NOTES OF THE DAY.

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS SERVED IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

The Minor Events About the City as Gathered by the Alert Reporters of The Day.

It is fire and overcoat weather again.
The business in the stores has been brisk this week.

There was a colored runaway marriage in town last night.

Col. J. Johnson is having a new tin roof put on his residence.

The wind has swept the streets about clean of dead leaves.

Country people are pretty numerous on our pretty streets these days.

The sportsmen from Rochester, N. Y., are in the city today. They have had fine luck.

Prof. E. A. Alderman will conduct a Teachers' Institute in Oxford for a week beginning December 8.

A hook and ladder company is being organized, and will be equipped by the city commissioners at once.

Official returns show that our town-man, Hon. A. H. A. Williams, was elected to Congress by 2,467 majority.

The West Oxford Land Company has now seven agents on the road selling stock. Big sales are being made.

The bonded storage warehouse will be ready for business sometime next month. The offices are now being fitted up.

It will be necessary to call an early meeting of the directors of the Oxford Orphan Asylum to select a new superintendent.

A bunch of keys was found on the streets Tuesday night. Owner can have same by calling at this office and proving property.

The outlook is for a building boom in Oxford next year. Factories, hotel, business blocks, churches and dwellings will be erected.

There will be a recital by the pupils at the Oxford Female Seminary tomorrow night. A number of citizens will attend by special invitation.

Doc Overbey says he has ordered a full-grown bass violin for his orchestra, and that when it arrives he will give a complimentary dance.

The tobacco market is great in quantity offered for sale and prices realized by the planters. Oxford is selling her full share of the 1890 crop.

Married, yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's father in Dutchville, this county, Thos.
B. Farthing, of Durham, and Miss Roxie Suit.

So far as we have learned no steps have been taken to prepare a Thanksgiving Day dinner for the orphans.
Wouldn't it be a better idea to give the equivalent in money?

The Wilson Mirror says "a shoe-makers shop is the last resort for a sole-less man." That's so, but a sick man can get healed there and, an avaricious man can get awl.

The merchants are getting heavy stocks of Christmas goods in their stores. The advertising columns of THE DAY will help them to get the goods out of their stores.

The ladies of one of the congregations in the city say they are willing to economize in dress and wear calico dresses and sailor hats on Sunday to help build a new church edifice.

Thanksgiving Day only one week off. Make up your mind to do the handsome thing by the Oxford Orphan Asylum on that day. The little fatherless children are in need of help.

A large number of hands are working in South Oxford on the Modern Tobacco Barn Co.'s factory building, dwelling houses and the new railroad.
The Oxford Land, Improvement and Manufacturing Company keeps things moving.

Guns, rifles and pistols at J. F. Edwards'

PURELY PERSONAL.

The Doings and Whereabouts of Some People You Know.

Maj. N. A. Gregory was in Raleigh yesterday.

Mrs J. T. Strayhorn is visiting friends in Durham.

Prof. F. P. Hobgood returned last night from Shelby, N. C.

J. D. Brinkley, the photographer, came home yesterday afternoon.

Hon. A. H. A. Williams is in Durham to Rev. J. T. Harris' funeral.

E. W. Jones went to Durham today to attend Rev. J. T. Harris' funeral.

D'Orsey Jones came back yesterday afternoon from a trip to Richmond, Va.

J. W. Watson, of Toisnot, N. C., formerly of Oxford, is spending a few days here.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Knott returned yesterday afternoon from their bridal trip.

Thos. Mason, editor of the Western Tobacco Journal, of Cincinnati, O., is in Oxford today.

Mrs. T. E. Hicks and little daughter, Miss Joy, are back from a visit to relatives in Kinston, N. C.

J. T. Parkinson and Mr. Williams, of the T. C. Williams Tobacco Co., Richmond, Va., are in the city today.

Fred J. Crews was in Durham yesterday. He has accepted a position with Lyon & Jones, dry goods merchants of that place, and will go there to live next month.

W. W. Clement was in the city yesterday. He is now firing on one of the R. & D. R. R.'s yard engines in Raleigh. It will not be long before he gets an engineer's place.

J. J. Laughinghouse and R. S.
Evans, of Pitt county, N. C., and Thos. P. Braswell and I. W. Bass, of Nash county, N. C., prominent farmers, are in Oxford today selling tobacco.

More Amateur Theatricals.

Another amateur dramatic entertainment is in preparation and will be presented at the Opera House Friday night, November 28.

The programme will consist of the "Mistletoe Bow," and "Keep Your Eye on Her." The former is a beautiful pantomime played with great success in many cities. The latter is a very laughable farce.

The parts will be taken by the same young ladies and gentlemen who appeared in "A Celebrated Case."

Improved Copier.

The best copier on the market is the one advertised in this issue of THE DAY by the Oxford Book Store. The Rapid Roller Damp Leaf Copier is a thing of beauty, and is a money saver besides. Call on Mr. Jones and get him to show you how it works.

Hotel Arrivals.

THE LATEST NEWS.

SIFTED AND ARRANGED FOR THE BUSY READER.

Happenings in North Carolina and Elsewhere as Gathered from Today's Exchanges.

J. T. Moss and Miss Minnie Barnard were married in Henderson yesterday.

The Danville & New River Railroad has been formally transferred to the Richmond & Danville R. R. Co. It will be extended to Bristol, Tenn.

The Blackwell Tobacco Factory was closed yesterday morning after the death of Rev. J. T. Harris, and was reopened this afternoon when the funeral was over.

The Georgia Legislature met in joint session yesterday and formally announced the result of Tuesday's election of John B. Gordon as Senator for the full term of six years from March 4th, 1891.

A terrible tragedy has just come to light in the town of Thann, Ala. A woman residing there, fearing she and her family would starve to death, cut the throats of her five children and killed herself.

The Asheville Citizen says that Gen.
Johnstone Jones, formerly of Asheville and now living in San Diego, California, has been elected district attorney by the Democrats in his district. He received a majority of 26 and the county in which he lives gave a Republican majority of 1,000.

At Chattanooga, Tenn., A. W.
Hassell and John Robinson, two young men, stonecutters, working side by side, and long time friends, got into a dispute about a trival matter.
The lie was passed, and Hassell struck Robinson with a wooden mallet, from the effects of which he died.

The News-Observer says: Gov.
Fowle yesterday sent out handsomely engraved invitations to the President of the United States, members of his cabinet, and United States Senators to attend the Southern Inter-State Convention to be held at Asheville, December 17, as the guest of North Carolina and the city of Asheville.

Reports of the Baltimore Manufacturers' Record show the organization in the Southern States during the last month of upwards of 3,000 new enterprises, including almost every line of industries, from the small saw mills to the great steel and iron works; and it says the last quarter of the year bids fair to be the most active seen in the South.

The Wilmington Star says: At a meeting of the stockholders of the Petersburg Railroad Company, held at Richmond, Va., Warren G.
Elliott, of Wilmington, N. C., was elected president of the company, and was also elected a director, in place of Col. John B. Palmer, resigned. Mr.
Elliott is president of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company also.

The wedding of Augustus Gesner and Miss Sallie Stokes, both of Linfield, Penn., was announced to take place on Thanksgiving Day. The furniture was purchased ready to go to house-keeping. A dispute arose over politics. Gesner voted for Delamater, and Miss Stokes was so disgusted at this that she broke off the engagement.
Both parties are in litigation over the furniture.

United States Treasurer Houston, in his annual report of the operations and condition of the treasury for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890, reports a gain during the year of fifteen millions in the stock of gold, an increase of forty-three millions in silver, a contraction of twenty-six millions in bank notes, resulting in a net increase of thirty-two millions in the aggregate supply of money. The circulation of the country increased during the year from $1,387,551,835, on June 30, 1890, $1,443,083,618.

Couch & Co's.

DR. DIXON IN CHARGE

Of Orphan Asylum Until New Superintendent is Elected.

THE DAY is advised by telegraph that Dr. B. F. Dixon will take charge of the Oxford Orphan Asylum until the boards of directors meet and elect a new superintendent.

Rev. Junius T. Harris.

The Durham Sun gives this brief sketch of Rev. Mr. Harris:

Rev. Junius T. Harris, presiding elder of the Durham District, N. C.
Conference, superintendent of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, died to-day at the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. J. S. Carr. He had been in feeble health for some time and it was thought that his excessive labors at the Asylum, to the superintendency of which he had been recently elected, hastened his end.

Mr. Harris was a graduate of Trinity College, was an able minister, and a man of fine business capacity.

He had filled many prominent places in the Conference, having been stationed at Statesville, Goldsboro and other points; and previous to his taking charge of Durham District, had been four years presiding elder of the Newbern district.

Mr. Harris joined the Conference at Greensboro in 1870, and was about 47 years of age. He leaves a wife and five children, and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn their loss.
