NOW HER FRIENDS HARDLY KNOW HER

But This Does Not Bother Mrs. Burton, Under the Circumstances.

Houston, Texas.—In an interesting letter from this city, Mrs. S. C. Burton writes as follows: "I think it is my duty to tell you what your medicine, Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done for me.

I was down sick with womanly trouble, and my mother advised several different treatments, but they didn't seem to do me any good. I lingered along for three or four months, and for three weeks, I was in bed, so sick I couldn't bear for any one to walk across the floor.

My husband advised me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic. I have taken two bottles of Cardui, am feeling fine, gained 15 pounds and do all of my housework. Friends hardly know me, I am so well."

If you suffer from any of the ailments so common to women, don't allow the trouble to become chronic. Begin taking Cardui to-day. It is purely vegetable, its ingredients acting in a gentle, natural way on the weakened womanly constitution. You run no risk in trying Cardui. It has been helping weak women back to health and strength for more than 50 years. It will help you. At all dealers.

DANGEROUS CATARRH STOPPED BY HYOMEI

Just as long as you have catarrh, your head will be stopped up, your nose will itch, your breath will be foul, you will hawk and snuffle, you will have droppings in the throat and that choked up feeling in the morning. The germs of catarrh have you in their power; they are continually irritating the membrane of your nose and throat.

You must kill these loathsome germs or their desperate assaults will in time leave you a physical wreck.

There is one remedy sold by Hall's Drug Store that is guaranteed to kill the germs and stop catarrh, or money back. It is Hyomei—you breathe it. The complete outfit costs $1.00. There is none just as good or that gives such quick, sure and effective relief.

DOLLARS saved to-day means a larger bank account at the end of the year so write or come to Samuel Davis the hardware man, the man who pays your freight, the man who buys in car lots and the man who has always given satisfaction to his customers. SAMUEL DAVIS, Clarksville, Va.

Do Not Wait to Come

Often it is said to us: "I have wanted your paper for some time and intended to take it, but have not been to Oxford to subscribe for it until now." Another will say: "I was at Oxford a few months ago and thought I would take the Public Ledger but forgot it." There is no need for anybody to wait about subscribing. Why should anybody wait when the mails are running daily? Just write a letter giving your name and your post office and the number of the route on which you get your mail and enclose a check or money order. This is all you have to do. We send you a receipt and start the paper at once.

At Mother's Knee

Said President John Quincy Adams on a public occasion: "There are two prayers that I love to say—the first is the Lord's Prayer, and because the Lord taught it; and the other is what seems to be a child's prayer, 'Now I lay me down to sleep; and I love to say that because it suits me. I have been repeating it every night for many years past, and I say it yet, and I expect to say it my last night on earth if I am conscious.'"

Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep; If I should die before I wake, I pray the Lord my soul to take. All this I ask for Jesus sake. Amen.

How familiar these words! We all learned them in childhood. They were taught us at mother's knee. With closed eyes, upturned face and folded hands we repeated them. They formed our first prayer. O, the simplicity of that child-like trust! We prayed, we slept. God's good angels stood guard throughout the night and womanhood followed the precious dust to its last resting place, but the spirit returned to God who gave it. But all through the years there has remained the memory of the prayer mother taught: "Now I lay me down to sleep."

A year ago a well-known Methodist pastor of Vermont was taken to the hospital at Troy, N. Y., for a critical surgical operation. Before the anaesthetic was administered, the Christian surgeon said to him: Dr. W—, have you anything to say before we begin? Taken by surprise, the clergyman, knowing not what to answer, folded his hands, closed his eyes and repeated the prayer learned at his mother's knee: "Now I lay me down to sleep." There followed the anxious hours of "sleep," but, as in childhood days, God, the keeper was faithful, and with the morning's dawn there was light and hope. May we, with John Quincy Adams, not be ashamed of the "mother's prayer," but use it even our last night on the earth.

Statement to the Public

It is impossible in the management of any business as complicated as a fair not to have errors and mistakes creep in. We ask that those who have been subjected to such, or have what they consider a just grievance against the officer, let it be known, and if possible we will make amend. Even in getting out the premiums mistakes may be made. There have been such every year. Call us up and let us correct the errors.

The association has nothing but the best of intentions in its treatment of the people of the county and the conflicts and clashes that inevitably result from the collision of ideas and interests are apparently necessarily associated with the growth of such movements.

In thanking those who have contributed to the success of the fair it would be impossible to make a complete list. There have been too many helpers to undertake to publish the names. We wish to thank the newspapers of the county for their constant help and the wide publicity given before and after the dates of the fair. The ladies of the town gave freely of their time in arranging the exhibits and assisting in the management of the various departments. The telephone and water companies both gave free service and deserve the thanks of the association and the people of the county. The merchants and other business men of the county offered their support in the gifts of premiums and in other ways of service. Those of Oxford should especially be thanked for closing their stores on one of the days to enable the employees to attend the fair. J. F. WEBB, Secretary.

A Card of Thanks

By special request of the children of Mr. Isaiah P. Breedlove deceased, I desire to express their sincere thanks to the good neighbors, and the good people of Oxford and the surrounding county for their aid, sympathy and kindness during the sickness, death and burial of our dear father. May the Lord bless you all. The children, by D. N. Hunt.
