Iron Is Greatest of All Strength Builders, Says Doctor

A Secret of the Great Endurance and Powers of Athletes

Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Make Delicate, Nervous, Run-down People 100 Per Cent Stronger in Two Weeks' Time in Many Cases.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Most people foolishly seem to think they are going to get renewed health and strength from some stimulating medicine, secret nostrum or narcotic drug, said Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston Physician who has studied widely both in this country and in Great European Medical Institutions when, as a matter of fact, real and true strength can only come from the food you eat. But people often fail to get the strength out of their food because they haven't enough iron in their blood to enable it to change food into living matter. From their weakened, nervous condition they know something is wrong but they can't tell what, so they generally commence doctoring for stomach, liver or kidney trouble or symptoms of some other ailment caused by lack of iron in the blood. This thing may go on for years, while the patient suffers untold agony. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while, double their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxated iron if you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. Many an athlete or prize-fighter has won the day simply because they knew the secret of his blood with iron before he went into the fray, while many another has gone down to inglorious defeat simply for the lack of iron.

NOTE.—Nuxated Iron, recommended above by Dr. E. Sauer, is one of the newer organic iron compounds. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 100 per cent. or over in four weeks time provided they have no serious or fatal trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists.

The Soldier's Funeral.

(Charlotte Observer)
Charlotte is becoming sadly familiar with the sight of the military funeral. Four times since the establishment of Camp Greene it has bared its head to the passing out and away of a soldier boy, its emotions stirred by the funeral dirge, the draped burden of cation, and the softening tread of the escort of comrades. It is all solemnly impressive—the open ranks at the church door, the passing through of the casket, the seats filled with soldiers in uniform, the olive drab figure of the chaplain in the pulpit, the procession of soldiers by the open casket at the close of the service, the dropping of tears and the placing of flowers above the stilled form by the women, the march from the church and the slowly moving journey to the depot, from which another boy is sent back to his mother. These last farewells to the soldier boy are occasions which touch the hearts of the people at home. They do not think that he may have been spared a death of agony on the battlefield. They only know that he was somebody's boy who died far from faces that were familiar and loved, that he is going where great heartaches are awaiting his coming, and they put a bunch of violets in and they hide the whited hands and they hide the flag under a covering of flowers that breathe of tenderly loving affection. And trembling fingers that go through these mute yet eloquent appealing tokens from the distant friends, may find here a sprig of rosemary, placed for remembrance, and there a cluster of pansies which will tell of thoughts!

Only a Brakeman.

Following a railway accident recently, there was great relief in official circles when the report was made that only a brakeman had been killed. Only a brakeman! And there were hundreds of others waiting to fill his shoes.

Only a brakeman! His name was not given in the telegraphic report of the accident. He had not made a name to which the world would pay tribute. There were only a few friends who knew him in the railway Y. M. C. A. and a brother and sister in Russia. Home, family, friends he had left in the land of oppression to come to America, the country of opportunity. Alone, ignorant, untrained in American ways, he was only a brakeman in the official report telling of his death.

Only a brakeman! Yet it is such as he who are moving our freight, trucking the meat that supplies our tables, hauling the coal that heats our homes, bringing the milk with which we feed our babies. Standing on top of their freight cars, leaning against the wind with the dust of the reserts in their faces, the roar of the engines in their ears, and the grime of the nations of their hands, wherever you find cars, engines, freight, soot, danger, there you will find the brakeman, toiling sleeplessly, hopefully, uncomplainingly, with death stalking ever at his side, to give up comforts and make our homes happy. Yet when the car couplers pinch him within their giant jaws or the wrecked train crushes out his life beside the railway track, the reports that the public reads record the death of only a brakeman.

P. C. Barker of Greensboro died Sunday morning in a hospital at Mt. Airy, the result of his skull being fractured when he was thrown from an automobile. He was 38 years old and unmarried, was an active worker in religious causes and when he received the fatal injury was en route to a sunrise prayermeeting.

THE DOG

(Our Dumb Animals.)

—There are approximately 3000 dogs in the various departments of the German army. They have been trained by the German Red Cross Dog Society.

—These war dogs have learned to obey commands given both by word of mouth and by pistol shots. They act as camp guards, trench sentries, scouts, and aids on the battlefields. The stronger are used for hauling.

—The French use many dogs for these same purposes. They also found the dogs of the greatest service for drawing sleighs carrying supplies through the mountain snows of the Vosges when there seemed no other method of transportation. After the snows melt the dogs draw heavy loads up the steep grades on a narrow gauge light railway.

—Some of these dogs have been so trained that in traversing a field after a battle they wholly ignore a dead soldier but bark loudly when they discover one wounded, returning to their gennels for assistances and leading the way back to the injured man. Surgeons and stretcher-bearers follow them back.

—Not all of the most valuable dogs in this present war have been of high degree. Thousands have just been "plain dogs." It's what he can do, not whence he came, that makes a dog or a man worth while.

—To mount guard in a trench at listening posts for long hours at a stretch, ignoring danger, alert every moment—this is what many dogs are doing for the armies they serve. Some dogs have saved whole companies, especially in fogs, revealing by their growling the nearness of the enemy.

—Perhaps when this war is over and our American dog-haters have learned the part these faithful animals have played in serving the cause of humanity and the various countries which have employed them, there will be less demand on the part of these people for the dog's extermination. It was out of a long past age that one deemed himself answering the basest insult by the exclamation: "Is thy servant a dog!"

LEMONS BRING OUT THE HIDDEN BEAUTY
Make this lotion for very little cost and just see for yourself.

By all means, girls, prepare a lemon lotion to keep your skin flexible and young looking. You will soon realize that true loveliness does not mean the powdery-look of waxen colorlessness of some hot-house flower, but is typified by the velvety softness of your skin, your peach-like complexion and rosy-white hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen and bring out the roses and hidden beauty of any skin. It is, simply marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands. adv
