

York City, spent a few days this week in Granville, the guests of kinspeople. Mr. Cole was a compositor on the Oxford Torchlight forty years ago and resigned his position and went to New York City and joined the forces of the New York Times, where he has been employed ever since. By close application, Mr. Cole has worked his way up to an exacting and responsible position that few men are capthe powers that be" and his word is final as to the typographical appearance of the paper, and if you will get a copy of the New York Times and look over it carefully you will discover that it is the neatest of the big metropolitan dailies. Besides the glorv, Mr. Cole gets $75.00 per week.

This is Mr. Cole's first trip to Oxford in forty years. He could scarcely realize that it is the same town, but here and there he recognized some of the old landmarks, but the town is altogether beautiful, said Mr. Cole.

Mr. Cole married in New York and it had long been his desire to bring his wife and children to the scenes of his childhood. The son, who was here with his parents, is a handsome young man and holds a responsible position with the New York Fidelity and Casulty Company. The Coles are related to the Webbs of the county, and the younger Mr. Cole was the meet of Mr. John Webb's family Wednesday night.

THE SACRED QUART

The Moral Stunted Getting Ready for The Drought

Virginia is getting ready for November 1, when prohibition will go in-10 effect. It makes very little difference to the people of Oxford as to when the law will go into effect as there is not as much as five gallons of liquor received here by express monthly. The supply brought in here by express has been on the decline ever since the sacred quart was established by law. You may kick and knock the bill as much as you children, who greatly loved him in confidence of the people. The Oxford of all stopping at the Exchange, the tober 25, 26, 27th. Pictures Booked at Orpheum dispensary, of which he was manag- best part of the trip." After a critical examination of the Harris & Crews, managers of the eturn. local play house, have booked the several features of amusements, Mr. Mr. Haskins was rated high for his er, was regarded as being the nearest Triangle pictures for each Thursday Knott is fully convinced that it is a strict business integrity, and he was approach to perfection of any in the U-Boats Sink 35 Ships hight. They will be shown in five to first class moral organization | built among the few men who enjoyed the State, and committees from other Thirty-five vessels of countries at along educational lines. Mr. Knott eight reels. They have also arrangdistinction of his "word being as towns and cities in the State visited war with Germany, with a total toned to handle the Keystone Carnaval was also highly impressed with the good as a bond." He was a success- Oxford with a view of incorporating nage of 14,600, were sunk by Ger-Pictures with Ford Sterling and Fatty Person County Fair. The exhibits ful business man and leaves a nice the high ideals Mr. Broughton man submarines in the North Sea or Arbuckle in the title role. These pic- and the attendance were good, says brought to the business in our comthe English Channel between Septemestate. tures come in two and four reels. The Mr. Knott. The deceased is survived by two munity. ber 20 and September 29, the Over-Secretary Knott is now very busy Mr. Broughton is survived by an Gold Rooster pictures will be shown sisters, Mrs. Dick Beasley, of Apex, seas News Agency announced Thursgetting the grounds and buildings in on Monday night of each week. All and Mrs. Roberts, of Middlesex, and only daughter, Mrs. Sula Dunford, of day. good shape for the Fair. Beginning of these pictures are by the best play-Oxford, who was with him when the a cousin, Mrs. E. L. Smith, of Oxnext Wednesday morning he will be ers and are built along educational end came, and one brother, who reford, and a large number of relatives France Needs More Men in a position to alot space to all exin and around Stem, who will mourn sides in Pennsylvania. At the death lines. A memorandum attached to a bill Those who want to make of the widow of his friend, the late hibitors. his sudden taking away. introduced in the Chamber of Depuarrangements for certain locations Matt Loonom, who accompanied him Funeral Services Fine Young Ladies ties of France by the Minister of Misses Mary Shaw, Helen Paris, for exhibits in the fair should see to Oxford in the early seventies, he The funeral services, conducted by War, authorizing the enrollment of and Mary Royall Hancock spent the him at the Commercial Club rooms took charge of the surviving children Dr. Willis, was held from the Oxford young men of the class of 1918 pre-Week-end with their parents. Oxford any time after Wednesday nextand gave them a home and educated Methodist church at 11 o'clock paratory to their being called to the sooner the better. He will have a may well be proud of these fair dau-Thursday morning. It was a most them. colors, explains that the military inmap of the grounds and the buildings Funeral Services ghters, who are maintaining her repsolemn and impresive hour, made struction of the class of 1917 is aand can go over the matter with you utation for culture and refinement in glorious by the promises of the resur-Pending the arrival of relatives of bout completed. the towns of Smithfield, Selma, and in a few minutes. rection. The scriptural truths as the deceased the funeral services will Dunn, as teachers in the schools of pronounced by Dr. Willis filled the be held this Friday morning from Brown Missionary Society Taft Will Speak sanctuary with the precious Light the residence conducted by Dr. Shamthose places. The Maria Brown Missionary Society will meet Monday afternoon, from on high. Dr. Shamberger, a for- burger. The Odd Fellows will take It is announced that William How-October 9th, at 4 o'clock, with Mrs. mer pastor of the deceased, led in a charge of the remains, and the in- ard Taft will address the North Caro-K. L. Street. All members are 're-quested to be present. A.V.C., C.S. "Abide With Me," "Blessed Assur- tery. Jewish New Year Victor Kaplon Store will be closed Saturday, October 7 till 5:30 o'clock for Jewish New Year.

HIGH CLASS PICTURES

as laid out by Commissioner Floyd, was declared a public road.

Mr. J. B. Powell was instructed to correct the land tax of J. A. Pearce in Brassfield. He owns 88 acres and is charged with 102.

The sheriff was instructed to summons a jury of three disinterested free holders to assess the damage to land of J. T. Cozart, caused by the removal of soil from said land. This able of filling. He has the "ears of land is on the Oxford-Henderson road.

Oxford.

Mr. H. M. Lanier, for many years identified with one of the big wholesale Baltimore houses, spent a day ness and as one of Oxford's probrother, Mr. T. Lanier. This was man he entered the mercantile busi-Mr. Lanier's first visit to his old ness at Stem, where he remained a home town since our fine streets were few years. He then came to Oxford laid, and he remarked on their beau- as a clerk for Landis & Easton. Af-

now be able to reach Oxford once or | Haskins continued a member of this twice a year.

Carteret Literary Society

one year either military or naval training."

The gentlemen upholding the affi-Ballou, Samuel Hall and Ernest Parham. After a lengthy discussion at Sunday School. Mr. Haskins enprepared a declamation but as the debate ran over time it was postponed.

VISITS PERSON COUNTY FAIR

Carnival Company.

MR. J. C. HASKINS

citizens of Oxford passed away suddenly during the night.

Death of Mr. J. C. Haskins Mr. J. C. Haskins, for many years closely identified with the business and social life of Oxford and Granville county, passed to his reward early Wednesday morning, acute indigestion being the immediate cause of his death. He was about fiftyeight years of age.

Mr. Haskins was born in Granville A Former Resident Spends a Day in county and has resided in it practically all of his life. For many years he had been known as one of the leading men in the mercantile busiin Oxford this week, the guest of his gressive citizens. When a young ter working for this firm a few years In order to be in the center of his Mr. Haskins went into business for are now making hteir home in Char- firm, Long, Blalock & Haskins, at the afternoon he was taken sick and real- hibits and presence. E. T. JONES. lotte. On his rounds, Mr. Lanier will time it was organized in 1905. Mr. firm until a year ago when he sold out his interest and retired from active business. Although not actively The Carteret Literary Society met engaged in any particular work he last Friday in the 9th grade room. did not cease to be connected with The query for debate was, "Resolved, the material growth of Oxford and That the Federal Government should Granville county, for when the Union compel every ablebodied male citizen Bank of Oxford was organized just between the age of 16 and 24 to have two or three years ago he was made the building business, and afterpresident of it and was serving in that capacity as well as being a stockholder in business corporations of rmative were: George Hunt, James the town when called to his reward. Mr. Haskins was a leading mem-Hunt. Those upholding the negative ber of the Oxford Methodist church were: Sidney Currin, Joe Taylor, and took an active interest in church the good of the general public, posi-Wililam Webb and Lewis Turner. work. His sweet tenor voice was The judges were: Mr. Phillips, Gus heard in the church choir every Sun-McSween, Earle Hunt and Robert day and he was a regular attendant of drink. the judges decided in favor of the joyed the confidence and esteem of a sudden demise. please, but it is a fine piece of legis-Mr. Haskins' death came as a dis- brought to his attention. It is said Smith, the genial proprietor of the lation and is accomplishing the detince shock to the whole community. of him that he never refused to re-Secretary Knott Impressed With the Exchange Hotel, after returning sired results. The bulk of the liquor Only a few hours previous to the spond to the many calls of the home, Mr. King said: "There are not that reaches Oxfred now is smuggled summons he was in the full enjoy- churches and the benevolent works Mr. P. W. Knott, secretary of the many men who know how to make in and the quantity is not one-fourth ment of health and greeted his many of the community. their guests comfortable and feel at Granville County Fair, made a trip as much as it was a year ago when friends in his usual cordial and jovial At the close of the saloons in the home as do you. I told Mrs. King to Roxboro this week for the especial Mayor Stem read the riot act. manner. Only a day or two before State and at the advent of the dispenwho went home from Old Point Compurpose of seeing the amusements his death, a bevy of little girls were sary system, Mr. Broughton was apput on by the Panama-Pacific Carnifort by rail that she had missed a seen to gather about him and call pointed superintendent of the Oxford val Company, which will be the treat by not going over the North him "Uncle Jack." His heart was al- dispensary. He conducted the busi-Carolina roads in an auto, and best ways tender, especially toward the ness in such a manner as to gain the Triangle, Keystone and Gold Rooster | amusement feature at our Fair Oc-

treatment in a Richmond hospital, is a very sick man.

ance," and other favorite songs of the State. deceased. Miss Berte Hutchings, leader of the choir, sang most tenderly F. W. HANCOCK, Jr., Asst. Sec'y. "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

As a mark of esteem for the memory of the departed, the Long Company closed their doors, and the following, who are connected with the store, were the honorary pallbearers: Messrs. Josh King, Frank Blalock, Morris Green, Carroll Dickerson and John Pittard. The Odd Fellows were the active pallbearers. The interment was in the cemetery at Stem

MR. RIAL BROUGHTON

Sad indeed were the hearts of the ed that Mr. R. Broughton, a highly stock and farm products. esteemed and a most benevolent citi-Tuesday night at his home on the outskirts of Oxford, of acute indigestion. He had been active on the ized that the end was near, and only had time to give a few inteructions to the members of his family, and among them was a request that the Odd Fellows, of which he was a most beloved and active member, lay his remains to rest.

Mr. Broughton was a native of Pennsylvania and settled in Oxford in the early seventies and engaged in wards opened a saloon which he conducted many years. It can be truthfully said of Mr. Broughton that few men ever conducted the saloon business with such strict regard for the personal welfare of his customers and tively refusing to sell to any one who was the least bit under the influence

Mr. Broughton was a most charitable man. He was always ready and affirmative. Francis Bradsher had large circle of friends in Oxford and willing to assist those in distress. His throughout the county, who will hand was ever open to distress learn with profound regret of his and it was his delight to contribute to all worthy objects that were is making a campaign the equal of those made by Vance and Aycock. Come to Oxford on the date named and hear the next Governor of the

A. A. HICKS, County Ch'm.

LETTER FROM MR. E. T. JONES

Urges the Farmers to Get Ready for the Event.

Brother farmers, are you coming to the County Fair, which is by far the best County Fair in the State? There are many stock raisers in the county who have good stock and never think of exhibiting them. Now, dear friends, we have the Fair and it is up to us to do all we can for its entire community when it was learn- success. Be there with your best

Don't mind the trouble it will put zen passed to his reward suddenly you to, but think of the glory that you will bring to the county.

The Fair stands for the best interest of the farmers of the county. territory, Mr. Lanier and his family himself, becoming a member of the farm all day Tuesday and late in the Make it the best possible by your ex-

The Styleplus Clothes

There is nothing better for young men and old men than the celebrated Styleplus clothing. The price remains the same. See ad of the Perkinson-Green Company on fifth page of this paper.

Some Recent Visitors

Misses Rossie and Edna Masters, of Red Wing, Minn., traveling in a touring car, spent Monday night at the Exchange Hotel en route from Miami, Fla., home. They expressed much delight in the beauties of Oxford and stated that the Exchange Hotel was the most elegant hostelery they had stopped at since leaving home two months ago.

Another distinguished visitor to Oxford was Mr. C. W. King, Secretary-treasurer of the Howell Cotton Company, Rome, Ga., who stopped for a day at the Exchange Hotel enroute in a touring car from Old Point Comfort. Writing to Mr. Lonnie