THE TEXAS QUESTION.	1	HE	TEX.	AS	QU	EST	ION.
---------------------	---	----	------	----	----	-----	------

A Washington correspondent of the N. Y Courier writes : "The rumors that have reached us through the New Orleans press, that a treaty providing for the agnexation had received the assent of the Senate, we all know not to be true, but is sufficiently probable to be credible that the draft of a treaty to that effect has been agreed upon by our Government, and dispatched to that of Texas for its acceptance, and it is not improbable that it may be agreed to and submitted to the Senate, at this session, for ratification.

TEXAS .- The New York Herald has been favored with the following extract of a letter dated

HOUSTON, Feb. 24, 1844. "Gen. Henderson is now on his way to Washington city, as Minister Extraordinary Of this to arrange matters with your Government for annexation, which I think will be acco:nplish- I Texas is nearly unanimous for annexa-It only remains for your Government tion. to be firm and decided, to produce one of the happiest results from which the U. States eve derived a benefit."

ANNEXATION OF TEXAS.

"Oliver Oldschool," in his letter of the 13th inst. to the Philadelphia U. S. Gazette, says: I have, for some days past, been in possession of information in regard to contemplated movements, and movements already made, o the administration, having for their object the apnexation of Texas to the U. States, by trea Judge Upshur was engaged in, and bent ty upon accomplishing such a project before his death, and I am informed, by good authority, expected soon to lay a treaty of annexation before the Senate. Mr. Gilmer, I have reason to believe, was appointed Secretary of the

AMOS KENDALL AND THE LOCO FOCO MEMBERS OF CONGRESS. 33 50

It has been stated in debate, and, as far as we have seen, there has been no contradic tion to the statement, that the Loco Foco members of the present Congress, have circulated through the Post-Office 50,000 copies of an infamous pamphlet written by Amos Lugs, generally, there is no change-1,50 to $2,50 the Kendall, and designed to injure the personal current rates-but some hhds. go considerable higher. character of HENRY CLAY. Our readers are well aware of the obligations under which of operations; both buyers and sellers waiting the next that notorious individual lies to Mr. Clay. They know that when he was poor, and ill, and homeless, he was taken into the house 50 40 of Mr. Clay, cherished like a mear relative, 1 75 and finally placed in the road to prosperity. 12 25 But for his assistance he would literally 2 95 have starved to death-perished like "a 114 37 cadger pony" "by some field dike." For this act of generosity, with the true instinct of the serpent, he has never forgiven his COTTON-56 73 benefactor. For sixteen long years he has TOBACCO .- Receipts continue light and quality 50 00 been pursuing him with all the inveteracy of malice-all the ingenuity of undying hatred -all the rancor of a spirit, which seems to be as poisonous as exhalations from the pit of Tophet. His vengeance is yet unsatiated -his venom like that of his kindred reptile, the rattlesnake, acquires virulence with age, and is stronger the longer it is kept. In all our lives, we have never heard or read of any character who ought to be so utterly detestable in the sight of all good men as Amos Kendall.

"FREE TRADE" AS ENGLAND UNDER-STANDS IT.

The advocates and admirers of British Free Trade have a good deal to say about the reductions made by the British Parliament in their late Tariff on the rates of duty imposed upon American productions. And they call heart ! He is hand and glove with Colonel upon the American Congress to follow the liberal example of the British Parliament, and admit the fabrics of the English manufacturers at the lowest revenue duty. To illustrate the extreme liberality of British legislation on This subject, we will again refer to the article of tobacco. Of this article the United States Clay. When the Jackson power was at its exported to Great Britain in 1840 the value of $3,380,809. Upon this amount Great Britain collected duties rising in the aggregate to $22,537,405! Thus, from the single article of tobacco she derived a revenue of twentytwo and a half millions of dollars-more than the whole amount of revenue derived by the United States in the same year from duties on imports of every kind and from all countries. This is "reciprocity," as England un-

That there should be men-honorable men-men at least entitled to write themselves honorable from having a seat in Con gress-willing to lend themselves to the assistance of such diabolical ingratitude, is a blot uson the Nation. It speaks a rottenness, in the National councils, that calls loudly on the people for correction.

From certain hints in various exchange papers, we understand that the prime object of this pamphlet, at this time, is to effect Locofoco victory in Connecticut, and with the view of accomplishing this hopeless undertaking, Mr. Clay is denounced as duellist, &c. This some man Kendall has written a life of Gen Jackson, in which he is extelled as only "a little lower than the angels ;" Jackson who was in early life a notorious bully, and on one occasion shot a disarmed adversary, in a duely through the Benton, who has likewise slain his man and is understood to approve all the acts of General Dromgoole, to whom a similar mis fortune has happened ! We should like to know if any, or all, of these facts are stated in the pamphlet. The slanders of such a wretch as Amos Kendall cannot hurt Henry height, they had their influence for awhile ; but thanks to the sure, though sometimes slow, march of truth, they have long since become perfectly harmless. They will lose their force, if they have any left, in consequence of the quarter from which they come. Men will beware of venom when they see the viper. - Richmond Whig.
