Fool the Harlequin Bug.

When you plant cabbage or calards this season, plant a row of mustard on each side of the bed to attract the Harlequin bugs. They will leave the cabbage and gather on the mustard where you can kill them by spraying with pure kerosene oil.

Wonder what has become of the old-fashioned party who used to come down town and boast that he had eaten a dozen eggs for breakfast?

A BUSY LITTLE WORLD

Eighty Orphans At Oxford Orphanage Doing Their Bit.

We learn from Mr. R. L. Brown, superintendent of the Oxford Orphanage that eighty orphan boys are tilling 150 acres, seeded to a variety of crops, as their contribution to the food supply. The acreage has been doubled over that of 1916 and food crops are predominant. The distribution as to acreage is: Corn, 50 acres; oats, 30 acres; alfalfa, 25; old-fashioned timothy and clover, 17; soybeans, 10; and peas, 12; and two crops of potatoes. Sixty pure-bred Duroc-Jersey pigs are being nurtured for the slaughter pens, and 17 brood sows are among the surplus stock. The farm boys produced 90 bushels of corn to the acre the past season, and surplus meat was raised on the orphanage grounds."

A PUBLIC ENEMY.

Places Sharp Spikes in Oxford-Henderson Road.

Mr. Graham Daniel, of Providence, one day last week discovered eight iron spikes at a point on the Oxford-Henderson road near Cheatham's mill.

The spikes were about two inches long, very sharp and so arranged in the road as to make it practically impossible to pass that point with an automobile without a puncture.

Mr. Daniel discovered the "trap" and applied the brakes in the nick of time. He gathered up the spikes and brought them to Oxford and exhibited them to friends.

The public roads await the fiend if he is caught, and some judges make the sentence as much as two years.

"When Mildredina Hair Remedy is used almost universally, dandruff will disappear and with its departure baldness, itching scalp, splitting hair and all scalp diseases will follow and twenty years from now a bald head will be a rarity." ## NEGROES MUST REGISTER.

The Registration Law is Very Explicit.

Every day for the last two weeks many negroes have inquired at the Public Ledger office if they must register. The registration law does not excuse any one, be he white, black, married, single, Jew or Gentile. All men of every race, color or condition, sick or well, are affected by the Government's draft requirements.

PRESIDENT FORMULATES RULES

Demands That You Must Be Courteous to Registrars.

A strict interpretation has been placed upon the selective conscription act by President Wilson, to whom was left, by Congress, the formulating of rules for registering the men of military age of the country. These rules, together with the act itself, have been sent to the City and County Registration Boards and are being carefully perused by both these boards and the 33 registrars of Granville county.

To make the work as light as possible upon the registrars, all of whom will serve without compensation. President Wilson has ordered all police officers as well as all Federal agents, to assist in the work and see that all persons register who should do so. The rules also demand of the citizen, courteous treatment of the registrars.

Section 16 of the rules laid down for the enforcement of the registration law, says that policemen, constables and all other civil officers, are required to render every assistance possible. The act concludes.

"It is especially made the duty of such police officers, to see that all persons within the designated ages have registered and to report those who have not registered to the proper registration board for such action as may be necessary. Police officers may require any person subject to registration to exhibit his registration certificate."

In section 47 the registrar is told how to act.

"If the person is sullen or inclined to falsify, evade or refuse to answer, call his attention to the law on page 2 of those instructions which imposes a penalty of imprisonment for such conduct. If he is still refractory, do not delay the registration, but call witnesses, take the refractory person's name, etc."

A good way to drill rutabaga seed evenly is to use a bottle tied to a stick with a goose quill through the stopper. A little practice will enable you to shake it just enough to put the right quantity of seed as you walk along.
