

THOSE WHO GO AND COME

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hunt, of Salem, were in Oxford Thursday.

Mr. Elvin Mangum, Route 2, were an Oxford visitor Thursday.

Mr. Carroll Dickerson of Route 3, was in Oxford Wednesday.

Mr. Ernest Currin, of Route 1, was an Oxford visitor Wednesday.

Mr. C. G. Renn, of Route 6, was a town visitor Thursday.

Mr. Lee Mangum, of Moriah section was in town Thursday.

Mrs. Sauls and her daughter, Miss Helen, of "The Oaks," were in Oxford Thursday.

Mrs. Norman Burwell has returned from Raleigh, where she has been painting pictures at the Elms.

Messrs. Ed Clements and Otho Daniels, of Route 1, were in Oxford a few hours Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Harris and children, of Creedmoor, are at Virginia Beach for a few days.

Little Miss Dudley Hackney, of Durham, is the pleasant guest of the Misses Sauls at "The Oaks."

Mr. George Rawlins, of Washington City, is spending a couple of weeks with his mother, Mrs. E. T. Rawlins.

Mr. J. M. Minor, one of Granville's best farmers—the kind that live at home and board at the same place—with his son Lee and daughter, Miss Othelia, of the Hester section were in Oxford Thursday. They are fine folks and we are always glad to see them.

Mr. Vassar Critcher, one of Oxford's fine young men, will leave for Darlington, S. C., next week to be away during the tobacco season in that section. Mr. Critcher, who is a good judge of conditions, is of the opinion that tobacco will sell very well this season.

Good News—Mr. J. Robt. Wood, chief of the Oxford Fire Department, who has returned from the State Convention, speaks in glowing terms of the firefighters. In the old days of the volunteer firemen the State conventions were devoted to drinking beer and running reel races. Now the State Fireman's Convention spends the time in the discussion of such topics as insurance rates, fire waste, fire protection and firemen's pensions. It all goes to show how the world is turning from sports and frivolities to the consideration of the more practical things of life.

MRS. NAT WHEELER DEAD

Passed Away Thursday Morning at Petersburg, Va.

On Thursday morning the sad news reached Oxford that Mrs. Nat Wheeler had passed away at her home in Petersburg. Mrs. Wheeler had been sick only a few days and her death was not expected, but a sudden relapse came and she failed to rally to the medical aid given her. She was just in the bloom of young womanhood being not quite 23 years of age. She is survived by her husband and two little children, the youngest only one day old at the time of her death. She also leaves several sisters and brothers besides her father and mother.

Mrs. Wheeler who was Miss Alda Cannady before marriage was born and reared in southern Granville near Creedmoor and was married to Mr. Nat Wheeler about four years ago. To the family and loved ones we extend our sympathy in their sad hour.

The funeral services will be held at Creedmoor this Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

A LEADING FEATURE

Next to the most important question of safety for deposits, the leading feature of our policy is to afford to all our customers such courteous and helpful service that they will find it a real pleasure to call at the bank and make their deposits week after week.

We realize that there is comparatively little benefit to be obtained from saving in a haphazard manner. The plan that will prove of real value to you is depositing steadily month by month and leaving your money in this strong National bank where it is safe and earns 4 per cent Compound Interest.
