

ABOUT PEOPLE AND THINGS

Oxford-Moriah Road—Mr. D. Tucker Brown, State Highway Engineer, was busy this week surveying the Oxford-Moriah road.

Admitted Free—Secretary Knott authorizes the Public Ledger to state that all veterans will be admitted to the Granville County Fair free—during the three days.

Fine Tobacco—Mr. W. L. Mangum, of Virginia Route 2, was on the Oxford market Wednesday with a load of fine tobacco. He sold at the Minor warehouse and was highly pleased.

Service at Berea—On Sunday next the Rev. Mr. Horsfield, Rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church will hold a service in the School House in Berea, 3:30 p. m. All are cordially invited to be present at this service.

Henderson's Big Store—Elsewhere in this paper will be found the extraordinary announcement of the Anchor Store—Henderson's big emporium. They make a strong appeal to the ladies.

Resting Nicely—The many friends of Mr. Grady Harris, son of Mr. W. R. Harris, will be pleased to learn that he is recovering rapidly from a serious operation performed in a Richmond hospital last week.

Blackberries—Although the frost has nipped the vine in this section, Mr. W. L. Peace is enjoying large, luscious blackberries every day. He gathered a handful from the vines at the south end of Hancock street Wednesday morning and brought them to the Public Ledger office, and they were as fine as any we have seen this year.

Fooled Again—The Public Ledger learns that a number of farmers in the extreme Northern part of Granville visited the South Boston market last week in hopes of getting more for the weed than is paid in Oxford. One of the farmers who visited South Boston told the Public Ledger that he is convinced that Oxford is the strongest market in the whole country.

The Second Crop—Second growth June apples in October is something not often seen. But we have on our desk two perfect specimens of the second growth that matured in the orchard of Mr. H. J. Council on Gilliam street. The apples are fully up to the standard in size and are somewhat firmer and more spid than the first growth.

Fully Organized—The Democratic campaign may be said to be fully open now in Granville. The county has been fully organized and the activities of party workers will be kept up from now until election day. The thorough organization of the county has discouraged the Republicans and they are not nearly so jubilant as they were some weeks ago. But Democrats must not be content to rest on what they have already done. "Keeping everlastingly at it brings success."

THOSE WHO GO AND COME

Miss Estelle White is visiting friends in Richmond, Va.

Mrs. S. K. Phillips will leave Saturday on a visit to Richmond and Washington. She will probably be gone one month.

Mr. Arch Taylor, of Concord, the fine son of Mr. T. G. Taylor, will arrive this week and spend a few days at home.

Miss Brem and the children of Mr. T. E. Hicks, who have been at Brantwood, the summer home, for the heated term have closed the house and gone to New York.

Rev. S. K. Phillips left Wednesday noon for Oakland church, Johnson county, to address the meeting of the combined woman's auxiliaries in Rev. B. R. Lacy, Jr.'s field. Mr. Phillips will return to Oxford in time to fill his pulpit Sunday.

The Public Ledger was honored one day this week with a visit of our old friend, Mr. T. L. Fuller and his grandson, Master Raymond Matthews, of Watkins section. Raymond had long desired to visit the Public Ledger office and see with his own eyes a newspaper in the making. He is a bright little fellow and acquired in a few minutes valuable information that will serve him well.

Dr. Shamburger, a former pastor of the Oxford Methodist church, now pastor of the Weldon church, was a great admirer of the late Rial Broughton, and it was indeed fitting that he came to Oxford and eulogized the noble deeds of the deceased.

HIGH COST OF LIVING

Food Throughout Country Sells at Prices Highest Since Days of Civil War.

Marked increase in the cost of living is shown in the rising tendency in the price of foodstuffs on October 1, reports of which are just being received at the Department of Agriculture from the principal markets of the country.

With flour selling at higher prices than at any time since the Civil War, due principally to the shortage of the crop this year, the cost of potatoes is increasing.

Meat prices continue to advance, with prices showing almost twenty-four percent over what was paid a year ago. Butter, eggs, and cheese all are selling for higher prices at this time of the year than what they were last year, and beans show an increase over a year ago because of the short crop.

Prices paid to producers of farm products increased 9.3 percent during August, while during the past 8 years these commodities have shown a decrease.

Potatoes were selling 116 percent higher than a year ago.

Big Increase in New York
Comparison of retail prices for staple articles of food asked on local markets today, as against prices for the same commodities one year ago, show increases averaging from 40 to 100 percent with some articles ranging as high as 500 percent.

Even the man who dodges responsibility all his life has to go to his own funeral.

The Weekly Ambon Of St. Stephen's Parish

The Titles "The Liturgy" "The Divine Liturgy" anciently described the Sacrament of the Altar. In the Eastern Church today, the received title of the Service is "The Divine Liturgy."

"Liturgy" is now so commonly, and so incorrectly used to describe any kind of a precomposed form of Prayers: as "Liturgical Services" "Liturgical Churches" that its true meaning, signifying only the Office of the Eucharist, is lost beyond recall. "Liturgy" was first used in a religious sense in the Septuagint (a Greek translation of the Hebrew Scriptures) where it described the Divine Service of the Tabernacle and Temple, thence it was taken into the New Testament to mean spiritual ministrations, especially the Eucharist. Act XIII:2. literally, "As they liturgized (offered the Eucharist) to the Lord" "The Divine Service" used so much by the early English Church, is a translation of "The Divine Litourgy."

Adam Smith Said It

Nearly a century and a half ago Adam Smith said in the Wealth of Nations:
A man must live by his work and his wages be at least sufficient to sustain him. They must be ven more on occasions; otherwise it would be impossible for him to bring up a family, and the race of such workmen would not last beyond the first generation.
