LOCAL & STATE SQUIBS.

The Granville Democrat is dead.

The voice of the whip-poor-will is heard at eventide.

Strawberries sell for 15 cents a quart in this market.

The youngsters delight in swimming these warm evenings.

The N. C. Press Association will meet in Raleigh the 14th of June.

Hasn't "Old Brevities" slept about long enough? Y-o-u B-e-n-n-e-t-t.

What paper has the largest circulation in this State? Why the neuse paper, of course.

Severe thunder storm last Sunday night. A number of our lads and lassies were caught in the rain.

"The buds are swelling," and the "swells" are budding. The latter should leave first, but they do not.

N. C. cut Herrings at 15 cts per dozen at WILLIAMS & BRYAN'S.

One of the saddest things to contemplate just now, is the large number of persons in this county, who have no relatives in Philadelphia.

The Episcopal Convention at Tarboro closed its 60th annual session yesterday. It was largely attended. The Rev. M. H. Vaughn represented this Parish.

On the excursion from Newbern to Morehead City Fulgum bought a young deer. Donan said he wanted it but remembering his "dear" in Virginia, he thought the i-dear too absurd.

If the corporation laws docs not allow fiddling and dancing (as the authorities, in their Right Royal Highness are pleased to term it) why is it that so much of it is allowed at Banky Gee's bar room? We again say Fair Play.

Intemperance is waging a mighty war upon the youth of the county.—Exchange.

It is just the opposite in this section. It is the County Commissioners that are waging war, and not impurance.

If the young men would not trim their finger nails in church they would not be made to feel bad by dropping their knives. Oh, but didn't that young man blush when he dropped his knife Sunday night? Slightly.

Just received a pretty line of Ladies and Misses trimmed and untrimmed Hats. GRANDY & BRO.

Read the advertisement of A. Landis, Jr. He has a first class stock of goods on hand, and will sell them cheap. Also a handsome lot of ladies hats and bonnets, latest styles. Give him a call.

On the train from Goldsboro to Weldon last Friday we saw a white man and a negro hand-cuffed together. They were on their way to Albany, as a reward for circulating counterfeit five cent pieces in the vicinity of Wilmington. The way of the transgressor is hard.

At the banquet last Wednesday night the following sentiments were offered by Hon. Wm. J. Clark:

The Editors of North Carolina. A virtuous and patriotic Public look, to an intelligent and faithful Press for a light to illumine the path of duty and progress; may it ever prove a Torch-light to discover the right, a trusty Courier, a faithful Sentinel observing the Times with Eagle eyes, adorning the Era in which we live Heralding the News with CLARION notes to the North State, defending the Constitution, and leaving not even an intellectual Nut Shell unfilled with useful information.
