Coiffures Adapted to the Small Hat.

But the very simple coiffures which fringe appears across the forehead. have prevailed during the past year In all the new styles the hair is have become too tiresomely popular not much waved, and in all of them to suit women of fashion, or women the ears are covered. In the mawho strive for individuality in dress. | jority of coiffures three very short, those divinities that shape our ends | neck or peeping out from the knot, or (so far as the arrangement of hair is displaying themselves resting on the elaborate hair dressing than the pass- mind with extraordinary force. ing mode displayed.

dressed high-on top of the head-in the women they know. another, it is coiled low on the crown, I

FE HE small hat is launched upon one and in a third the regulation Psyche more season of popularity and hair | knot is worn. In several of the new dressing must be adapted to it. styles a higher and slightly curled ful styles accommodate the new hat | call them "cunning" and perhaps they your mother, but-" shapes, and at the same time answer are; for these little curls appear to the demand for more dignified and rivet the attention of the masculine the girl, pointing to the surf.

By the way, few people realize how the sun-lit water. There are three different styles to much men admire pretty styles of be featured. One shows the hair hair dressing and good grooming in He was alive with interest, with pur-

JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

WHEN HE MADE GOOD

By JOHNSON W. BITTMAN.

"When are you ever going to make good? When are you ever going to do anything? When are you ever going to justify your birth and breeding and ancestry?"

And the girl stamped her pretty foot hard on the yielding turf.

The big fellow in the gray outing flannels settled back in the hammock and turned his patrician face to the questioner.

"By jove! you're getting prettier every day, coz," he said.

"I don't want your compliments or your praise, Herbert Rollins," she replied with blazing eyes. "I want you to answer my question."

The man drew "the makings" from his pocket and began slowly to roll a

"What's the use?" he asked. "Use!" she exclaimed. "What are you living for?"

The girl looked at him scornfully. "Now, look here, Nell," he said, throwing the cigaret away. "I have an ample fortune, thanks to the wisdom and industry of my respected grandfather. I don't spend my incomecan't spend it. Why in the name of goodness should I bother my mind with money-making? Why should I harry myself with all the work necessary to a successful professional career when I do not need the emoluments which would crown it in the very doubtful event that I succeededespecially when there are so many But the machinery of government on good fellows who were less successful in their choice of a grandfather and who are compelled to do these things in order to live? There is no incentive."

"Incentive!" exclaimed the girl very pale. "I'll tell you one thing, Herbert. It has been an understood thing in the family that I am to marry you. I want numbers demand it. Do not forget to tell you now that I never will marry that your help is needed. such a useless butterfly as you in the world. I'll marry a coal heaver first." Rollins looked steadily at her for a They want something new. Therefore, | tiny curls nestle somewhere, either at minute. Then he arose and took her unwilling hand.

"Perhaps it is best so, Nell," he said concerned) have developed some love- hair just above the ear. They are just gravely. "I don't know but we would of water ten or twenty minutes. Once about the prettiest little finishing worry each other intolerably. It will each week they should also be watered These truly remarkable and beauti- touches that can be imagined. Women raise Cain with Uncle Charley and with a pot when in position. Once

"What is that, Bert?" interrupted He turned lazily and looked over Instantly his entire attitude changed.

pose, with power. "Great heavens, it is Julia!" he exclaimed. "And she is out far over her depth and cannot swim a stroke. I have been teaching her to float and she tries to touch bottom she'll get frightened and drown." While he was talking he had peeled to his trousers and undershirt and pulled off his shoes, and before Miss Nellie fairly knew what was going on he had plunged into the surf and was making great strokes toward the tiny she's let the current carry her out. If head bobbing in the water. As the girl on the shore watched him do these things with the rapidity of thought and noted his splendid selfpoise and perfect proportions a grateful sense of satisfaction pervaded her.

"All he needs is the spur of necessity," she said. "And I'll see that he gets that. My, but he's a splendid fel-

Of a sudden the girl floating far out gave a piercing shriek and the head disappeared. Rollins had nearly reached her. He shouted to her to float for a minute and he would reach her. But the panic was in her, and she heard nothing. As she reappeared on the surface she shrieked again. Out from the cottages and from the hotel people rushed to the beach. Nellie held her breath in horror. Rollins was fairly leaping through the water.

"I never saw swimming like that," said one of the men who was helping shove the emergency boat into the water. "I think he'll get her." Nellie looked at the man and smiled gratefully. All about the people were commenting on the force and power of the man who seemed to be fairly shooting through the water. There is a heart-breaking minute or two and then the strong swimmer comes up and clutched tightly by the hair he has the form of the insensible It was a long and a hard swim, with the heavy burden, before the men with the boat picked them up. And when they reached the shore a dainty girl stood clear down to the edge where the swell of the water washed her "Bert, you are splendid. I take it all back. You are the hero of my dreams.'

ankles. As Rollins stepped from the boat unsteady from his great exertion,

Have you seen the huge summer He regarded her inscrutably for a

"Nell," he said, brokenly, "don't you see? It's hard to explain-but-butyears. You like me now, for a minute because I happen to have been able to do a little something spectacular.

He paused a minute and looked a women who like novelties in any form | little sheepish. Then he threw back "Anyway," he said, "I am going to marry Julia Manning next month. I-

you--it--oh, thunder, good-bye." And he fled. (Copyright, by Daily Story Pub. Co.) Get Ready for the Granville County Fair This Fall GOING HER ONE BETTER

Mrs. Dago-My husband is da granda moosician. He carry da people away with his moosic.

Mrs. Dunn-Shure, awn that is not so much. Me husband carries th people's music away.

Mrs. Dago-Carries da people's moo-

Mrs. Dunn-Yis; he is a piano mover, bedad.

Pioneers for Civic Problems.

All civic problems stand sorely in need of pioneers to point the way and create public sentiment in the education of the masses. The great and important task of bringing the country into the city, the unmasking of what nature we have and preserving it in the fullest and highest must necessarily be done by the municipal officials. all such matters moves slowly and a strong and sound public opinion must be formed and expressed in order to push the work forward and influence officials to tackle these problems courageously and with a determination to accomplish their proper solution. This they will do when assured great Care of Hanging Baskets.

All hanging baskets, no matter how large, should be taken down at least once each week and soaked in a tub each month every basket should be given some plant food; liquid manure is excellent for the purpose, though soluble fertilizers may either be mixed into the soil in the dry state or dissolved in the water in which the plants get their weekly persion. Most baskets suffer from lack of thorough watering, but if above directions are followed, satisfactory results will certainly follow.

Subscribe to the Public Ledger.

Monday SEPT.

SHIRTWAISTS FOR THE FALL NET WAIST ALWAYS BECOMING

With Linen, Duck and Gingham Most Popular.

The chic shirtwaist this fall will be fashionable shirtwaist.

gum water, two teaspoonfuls of the stock solution to a cupful of water. Plain shirtwaists will be worn this net, which is trimmed across its top fall-linen, duck and gingham being edges with a smaller lace pleating.

popular. Extremely simple cuts are the rules in shirtwaists. Very close to the man's shirt is the fall waist for women, elongated shoulder line and short yoke being Cotton crepe, voile, satin and brocaded waists must all have the short yoke.

For a plain tailored waist of linen, madras, pongee or wash silk the yoke may be omitted and the plaits at both front and back run to the shoul-

Stitching will be made prominent on tailored waists.

"Round stitch" will be used on many of the tailored waists.

FOR THE AFTERNOON.

Model of creme charmeuse and tulle, trimmed with edgings of pink ribbon-Lace fichua.

Washable Materials Will Be Favored, Fashlon Had Good Reason for Its Popularity, Which Is Almost Certina to Continue.

There is no doubt that the transparent waist of cotton net was the "No starch" is the verdict for the leader in the race for popularity. The model in it which sold by the hun-Many waists of chiffon will be dreds and is still in fashion has a long shoulder seam, slightly gathered, Chiffon waists may be washed if and a loose sleeve that hangs above stiffened with a somewhat stronger the waist with two box pleatings of lace. The long V shaped neck is outlined, and there is a lining, also of

> On the majority of these waists there is ribbon attached to the lining. It is done more or less well. Sometimes there are three bands around the figure ending in stiff bows in front; again the top of the lining is gathered into a two-inch ribbon band which is finished with a large flat bow in front. The whole blouse is loose and appears to fall from the figure, and the corset cover that goes with it is of chiffon in flesh color trimmed with tiny button roses. Now if the blouse is still selling wherever you are, buy it. It is unusually becoming. If you don't like the ribbon, take it out, or adjust it to suit your taste.-Washington Star.

Dainty Flowered Hatpins.

The methods of making flowered ornamental hatpins is easy. An ordinary hatpin, with a round or pearshaped top, such as is bought for a penny or two, is utilized. The head of the pin is first swathed in wadding, and then covered with colored silk or satin, on which should be embroidered colored beads to represent the center of the flower. Pieces of ribbon are next taken to form the petals. Such flowers as poppies, daisies and roses are particularly becoming. The result when finished is eminently satisfactory, and often adds a pleasing dash of color to the general effect.

Flower Muff.

muffs made of artificial flowers? moment. Then, leaving the uncon-They are exceedingly decorative, and scious form of the girl in the boat to are composed of many different kinds | be cared for by the willing bystanders, of blossoms, such as roses, Parma vio- he took Nellie's hand and led her back lets and orchids. Some of them are to the trees. finished with long hanging branches of the same flowers. Of course, they have come from Paris, where they you released me a few moments ago. were fashioned for evening fetes and I ain't your kind. I've known it for gay dinners.

Novel Hosiery.

Wonderful ingenuity is exercised in But that is not the basis of love." the matter of smart hosiery, and for there is plenty to choose from. Curi- his square shoulders and faced her. ous effects are contrived with stripes in lace or silk stockings, varying from about an eighth of an inch to a fine hairline. These are so cunningly wrought that they give elegance to the ungainly ankle.

BANNER WAREHOUSE.

Place to Sell Your Tobacco. Highest Prices Guaranteed.

We have built a large addition to our Warehouse and doubled our floor space, along with entirely new and up-to-date stalls and many other things for your accomodation comfort and convenience. But above all these things we are glad to inform our farmer friends that

You want every dollar you can get for your years work don't you. Then sell every load of your tobacco with the man who knows how. Your friend, W. Z. Mitchell