NOTES OF THE DAY.

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS SERVED IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

The Minor Events About the City as Gathered by the Alert Reporters of The Day.

The Democratic county and legislative candidates are at Buchanan today.

There are big movements on foot to promote the growth and prosperity of Oxford.

The registration agony is over. The thing for the Democrats to do now is to poll their full strength.

Rev. J. L. White, of Durham, will preach at the Baptist Church Monday night and will remain in the city a week or more.

The new registration, it is said, will show a white majority in Granville county of between two and four hundred. All the precincts have not been heard from yet.

Rev. W. W. Walker will fill an appointment at Goshen, this county, tomorrow. The pulpit of St. Stephens will be filled by Rev. J. M. Horner in the morning. Mr. Walker will return in time to conduct the evening services.

A large number of negroes have left Granville county in the past year or two. Many went to Mississippi and Oklahoma, and numbers found employment and homes in the North.
There is little doubt about the white voters being in the majority in the old county now, and we intend to swing her into the Democratic columns in grand style at the November election.

Close Up Election Day.
TO THE MERCHANTS.—Your country calls for the services of your employees.

Let it be known that every patriotic merchant in North Carolina will lend the influence of his establishment to the Democratic party for one day, by closing business from sunset November 3d to sunset November 4th.

By this means many thousand active Democratic workers can give their assistance to serve the party and save the State.

Let not those who have the good of their country at heart be intimidated into restraining their clerks from leaving because some more narrow-minded fellow-merchant insist upon keeping his place of business open on election day.

The unfavorable comment made against the few illiberal dealers, who would hold active workers from the polls in order to catch the small trade that floats on election day, would increase in the future the business of those who closed, for the people are not ungrateful. DEMOCRAT.

CITY COMMISSIONERS.

A Special Meeting Held this Morning
--Cemetery Business.

A special meeting of the city commissioners was held in the Mayor's office this morning, at which Mayor L. G. Smith, A. W. Graham, R. T.
Smith and John Webb were present.

Messrs. Graham and Webb, cemetery committee, made a report.

Maj. C. H. Scott was allowed $25 for making survey and plat of new cemetery, and the pay roll of Haywood Day, under whose direction walks and drives were graded, was allowed. The latter amounts to about $215.

It was moved and carried that the price of lots in the new cemetery be fixed at five cents per square foot to residents of the city and seven cents to non-residents.

It was also moved and carried that no further interments be allowed in the old cemetery, or elsewhere in the corporation, without special permit from the city commissioners. Any person violating this ordinance will be fined ten dollars.

J. A. Renn was made keeper of the new cemetery at salary of five dollars per month.

The cemetery committee was instructed to draw up rules and regulations for the new cemetery.

A Splendid Lecture.

A cultivated audience, composed of people of Oxford and vicinity, heard Dr. B. F. Dixon tell about "Moths" in the Opera House last night.

It was a magnificent lecture, full of great moral truths, couched in beautiful language. His hearers drank in his words with eagerness, applauded his sentiments and laughed heartily at his anecdotes and humorous portrayal of moth eaten characters.

The doctor is a complete success as a lecturer, and the general opinion is that he excels any heard in our city in a long time. He is versatile, and does everything he undertakes excellently well.

About $40.00 was taken in at the door, to be used in building the new parsonage for the M. E. Church, Oxford Circuit.

Seminary Art School.

The art school of the Oxford Female Seminary is quite full. The well-deserved popularity of Miss Hall, the accomplished artist who presides over this department, has attracted a large number of students, and this lady assures us that there is an unusual degree of enthusiasm evinced by her pupils.
All who take pleasure in witnessing cheerful, honest work must visit the studio of the Seminary, where from 9 a. m. till 1 p. m., may be found Miss Hall and her band of happy, earnest workers.

COLUMBIA, TENN., March 28, 1890.

Radam's Microbe Killer Co.,
Nashville, Tenn.:

Gentleman—I will say in behalf of the Microbe Killer that my sales, as you know, are increasing every day, and with the large amount I have sold, not one person has been dissatisfied nor said that your medicine has not done what it is recommended to do. It simply works miracles. It has cured patients that doctors have given up to die. It has, to my certain knowledge, cured consumption, dropsy, catarrh, dyspepsia, rheumatism, asthma, scrofula, kidney trouble, and bronchial trouble. I will send you any amount of testimonials if you want them. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth.
Respectfully,
ALGERON A. HODGE.

RALLY AT BEREA.

GRAND GATHERING OF WALNUT GROVE DEMOCRATS.

Telling Speeches by Ex-Gov. Jarvis, Hon. W. R. Cox, A. W. Graham and Others--Great Enthusiasm.

As had been announced all over the county, the Democrats of Walnut Grove township, assembled en masse on yesterday to hear the sound doctrines of the party as set forth by some of the most prominent speakers of the State.

While waiting for Gov. Jarvis to arrive, Hon. A. W. Graham was loudly called for, and in keeping with his principles he responded in a strong speech, urging all white men to stand together in the coming election. He pointed out to his hearers the great importance of Democratic supremacy, and concluded with an appeal to their reason and judgment to decide between the two parties.

After an intermission of about an hour, during which time a bountiful dinner was spread in the grove, Gov.
Jarvis was introduced, and, although suffering with a sore throat, his speech was all that could be wished for. He said that he had been informed of some prejudices in and out of the Alliance, and that his visit was for the purpose of settling all differences.
"My friends, pull off your overcoats of prejudices, and in neat-fitting Democratic coats march to the polls on election day and deal such death-blows to Republicanism that nothing on earth can resurrect it." He was frequently interrupted by bursts of applause, and his entire speech was calculated to unite all white men in the "grand old cause."

Gen. W. R. Cox was the next speaker. He referred to having met many of his hearers before—some of whom he remembered "as braves among the bravest" in the late war.
His speech was a practical exposition of portions of the tariff, showing how the burdens bore more heavily upon the farming classes, "and all this," said he, "is the work of the Republican party. Will you longer submit to such unjust discrimination?" At the close of his remarks he paid an eloquent tribute to the ladies, many of whom were present.

A. A. Hicks was called for and briefly presented the claims of the county candidates, urging all Democrats to register and vote if they loved good government, their homes and their families.

That staunch old Democrat of Person, Dr. Merritt, was next called for, and in a few words told the people what was being done in his county for Baldy Williams and Democracy.

Ben Thorp was, of course, there, and as the crowd was about to break up he called them down, and introduced separately all the candidates, who asked for a hearty support at the hands of all Democrats and those wishing an honest administration of county affairs.

Everybody was highly pleased and felt in better spirits after the exercises ended. "Old Walnut Grove" will do the handsome thing on the 4th of November!

Reflector, was in the city today. He is a stockholder in the Oxford Land, Improvement and Manufacturing Company.

FRESH FROM THE PRESS.

Happenings in North Carolina and Elsewhere from Today's Papers.

There is a large size row going on in Philadelphia, Pa., over the attempted transfer of a negro girl to a white school by one of the school board.
The teachers in the white school refused to teach her and appealed to the board, which sustained them and sent the girl back to the school from which she was transferred. The member who made the transfer is wrought up over the matter and promises to give the board more trouble about it yet. This is a pretty fair indication that they don't want social equality in the North.

The Winston correspondent of the Raleigh State Chronicle writes: While in conversation with one of the best informed men in political circles in Rockingham county, I was told that Baldy Williams will carry the county by 800 votes. Maj. J. T. Morehead told me yesterday that he would certainly carry Guilford, and that it would not surprise him in the least if the Democratic county ticket is not elected.
A Stokes gentleman today told me that Williams would get a majority of 400, Barber of 250 and Fulton of 200 in the election in that county, and that the whole Democratic ticket will be elected.
