HURRYGRAPHS.

We regret to learn that the good lady of the editor of the Durham Herald is very ill.

An excursion train will leave Henderson Sunday morning for Raleigh. Round trip ticket 80 cents.

We were surprised to find the "Public Spirit" in our box last evening. It was a newspaper, though.

We learn that the Poor House has had less visitors since the CLARION opened fire upon it. Shall we continue to shell it, Mr. Cole.

A large lot of N. C. Bacon, Hams and Sides just received at [201w] WILLIAMS & BRYAN'S.

We regret to learn of the accident that befell little Bennie Hays, son of Jno. W. Hays Esq. By some means or other he cut two of his toes very badly with a cutting knife.

The Henderson Tribune for this week is excellent, and we notice a number of squibs taken from the CLARION are an improvement to its local columns. Bro. Harrell, give us credit, please.

An Italian vender of images was in town yesterday. His images were very pretty. He had a very good bust of Dickens. If he had dropped his basket he would have had a Dickens' of a "bust," sure enough.

One of the county Commissioners, speaking of the CLARION, yesterday evening called it Carrion. Well if it is, buzzard though he be he will not have a chance to feed upon it. The same Commissioner remarked a few days ago that he was a regular "blood-sucker." We were aware he was something after that order, from the way he has sucked in the people of Granville County.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

BATTLEBORO, N. C., May 3, 1876.

In a recent issue of the Roanoke "News" "Hooping Windy Jingle"—for I know not what else H. W. J., could possibly stand for under the circumstances, especially when he complains so mournfully of epizootic among his race at Wilson—takes upon himself the responsibility of venturing to correct me about the number of inhabitants of Battleboro. He has discovered a huge mountain in Eastern Carolina. Let Pro. Kerr come down and analyze its minerals and measure its height, &c. Did you ever study geography, Mr. H. W. J.? Did you ever go beyond the environs of the city of Wilson? If not, take Evans' Railroad Guide, which may be a great comfort to you, and you will find the information in reference to the population here. Don't fail, dear friend, to take my advice, for wisdom is a good thing; yea, better than riches.

Your humble correspondent will have the pleasure of attending the marriage of Miss Addie Braswell, daughter of M. A. Braswell of Edgcombe, to-morrow, to Mr. J. G. Hyman, of Whitaker Depot. Mr. Silas Hancock was to-day married to Miss Eddie Gardner, daughter of E. T. Gardner Esq., of Edgcombe. When it rains it pours.

The following officers were elected here last Monday: W. R. Hines, Mayor, Joseph Hobgood, T. D. Wright, J. H. Herbert and E. C. Bullock, commissioners. A. J. A.

Read Crawford's advertisement, and after you read go see him. He sells the best and purest drugs at the lowest prices, also the best candies, soda water, and in a word everything to be found in a first class drug store. Don't fail to go and see him before purchasing elsewhere, for he keeps the cheapest and best goods in town.

MALT-HOP-TONIQUE—For Dyspepsia. Recommended as an improvement on Ale and Porter for general debility.

21 1w.

The funeral of Mrs. Robt. Royster will take place this afternoon in the Baptist church at 4 o'clock.

The ladies were out yesterday in numbers. Some had on new calicoes. It must have been 'dress' parade with them.

Don't forget to attend the meeting to night to organize a minstrel troupe.
