We Are Very Busy

Opening Up Our NEW

Spring Stock!

But we will have time to show it to you whenever you call, and understand, please, that when we say show we don't mean that you will have to buy. Our different lines this season are the most beautiful we have ever shown. We don't generally do business at a loss, but our profit road this year is a narrow-gauge one and its branches extend to every department of our store.

Our buyer has just returned from the Northern markets happy in the possession of the largest and most desirable spring stock that has ever graced our store. The goods are arriving on every train. We wish to call special attention to our

Silks,
Wash Goods,
Ginghams, Organdies,
Lawn, Percales.

We are satisfied with a small profit, but we want a large circle of customers. We sell nothing that we cannot endorse. You can always find the largest, best stock of

Men's, . . . Boys' and Youths'

READY-MADE
...CLOTHING...

At our store. Come and inspect our stock and you cannot fail to find something to please you.

TAKE OFF YOUR HATS, GENTLEMEN!

Do you need a hat? Do you need the best value your money will buy? If so come and see our display. We have them in all colors—black, pearl, side nutrial, mouse, brown, lead and mode. What hat trade we have we hold, what we haven't we are after. We are after you.

SHOES, DID YOU SAY?

Why yes we have them and the handsomest line you have ever seen. We have them to fit all feet, at all prices, for men, women, children. Come and see them.

Millinery Department!

Miss Wellman, our milliner, assisted by Miss Annie Booth, is now hard at work getting ready for the event of the season. As you know, almost anybody with fingers the least bit deft can buy a cheap frame, a yard or so of velvet, a ribbon or two, put them together and dub the result a hat. But the verdict of womanhood is that it's better to let good milliners do the work, so if you want an up-to-date hat trimmed by an expert, you'll have to come to headquarters, for we will quit selling when we quit excelling. "Do you hear?"

Long Bros.

IT'S EASY

To get all the Perfumes, Toilet Goods, Brushes, Syringes, Hot-water Bags, and all other Druggists Sundries if you don't mind what you get. But it is safer in the long run to take the trouble

To go to the right place. Don't go the Wrong WAY.

We are in position to supply the wants of everybody. We have everything that is to be had in the Drug or Drug Sundry lines and we sell them at such remarkably low prices we are bound to win custom and incidently your good will.

WILTON CYCLONE SWEPT.

Great Destruction—Mr. J. W. Harris Seriously Injured, Etc.

WILTON, March 26th, 1901.
A cyclone passed over part of Brassfield Township this evening, about 5 o'clock, doing great damage to buildings and injuring several persons. Cannot state exact number. It struck Wilton, unroofing the mill house, completely demolishing the largest store and another store used as a school house and damaged the dwelling, all the property of J. W. Harris.

To view the wreck it seems almost impossible that any person could escape death. Five persons were in the large store. J. W. Harris was cut in two places on the head, back injured, Ulysses, son, arm broken; Aubrey, son, hurt; Chester, another son, was uninjured, and J. S. Gooch who escaped with a few scratches on face. Also two tenement houses blown down, injuring a colored man, and another house damaged. Large oaks uprooted, broken off at the ground, and tops blown off. The L. of W. P. White's was moved. R. R. Strother lost every house on his place, but no one was injured. W. R. Walters has only his dwelling and one tenant left standing, and 5 or 6 children injured in tenants' families. J. C. Usry had 3 houses destroyed. E. Mitchell lost a pack house. Tom McGeestables, but did not hurt his horse. P. A. White had some out houses destroyed. One colored man at Mr. Strother's run out of his house and has not been seen since.

We visited the wreck at Wilton tonight. People may read of cyclones, tornadoes, etc., but imagination can not picture such destruction. Other buildings within 50 yards of the large store which was 100 feet long, were uninjured.

Several persons saw the cyclone approaching and say they saw balls of fire with the dark cloud.

Mr. Harris' dwelling was considerably damaged, stem of chimney off, wind blown in, furniture blown and scattered about the rooms, bricks blown between the joist and roof, falling upon the plastering and bursting through.

No deaths thus far reported. The storm came from the southwest going northeast, but to view the scene of damage no one could tell the direction as the largest store was thrown east and the other west, and trees were pointing east, west and northeast. The stock of goods of Mr. Harris were scattered in every direction.

Have not heard the length of cyclone nor the amount of damage in the track. W. P. LYON.

Miss Mary Belle Gregory's Opening.

You are cordially invited to attend my Opening Saturday, March 30th, at which time I will have displayed the largest and most stylish lot of Pattern Hats ever shown in Oxford. Each article has been carefully selected and will please the most fastidious, both in quality and design. Special attention is called to a beautiful line of Hamburgs, Belts, Combs and many other articles dear to the feminine heart.

I respectfully request each one to call and examine my stock, promising them prompt and polite attention and satisfaction in their purchases.

Remarkable Cures of Rheumatism.

From the Vindicator, Rutherfordton, N. C.
The editor of the Vindicator has had occasion to test the efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice with the most remarkable results in each case. First, with rheumatism in the shoulder from which he suffered excruciating pain for ten days, which was relieved with two applications of Pain Balm rubbing the parts afflicted and realizing instant benefit and entire relief in a very short time. Second, in rheumatism in thigh joint almost paralyzing him with severe pain, which was relieved by two applications, rubbing with the liniment on retiring at night, and getting up free from pain. For sale by J. G. Hall.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

GATHERED BY OUR REPORTERS.

Short Items Dealing With the News of a Week.

—Read administrators notice of Dr. G. T. Sikes in another column.

—The passenger train from Durham now arrives in Oxford at 11 o'clock a. m.

—We call attention to the administrators notice of Mr. S. P. Washington in another column.

—Mr. W. R. Oakley, of Berea, is 80 years of age and never used spectacles chewed or smoked Tobacco.

—Mr. A. A. Hicks has completed one of his cottages on Broad street and is occupied by Mr. Mangum.

—The big well at the Inter section of Hillsboro and College streets is completed and affords a good supply of water.

—Monday afternoon we had the first big rain since last June, and was what is termed a "gully washer and a trash mover."

—Our little friend, Bixler Hobgood, who has been quite ill with pneumonia, is now on the road to recovery we are pleased to say.

Mr. Rhodes Hunt, who stuck a nail in his foot some days ago, and who has been unable to walk we are glad to learn is getting better.

—Mr. A. T. Worsham, one of our skilled machinists of 20 years experience, is now a valued employe of the Taylor Cannady Buggy Co.

—Messrs. John Bullock and Willie Mitchell are now riding around in new buggies of the celebrated Taylor-Cannady Buggy Co. make.

—Mr. J. D. Bullock is making good progress on his new residence on Broad street and when completed will be very neat and attractive.

—Don't forget the fact that the Public Ledger is a real "all-wool and a yard wide" Oxford enterprise and seeks and deserves your patronage.

—The little daughter of Sallie Herndon, colored, found on the street a few days ago a black silk skirt. The owner can get it by calling on her.

—It is stated that Mr. Francis D. Winston, brother of Ex-Judge Robt. W. Winston, will be appointed a judge of one of the new superior court districts.

—As soon as Mr. J. F. Edwards gets all his material together he will commence the erection of his new shop in the rear of his hardware store.

—Shortly the annual struggle between the Easter egg and the Easter bonnet to get ahead will begin. As usual, however, the latter is likely to come out on top.

—Smashing mirrors in saloons is one thing, but Kansas trying to prohibit treating in a man's own house is like wanting to smash the glasses there.

—Why don't you stop playing hog and subscribe to the Public Ledger instead of borrowing your neighbors paper? You have read it long enough for nothing.

—Mr. E. H. Crenshaw has fixed up a nice office in the end of his two stores and his keen business eye can see what the boys are doing in the dry goods and grocery departments.

—The Horner team crossed bats with the Trinity boys at Durham Saturday afternoon and were defeated by a score of 11 to 10. Hope they will have better luck next time.

—The horses of Mr. Rhodes Hunt run away Monday with the wagon and badly injured the colored driver. The driver is improving from his bruises.

—We have not mixed up with grip yet and (hie) if our jug of medicine (hie) holds out the March wind can whistle through our whiskers (ehic) as much as it wants to.—Blue Ridge Post.

Wednesday night some one broke into the store of Mr. Sid Daniel in Browntown and relieved him of a few dollars worth of groceries. The thief forced the back window open and helped himself.

—"The first rose of spring will likely be shad roses."—Durham Sun.

And the last rose of summer will likely be two Supreme Court Judges, if a good many men have their way about it.—Greensboro Record.

—There will be an Easter Monday Entertainment at Banks' Easter Monday, consisting of songs, recitations, and music. It will be a pleasant affair and you are cordially invited to attend and enjoy the exercises.

—We are in receipt of an invitation issued by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Granger, of Kinston, announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Capitola, to Mr. Daniel Thomas Edwards, Wednesday morning April 3rd, at 7:30 o'clock at their splendid home, "Ver-non."

Representatives A. W. Graham and W. H. P. Jenkins will speak to the people of Granville in the Court House Tuesday in court week and give an account of their stewardship. They of course will be gladly heard by the people, as they have proved splendid Representatives old Granville.

Only Good in a Campaign.

The politicians in the Legislature abused the trusts during the campaign, and after doing nothing to disturb them they will be found abusing trusts when the next campaign rolls around. This is a way politicians have and the people make a mistake by taking them seriously.—Durham Herald.

Best Ever Issued in the State.

The Souvenir Legislature Edition of the News & Observer issued Sunday was the best ever gotten out in the State. It was nicely printed and contained 40 pages of well written matter about the work of the Legislature and its members. We are very proud of the News & Observer and warmly congratulate Bro. Daniels upon the great success achieved.

Landis & Easton's Millinery Opening.

The ladies of Oxford and the county can prepare for a rich millinery treat. Miss May Francis has selected a pretty spring and summer stock of millinery, and Saturday next, 30th, will be her opening day, when all of the latest styles and shades will be displayed in rich profusion. This will be the time to select your Easter hats, and you are cordially invited to attend.

Head the List and Cannot be Beat.

There is no better buggy made than those manufactured by the Taylor-Cannady Buggy Co., of Oxford. They have stood the test for durability, comfort and excellent finish, and if you have not bought one of them why do so and you will praise them yourself. The Emporium on Main street is in charge of Mr. Charley Bryan who will be pleased to serve you if you wish to buy a buggy, wagon, harness, collars, lap robes, whips &c at lowest possible prices. Read advertisement on 4th page.

"A Fisherman's Luck."

The above is the title of a play to be given at the Opera House April 9 by local talent. It will be given under the direction of Mr. Sherrin, who is here now training those who are to take part in it and rehearsals are being held nightly. Mr. Sherrin has achieved quite a reputation as a successful coach for amateur theatricians, and the fact that his services have been secured ensures a first class performance. He will also take one of the leading parts in the play. Remember the date is April 9th and you are cordially invited to attend.

Died Suddenly in Henderson.

Col. William H. Cheek, father of Mrs. A. S. Hall, of Oxford, died suddenly in Henderson Saturday afternoon. He was taken ill in Dr. Melville Dorsey's drug store and moved to the office of Dr. Bass in the same building where he died. He was a brave and fearless soldier in the confederate war, and his regiment was composed of men from Warren, Granville and Franklin counties, and surrendered at Appomattox with General Lee. Col. Cheek was a highly cultivated christian gentleman and his death will be mourned by his old comrades and wide circle of friends. To the suddenly grief stricken family the Public Ledger extends its deepest sympathy.

Will Accomplish Good.

Rev. Mr. Wool, the new pastor of the Presbyterian church, is proving himself to be an able, forcible and practical minister in the vineyard of the Lord. His sermons are full of true, practical religion and will no doubt accomplish a good work in Oxford and build up his church. Go out an hear him if you haven't done so, as he will be sure to give you something to think about as to your souls salvation. The music is good under the direction of Mrs. C. J. Cooper, and the choir composed of Misses Annie Williams, Grace and Ethel Clement, Lucy and Hattie Webb and Evelyn Howell, and Messrs. Willie Howell Oscar Hawley, all of whom have fine voices.

Miss Emma Day.

One of the fine milliners of Oxford, has received her attractive stock of spring millinery, and will have her opening on Saturday March 30th, and the ladies of both town and country are cordially invited to attend the opening. Miss Day has taken great pains in selecting her stock, which is an attractive one, and we take pleasure in calling the attention of the ladies to her advertisement in another column.

Ready to Supply Your Wants.

The double stores of the E. H. Crenshaw Co., on Hillsboro street, is one of the centers of attractions in Oxford just now as they are full of splendid line spring goods and you will find polite clerks to supply you with reasonable bargains. The Crenshaw Co can clothe and feed you. You find there a splendid assortment of dry goods, dress goods, notions, clothing, shoes, hats, etc., at prices to meet the demands of the times. The stock of heavy and fancy groceries are of the best quality money can buy, and sold at close margin. You are cordially invited to visit these full stores and get your wants supplied. Mr. Crenshaw is a fine merchant and delights to please his customers. Read the big advertisement of this firm on the 4th page.

GALLOPING GLANCES

AT PROMINENT PEOPLE.

Short Review of Citizens Who Have Earned Distinction—Men who Make a Town.

MR. J. M. CURRIN.

A business man of wide experience in the affairs of life, a public spirited citizen who gives liberal support to all industries that are worthy, is Mr. J. M. Currin. By well-directed efforts, by close application to the details of business and energy in the pursuit of the end in view, he has earned distinction and reputation as a wise and careful man of business; by active participation in all questions which involve the interests of the town, and co-operation in every good cause, he has made himself a valuable citizen.

Mr. Currin is an exceedingly liberal contributor to all worthy objects, charitable, religious and social. His assistance is accorded whenever he is satisfied that it is needed and that such need is to be encouraged. Though not a college-bred man, he has been trained in mind and in habits of thought by experience and contact with the world. Experience, it has been said, is the best teacher and some have gone so far as to say that a thing is never really learned until it has become part of one's experience. Mr. Currin, by virtue of the responsible position held by him, has come in contact with some of the foremost men of the day—men who are noted as organizers and directors of great enterprises. His influence was exceedingly useful in effecting the establishment of the Oxford Cotton Mills.

Socially, Mr. Currin is an interesting and pleasant companion.

DR. SAM. D. BOOTH.

A stout man of medium stature driving by in somewhat of a hurry, driving a sorrel mare—ask any man, woman or child in Granville county and you will be told that this is Dr. Sam Booth. His figure and name are well-known on every road in well-nigh all the homes of the county. He has been standing by beds of sickness for—well, let us say, more than a quarter of a century. A physician of great skill and learning, he brings to natural talent for the healing art powers of study and labor, to which is added now wide and diversified experience. In diagnosis he is unsurpassed in the State and his powers in this respect have been noticed by eminent members of his profession in the great Northern cities, where he has attended lectures and clinics. Dr. Sam Booth is—what every physician naturally supposes that one who is the witness of so much of woe and pain would soon become callous and unmoved by suffering; not so with him. He has a large heart full of kindly impulses, and, whatever may be said of him, no one can lay the charge of selfishness at his door.

Dr. Booth is keenly alive to all matters of public concern which engage the attention of thoughtful men. He is a close observer of people and things, and keeps abreast of the times, is a pleasing talker and fond of conversation. A Confederate veteran, he knows the war from Bethel to Appomattox and is never so happy as when recounting the bravery and feats of his comrades-in-arms.

REV. A. McCULLEN.

There has been no abler, stronger, more consecrated man in the Methodist pulpit in latter years than the subject of this sketch. One who is forced by his daily ministrations and contact with the evil that is in the world is oftentimes led to take a pessimistic view of the order of things, and is prone to think more of total depravity and kindred subjects than of the bright and more silvery lining to the cloud of darkness. It is but human to fall into error of supposing that, when "beauteous May sleeps in December's tomb," the Spring is gone forever and Wintry gloom is come to remain. Mr. McCullen is the bright, sunny, genial disposition which keeps him from falling into this mistaken conception of man and nature. His Christianity is of the substantial, cheerful type, and his sermons, while pointing out, to a sufficient extent, the evils of the world and society, are yet full of hopefulness and breathe fragrance and promise to man in his daily life and in his aspirations and noble ambitions. Mr. McCullen is blessed with a keen sense and appreciation of humor and has an intelligent knowledge of its uses and places. Bold and aggressive, he knows not the meaning of fear and is unhesitating in the expressions of his opinions.

MR. E. T. RAWLINS.

When it is said that Mr. E. T. Rawlins is one of the oldest merchants in Oxford, it by no means follows that he is an old man. He would resent such an imputation and call your attention, in answer thereto, to his youthful appearance, and springy steps as evidence of his youthfulness. When you enter the headquarters of the Rawlins Dry Goods and Shoe Co., you are sure to be received with hearty cheer and courteous treatment, whether on business or pleasure bent. A cheerful greeting you will receive from this good man whenever and wherever you encounter him. Mr. Rawlins gives the closest attention to his business, at the same time that his interest is by no means a selfish one, but, like all men of good judgment, he lends it to whatever has value and is advantageous to his neighbors and his town.

MR. PAUL CANNADY KILLED.

Cyclone in Creedmoor section Monday Afternoon.

We get the following account of the cyclone which passed over the Creedmoor section from the Durham Herald, of Tuesday which is a good report of the disaster:

A cyclone struck Granville county near Creedmoor, late yesterday afternoon, killing one man, breaking a girl's arm and destroying considerable property.

The one killed was Paul Cannady, a well-to-do and highly respected, farmer. The little daughter of Med Jackson, also a well-to-do white citizen, had her arm broken.

So far as could be learned the cyclone first struck the home of Mr. Jackson, about two miles from Creedmoor, which entirely demolished, together with all of his out-houses. While the family was trying to get to places of safety a piece of timber struck the little daughter breaking her arm. No other member of the family was hurt.

The next damage reported was at the home of Mr. Paul Cannady. The home was unroofed and Mrs. Cannady carried out in the yard by the force of the winds. The husband went to her rescue and just as he stooped to pick her up he was struck by a piece of timber and killed. Mrs. Cannady escaped with but few bruises.

Mr. Cannady was well known to a large number of our people. He was one of the most highly respected young farmers in that section of the county and was well-to-do. About two years ago he wedded Miss Percy Bensey, of Granville county, and she too, has quite a large number of acquaintances and friends in Durham.

The deceased was between thirty and thirty-five years of age and left one child.

The Public Ledger deeply deploras the loss of such a valuable citizen of Granville as the popular Paul Cannady, and joins all classes of our citizens in extending the deepest sympathy to loved ones. Mr. Cannady was prominently mentioned as a candidate for Legislature last year owing to his sterling integrity and exemplary traits of character. His funeral was one of the largest ever held in that section of the county, showing the high esteem in which he was held.

Attractions for the Ladies.

The elaborate Spring Millinery display of Long Bros. will be spread out Saturday, the 30th, for you to go into ectases over. Miss Wellman has displayed excellent taste in her selections, and the latest fads in high-grade and medium priced hats will be shown. A most cordial invitation is extended the ladies of Oxford and the county to come and see the new season's creations.

Combination of Brains and Skill.

Elsewhere in this issue appears a notice of the formation of a copartnership between two of our skilled physicians, Dr. Benj. K. Hays and Dr. Thomas L. Booth, both of Oxford, for the purpose of doing a joint medical practice in Oxford and Granville county. While it is their purpose to do a general practice, yet they desire to make a specialty of Office Practice and to emphasize this branch of their work more strongly than has yet been attempted in this county. In order to accomplish this they have leased the office building located on College street, between the law office of Mr. John W. Hays and the Episcopal church, and have equipped the same with the best appliances known to modern medical science. They have a reception room, private office and consultation room and an operating room. The great modern force in medicine—electricity—has not been overlooked. Besides a hand battery they have a large cabinet battery in which can be generated any kind of current desired, which can also be regulated and applied with whatever force is necessary.

Concerning the two men, Dr. Hays is a graduate of the University College of Medicine, of Richmond, Va., and for two years was associated with Dr. Hunter McGuire at St. Luke Hospital, Richmond, Va., as his assistant. There he lived in daily contact with that surgeon and often performed operations under his skilled guidance. After six years of practice he again resumed his studies by spending the first 2 months of the present year in New York, making a specialty of the eye, ear and throat.

The senior member of this firm, Dr. T. L. Booth, is so well known in the county as a successful physician comment is unnecessary. Suffice it to say that he is a physician, born of a physician, from a family of physicians and for a number of years has practiced one of the widest and best practices in the county. He is a close student and thoroughly abreast of the times.

It seems to us that the strong personality of these two gentlemen, their close friendship and the perfect harmony in which they work makes this combination all that could be desired, and as the editor is a warm friend of both these gentlemen wishes them great success in their new relations.
