

THE DAY.

PUBLISHED EVERY AFTERNOON (EXCEPT SUNDAY) AT HERNDON BLOCK NO. 1.

H. W. KRONHEIMER, Editor.

Subscription: 10 cents a week. Furnished to city subscribers by carriers, who will make weekly collections. 40 cents per month if paid in advance.

Our advertising rates are very low—for one week, or six insertions, about the same as charged by weekly newspapers for one time. Having a thorough city circulation, and reaching daily a number of post-offices in this and surrounding counties, it is a splendid advertising medium.

Legal advertisements, such as administrator's and executor's notices, commissioners' and trustees' sales, summonses to non-residents, etc., will be charged for at legal rates, except when they exceed a certain limit of space, in which case we reserve the right to fix our own price. All such business must be PAID FOR IN ADVANCE. The charge is very small and we cannot afford to take risks or wait the pleasure of persons to pay.

OXFORD, N. C.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1890.

The Henderson Gold Leaf celebrates its ninth birthday this week. It is one of the best newspapers in North Carolina, and we are pleased to learn that it is prospering. It has done good work for Henderson; helped the growth of the town and kept pace with that growth. We congratulate Brother Thad Manning, and wish him many happy returns of the day.

SAYS the President to his friends: "If you don't pass the force bill, I will not accept a re-nomination in 1892." Terrible threat, that! He has not the ghost of a chance of getting the nomination under any circumstances, and it is probable the force bill will not be enacted into a law besides.

POSTAL saving banks may come. The Senate has instructed Postmaster General Wanamaker to inquire into the possibility and advisability of a law for postal saving banks in connection with the postoffices throughout the country.

If the Legislature decides to establish a State Normal College for young ladies, it should be located in Oxford. Prof. Winston says this is the literary centre of North Carolina.

J. L. M. IRBY, who succeeds Senator Wade Hampton, is thirty-six years of age. He was graduated at the University of Virginia.

EDISON and Lathorp are writing a novel, and it will be about electricity. Of the light order, no doubt.

DR. KOCH's lymph is heavily taxed under the McKinley bill.

The New World Building, Cor. of Richmond Times.

The Pulitzer building was visited this evening by a number of notable personages, the occasion being the formal opening of the World's new home. Among the distinguished assemblage who accepted invitations to be present were eleven Governors, Federal, State and city officials of New York, besides many representative professional and business men, such as Chauncey M. Depew, George W. Childs, Robt. B. Roosevelt, president of the Nolland Society; Aionzo B. Cornell, Postmaster Van Cott, Joseph B. Gilder, Henry George, and many hundred more. The trained army of news gatherers and newspaper-makers on the World is 1,761. The total capacity of its presses is 312,000 eight-page papers per hour. From May 10, 1883, to November 1, 1890, 97,723,950 pounds of white paper has been used by the World. The total number of Worlds printed in this period was 569,311,810, containing 854,036,054 eight-page sheets, 1,708,072,108 four page sheets. These papers folded, as delivered, would make a pile 2,319,096 feet high equal to 439 3/4 miles. Mount Everest, the highest mountain, is only 5 1/2 miles high. It would require 3,975,593 steps of regular size to surmount this bundle of papers. Cut in strips the width of a line, this paper would be 523,143,397 miles long; more than enough to reach from the sun to the earth five times. Cut in strips of column width, it would belt the earth at the equator about 745 times, or make an orbit of 21 thicknesses of paper, and would be a cargo for four Great Easterns. The total amount of ink used from May 10, 1883, to November 1, 1890, was 1,554,341 pounds, which would paint about 134,000 tenement houses on all four sides.

Upchurch a Defaulter.

Raleigh telegram. The shortage in the accounts of C. D. Upchurch, late clerk of the superior court of the county, is still the topic of conversation here. The guardian trust funds books has been found, and shows a deficit of about $16,000. It was thought yesterday that the statute did not provide for a criminal prosecution but prominent lawyers now say that it does. The personal property of Upchurch has been advertised for sale by the attorney for Col. Shaffer, the chief bondsman, who has a mortgage also on his residence. Suit will be entered at once on the official bond. It is not thought that Upchurch will voluntarily return here.

Alliance and Newspapers.

Associated Press. An important action, taken during the closing moments of the late convention, was the adoption of a resolution with reference to the support of all Alliances. The policy of the Alliance will be to withhold all support from newspapers which do not conduct an Alliance department or at least publish Alliance news regularly. This arrangement does not compel the support of Alliance measures or an advocacy of Alliance demands on the part of these newspapers in their editorial columns, but does compel a certain degree of friendliness on their part and amounts to an absolute boycott of all newspapers which do not come up to the terms of the resolution.
