obtained.

Fred. N. Day has an advertisement in THE DAY, of interest to those looking for something suitable for wedding presents. He has a new and extra fine line of silver-plated ware.

Every effort should be made to house and entertain the visitors to Oxford on the 9, 10 and 11, and those who have a spare room or two and are willing to take a few boarders for these days, should at once inform C. D.
Osborn.

A large crowd is expected here Monday, October 6, to hear the address by Col. L. F. Livingston, president of the Farmers' Alliance of Georgia and Democratic nominee for Congress from the Atlanta district. A speech of major interest and an eloquent effort is promised.

The tobacco market is active indeed today. Innumerable white-top wagons are in the city, and the warehouse floors are full of the bright golden leaf.
Eastern North Carolina is also well represented. It is not likely all the warehouses can sell today, and a heavy break will be left over for tomorrow.

The Holston Methodist says that Dr.
Lafferty is "the wittiest man in the South." The doctor deserves the compliment. The Oxford people were highly pleased with the lectures he delivered here several years ago, and are glad of the opportunity to hear him again. He will face a large audience at the Opera House tonight.

Kronheimers' Clothing House.

Some prices on clothing, of great interest to every man and boy, are quoted in a new advertisement of Kronheimers' Clothing House in this issue of THE DAY. This progressive house carries a large, well-selected stock of goods, bought of the most extensive manufacturers and sold on the lowest possible margin. Goods are bound to move at the figures named and are moving rapidly.
Call early and treat yourself to genuine bargains.

PURELY PERSONAL.

The Doings and Whereabouts of Some People You Know.

G. T. Roach went to Henderson
this morning.

Jas. Hester went to Nash county
this morning.

Hon. R. B. Glenn will leave on the afternoon train, and speak in Durham tonight.

Dr. J. J. Lafferty arrived in the city this morning. He lectured at Henderson last night.

Capt A. H. A. Williams is in Person county today. He will not return to Oxford until just before election day, as he has appointments to speak every day of this month.

Dr. J. J. Lafferty.

This distinguished lecturer will tell something about "the Progress of a Century" at the Opera House tonight.
He will amuse and interest his audience. The following are some press opinions of Dr. Lafferty:

Labouchere, the editor of the London Truth, is a remarkable bright man. He is the English John J. Lafferty.—Wilmington Star.

Had he chosen the stage instead of the pulpit, he would have rivalled Owen and equalled Jefferson.—Norfolk Virginian.

He is one of the most remarkable men of the nineteenth century. He delivered a lecture at Watkins' Hall which will not be forgotten by the people of Nashville for many generations to come.—Editorial correspondent of Alabama Advocate.

The lecture will begin at 8:30 o'clock. General admission, 25cts; reserved seats, 35cts, on sale at Furman & Hays' drugstore. Gallery reserved for colored people exclusively at general admission price.

The New Brass Band.

The Granville Grays Cornet Band was fully organized at a meeting in the Armory last night. W. C. Thaxton was elected captain, H. D. White leader, W. T. Clement secretary and C. A. Daniel treasurer.

The instruments were distributed as follows: First E Flat Cornet, H.
D. White; Second E Flat Cornet, C.
A. Daniel, First B Flat Cornet, W.
C. Thaxton; Second B Flat Cornet,

HON. R. B. GLENN.

MAKES A ROUSING SPEECH IN THE OPERA HOUSE LAST NIGHT.

A Splendid, Vigorous and Clear Pre- sentation of the National and State Issues -- Republican Promises vs. Republican Performance.

Hon. R. B. Glenn, of Winston, is not a candidate for public office. He is a true Democrat, a patriotic North Carolinian and a good speaker, and tendered his services to the State Democratic executive committee to address the voters at such places as they might elect to send him.

He spoke in the Opera House last night.

Mr. Glenn handled the tariff question well, showing its inequalities, its sectional character and how under the high protection of the Republican party the manufacturers have become powerful magnates, controlling railroads, congressmen and presidents, shaping legislation to their own advantage and grinding the masses into the dust. It was classes against masses.
The pretended protection to agricultural products was a fraud, a delusion and a snare. The farmer was forced to sell in the lowest market and to buy in the highest market. One fifteenth of the people were protected and growing richer every day, and the other fourteen-fifteenths were getting poorer every day. It was high time that the farmers, mechanics, lawyers, doctors, merchants and others combined to protect their interests.

The speaker reviewed Republican promises made in election times and Republican performances after that party was in power. One promise they have kept. They said they would get rid of the one hundred million dollars surplus in the treasury and they have gotten rid of it, squandering that immense sum of money in pensioning ex-sulters and bummers who are willing to do dirty political work for the Republicans. Very little of it goes to Southern men, and Southern men who get any of it are traitors to their section and people and can not look honest men in the face. They promised to pass the Blair Educational bill, and, although in control of Congress and the Presidency, they didn't do it.

They promised to repeal the internal revenue laws, and what have they done? Taken two cents off the tax on manufactured tobacco, which benefits the manufacturers and not the farmers. The bad features of the law are not only maintained but made worse. Farmers are allowed to sell their tobacco where and to whom they please, with this important proviso—upon demand of any revenue officer they must give a full and accurate report of all sales, and if they make a wrong statement or refuse to give information they can be dragged to the United States courts, fined $500 and be imprisoned. Many honest tobacco growers cannot write or keep accounts, and are threatened with a new danger.
Spies may descend upon them at any hour of the day or night. The espionage is further increased under the Conger bill, and they can poke their noses into your lard can and see if it contains pure hog lard or lard made partly of cotton seed oil; and your sugar bowl is liable to the same inspection under the new sugar tariff.

He was told that there was apathy in the Democratic ranks in Granville county. Apathy in the face of the efforts of the Republicans to capture the State! He made an impassioned appeal to men with white skins and straight hair to arouse themselves and to get to work. He drew a thrilling picture of the dark days of 1868-69, when the Republicans all-but plunged North Carolina in irretrievable ruin, and contrasted it with the peace, prosperity and progress under Democratic administration. His peroration was brilliant, magnificent.

The audience caught some of Mr.
Glenn's vigor and enthusiasm, and he undoubtedly did good here.
