MR. JAMES Y. PARIS DEAD.

One of Our Most Respected Citizens Passed Away Suddenly.

Our entire community was shocked last Saturday morning to learn that Mr. James Y. Paris, one of our most respected citizens, died suddenly at 10 o'clock the night before of heart failure. The deceased had been identified with the mercantile business of Oxford for the past twenty years, and for a numher of years kept the books for Landis k Easton, which position he held at he time of his death Not feeling well he remained at home a day or two previous to his death, but he was up and waiking about the lawn only a iew hours before the summons came.

Mr. Paris was a quiet, easy going man, ever ready to extend a helping hand, and by his warm and courteous salutations made and held friends in every walk in life. He was a charter member of the Royal Arcanum Council, and several times represented his Council in the annual gathering of the State Council. As a mark of esteem for their departed brother the members of the Royal Arcanum Council took charge of the body and escorted ford and in the county. it to the grave where it was tenderly laid to rest with impressive ceremonies, the church choir singing "Jesus Lover of Soul," as the remains were being consigned to its long repose.

Mr. Paris was a member of the board of stewards of the Methodist church at the time of his death, and a large congregation was present at the church at 11 o'clock last Sunday morning to pay loving tribute to his memory. Dr vice, and spoke of the deceased in the the pockets of our farmers. most endearing terms, and said that he had always found him ready and I can Read my Title Clear," and as distinguished jurist, for Snator. the casket was born from the church the song, "Blessed Assurance," so much loved by the deceased, was sang very tenderly.

The order of the procession to Eumwood Cemetery was as follows: Royal Arcanum Council

PICTURE ON A POST-CARD.

Governor Kitchin Relies on Unsavory Campaign Trick for Gains.

With the election only one week off Governor Kitchin resorts to a very unfair and distasteful trick, hoping that his deception will carry him through, but it is fortunate that his unjust methods were discovered in time to saddle them on him good and strong.

Governor Kitchin's latest trick is told in a very few words. He procured some days ago a large number of post cards, on which is printed the pictures of Governor Wilson and Wm. Jennings Bryan-of course it would not do to leave Governor Kitchin's picture off, and to grace the beauty of the scene the Governor walks up and takes his seat between the two great leaders. The card is printed in black-a rather cheap looking affair, to be sure, and reminds one of the trick the photographers of Washington practice on the egotistical visitors who would appear great among men, by photographing him seated in the "blue room" with the President.

A casual glance at the card reveals the fact that our own dear William is in very nice company, but the pictured is somewhat marred by the sardonic smile of Mr. Bryan and the frown of the school teacher, Mr. Wilson, who cannot approve of William's actions. William became so audacious that it was necessary for Mr. Wilson to reprove him in public. This Mr. Wilson did in a letter, which we print at the head of the second column on the editorial page of this paper, signed, "J. T. Tumulty, Secretary of the Governor." and bears the big red seal of the great

There is another thing that Governor Kitchin is guilty of in these latter days Mr. R. L Brown returned Friday of grace which does not meet the approval of good men, and he abided his time to spring it on an innocent people down in Moore county last week. Heretofore the Governor always prefaced his remarks with the statement that his opponent, Senator Simmons, was a yery fine man, and that it must be distinctly understood that he knew nothing that detracted from his moral character. Mr. Kitchin, it is alleged, insinuated from the stump last week that he had something "up his sleeve" against Senator Simmons' moral fiber. He has been requested to enlighten the people now as to what it is, and Mr. Cam Ayerett, of Fishing Creek not wait till the "we small" hours of the township, was an Oxford visitor campaign to plung the dagger. It is indeed a pleasure to know that a great God watches over the destiny of his Miss Mamie Royster, of Henderson people even in the dark days of a
