A Pointer for the Farmer.

A point that should be thoroughly established in the mind of every tobacco farmer is that the policy of Mr. Kitchin to remove the duty on tobacco and make it free would be ruinous to the tobacco growers. The farmers of this country are now protected by a duty of 89 per cent. Mr. Kitchin in nearly every speech he makes assails Mr. Simmons on the stand he takes in maintaining this duty, so essential to every farmer who raises tobacco. The good substantial prices the farmer receives for his tobacco is due to the protection which Senator Simmons would safe-guard their interests. Remove the duty, as Mr. Kitchin claims should be done, then what? All the tobacco in the world would come in free. The farmers would feel its demoralizing influence in less than six weeks. This is one point the tobacco growers should remember when they go to the polls on the fifth of November and vote for Simmons.

Simmonite Ask Questions.

Mr. R. A. Harris, chairman Durham County Simmons Campaign Committee, ask the Kitchinites the following questions:

1. In 1911 did Governor Kitchin's brother, Congressman Claude Kitchin, speak in favor of the Reciprocity act approved by Congress July 26, 1911? Did Congressman Yates Webb from North Carolina state the truth in his speech in the House of Representatives, April 20, 1911, when he said the following: "Around him (Kitchin) stands the progenitor of the Payne-Aldrich bill, Mr. Payne. Our friend, Nelson W. Aldrich, the horrible Mr. Aldrich, is for the treaty and so is Mr. Kitchin. (Laughter.) The steel trust is for the treaty and so is Mr. Kitchin. Andrew Carnegie is for the treaty. The beef trust is for the treaty and so is Mr. Kitchin. The cement trust wants it. Judge Crumpecker who has always favored cutting down southern representation in Congress on account of the negro vote, is for the treaty and Mr. Kitchin is going to vote with him. The Agricultural Implement trust is for the treaty and so is Mr. Kitchin. Mr. J. P. Morgan supports the treaty. In that bouquet of great financial wizards, powerful, heartless trusts and high protection republicans, my friend Kitchin at present finds himself safely enconced as the central flower."

2. Does not the Reciprocity act, for which Brother Claude Kitchin voted, levy a tariff tax of 1-4 cents per pound on all kinds of fresh meats and all kinds of salt meats and all kinds of lard, when traded in back and forth across the line between Canada and United States?

3. Does not the Reciprocity act, for which Kitchin voted, place cattle, hogs, sheep and lambs on the free list, thereby enabling Armour and Swift to buy hogs, cattle and sheep in open market and enjoy the benefit of 1-4 cents per pound tariff on all meats and lard sold to Granville people?

The Kitchin Catechism.

Q. What is a Democrat?
 A. One who supports William W. Kitchin for office.
 Q. What is a Republican?
 A. Any candidate who runs against William W. Kitchin or whom William W. see fit to oppose.
 Q. Can you name any?
 A. Yes, Craig and Simmons.
 Q. Can you name two real Democrats?
 A. Yes, William W. Kitchin and Claud Kitchin.

Q. Are there others?
 A. None.
 Q. Is there a reason?
 A. Yes; both are politicians and are after the scalp of any one who stands in the way of their personal ambitions, whether he be Democrat, Republican or otherwise.
 Q. Can you name a prominent Republican Senator?
 A. Yes, Simmons.
 Q. Can you name others?
 Yes, but what's the use? He is the only one who has the job I want.
 Q. Has Simmons ever done anything but vote with Aldrich?
 A. No.
 Q. Has W. W. Kitchin ever accomplished anything during his long career in public office?
 A. (Lack of space forbids an answer) "There is a reason." He done nothing.
 Q. Ought any Democrat vote for Simmons?
 A. Under ordinary circumstances, yes, but never when William Kitchin is running.
 Q. Who is the original "Trust Buster"?
 A. William Walton Kitchin.
 Q. Name a trust that he busted?
 A. You make us laugh. Lack of space forbids. (There is a reason.)
 Q. Who has made the best Governor of North Carolina in the past hundred years?
 A. W. W. Kitchin.
 Q. Who will be the next Senator from North Carolina?
 A. No answer. (There is a reason.)

Electric Light Protects Better Than Firearms

A REVOLVER in the hands of a novice gives a very little protection at any time—it is particularly ineffective against a burglar at night. Any attempt to use it except for giving an alarm is dangerous, because it exposes you to the return fire of the intruder who may be a "good shot" and "quicker on the draw."

Electric light is safer—you can turn it on without exposing yourself. By merely touching a switch conveniently located near the head of your bed you can instantly flood the house with brilliant light. No burglar ever lived who would dare to remain either in the house or its vicinity exposed to the searching rays of electric light.

Let us wire your house for electric convenience and electric protection. We will do the work at moderate cost payable on easy terms.
