TOWN AND COUNTY.

Democratic Conservative Meeting.

The Democratic Conservative voters of Granville are requested to meet, in mass convention, at Oxford, Saturday April 29th, to appoint delegates to the State and Congressional district Convention, to be held in Raleigh the 13th and 14th days of June next, and to transact such business as may be deemed necessary.

By order of Co. Ex. Committee.

HURRYGRAPHS.

Pineapple Cheese at the Postoffice.

We notice a great many horse drovers in town this week

We will venture to say that Oxford is now one the handsomest towns in the State.

Work has begun on Mr. J. T. Hunt's new stable. From the amount of lumber we should judge it will be a very good size one.

Canned Fruits a specialty at the new Grocery Store, opposite the Hotel.

[10-1w]

We would call the attention of our readers to the large advertisement of the new confectionery store just opened by Mr. Chas. Taylor at the post office, in to days issue. He has everything usually found in a first class confectionery store. Give him a call before purchasing elsewhere.

We would like to have a rainbow similar to the one we saw represented on the stage Tuesday night, to go arm in arm with us through life. Wouldn't we though? "You bet!"

ORDERLY.—This has been quite an orderly court so far. Very few drunken men on the streets. Glad to see such an improvement.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Katie Gilliam, a colored woman living near the negro school house, was found dead in her bed yesterday morning. Her husband says she was perfectly well when she retired.

LECTURE.—On account of the bad weather last Sunday night the Rev. R. H. Griffith did not deliver his lecture on "Baptists and Religious Liberty." He will lecture to-night in the Baptist Church.

PERSONALS.—Mr. T. H. Briggs and lady, (and the baby) of Raleigh, are on a visit to our village.

We are pleased to see in our midst the Rev. J. R. Griffith and lady, of Warrenton. We trust they will have a pleasant sojourn.

NOT ALL KILLED.—We are glad to know that all the fruit in this vicinity is not killed. We noticed several trees of apples, cherries, and pears that were not damaged by the cold. And of course there will be plenty of strawberries and blackberries.

MYSTERIOUS.—The Senior was invited out not long ago to spend the night with a friend. Before retiring he hung his hose, as was his custom, on the rung of a chair, next morning he sought said chair, with the intention of putting them on but alas for vain hope, they were not there, and could not be found, consequently he had to put on his shoes without them. The Senior has a habit of talking to himself and was heard to say, "other rats in that house must be very large, or my friend must have been scarce of that particular article of clothing. Strange an unaccountable thing happens in times. Would it there is any such thing as a ghost."

WHAT IS THE MATTER?—We receive our exchanges very irregular. What is the cause, gentlemen? For the last two or three evenings we have failed to get the Danville papers—and they are Newspapers we desire Expressly to see.

ROBT. BLOW.—We received a letter last evening from our old friend, Robt. Blow Esq., late editor of the Oxford Leader. No doubt his many friends in this vicinity will be pleased to know that he is alive and doing well. He is in San Francisco, Cal., connected with Blow Brothers, Commission Stock Brokers. Glad to hear you are doing so well, old fellow, and may you continue to prosper, is the hearty wish of this deponent.

ENTERTAINMENT.—According to announcement the concert came off at the Orphan Asylum, Tuesday night. It was entitled the "Festival of the Seasons," and they were indeed, beautifully represented, and reflect great credit upon those who took part in it. Our pen, as well our brain refuses to come to our aid, therefore we cannot describe the beauty and grandure the stage presented, filled as it was, with nymph like forms of youth and beauty, suffice it to say the scene was enchanting. The costumes were tasty, and elegantly gotten up.

Our space is too small to allow us to comment upon all those who took part in this bewitching entertainment deserving it, but will allude to one or two who, owing to their extreme youth, attracted our attention. The two little Misses F. and A. Powell, who represented Dew Drops, were lovely emblems, and reminded us forcibly, in their innocence and beauty, of the dazzling dew drop resting upon the Lilly, the loveliest of flowers, in the early morn. We will also add, that those who represented Love, Peace, Hope and Joy, played their parts admirably. The music, as well as we can judge, was excellent. We hope this will not be the last entertainment of the kind, but that we will ere long, have another.
