LOCAL BREVITIES.

GATHERED BY OUR REPORTERS.

Short Items Dealing With the News of a Week.

—Mr. J. S. Brown is having his large prize house in West Oxford repaired.

—The roof is being put on the new shop building at the Oxford Orphan Asylum.

—Dr. E. T. White has greatly improved the appearance of his lot by new fences.

—We regret to learn of the sickness of Mr. S. H. Brown, and wish him a rapid recovery.

—The foundation for the large new residence of Ex-Judge A. W. Graham is about completed.

—Issac Wolf, a rich Chicagoan, will feed 10,000 poor children to-day, Thanksgiving Day, in that city.

—Mr. L. B. Turner is strictly in the builders' supply business as he has just received 3 car loads of lumber and shingles.

On Monday Sevensala will put a man to sleep in one of the store windows and will have a blindfold ride in the afternoon.

—We have not heard a word said lately about Oxford's greatest need—a New Hotel. Don't all the moneyed men speak at once.

—The painting of the residence and fences of Mr. C. D. Ray have been completed and presents quite an attractive appearance.

—Last Saturday afternoon a large deer was seen bounding through East Oxford and several boys increased his speed by a few shots.

—Roger White, of the Southern Railroad, is assisting Mr. S. H. Brown at the depot, and his friends are glad to see him again in Oxford.

—Some nice displays are being made of Holiday goods by our merchants, among them are J. G. Hall, T. W. Jackson, J. F. Edwards and C. H. Landis.

—There was another large break of tobacco Friday and prices continue to go higher. Pungo section of Vance county was again well represented at the Owen Warehouse led by Mr. Irwin Green.

—If you have not done so call and see Mr. Wallace White, and exceedingly clever gentleman who has become one of Oxford's business men. You will find him in the old Hunt store next door to Landis & Easton's.

—Indeed it is a pleasure to us to say that most of the sidewalks in town have been put in good condition by the present excellent town government, and no doubt receives the warm thanks of the citizens.

—Thirty-four women occupied the pulpits of thirty-four churches at Fort Worth, Texas, on Sunday. They represented the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and did not "keep silent in the churches."

—A number of young people enjoyed a most delightful German Friday night at the Armory Hall. Some 10 or 12 couples participated and danced until 1 p. m. It was an impromptu affair and the evening proved a pleasant one.

—Mr. W. D. Hicks, of Sassafras Fork Township, was in Oxford Tuesday with a load of tobacco and brought along with him two of the largest turkeys we ever saw, they weighed 18 pounds and were of the purple top variety.

—It goes in Durham that B. F. Kronheimer is one of the best merchants that ever struck the city, and when you go there shopping be sure and call on him as he is a regular bargain dispenser. Read change in his advertisement.

—Rev. A. McCullen, who has so faithfully and satisfactorily served the Methodist congregation in Oxford, will leave for Conference at Wilson next Tuesday, and we trust the Bishop will again consent to let him remain in Oxford another year.

—The first contribution received at Raleigh by the newly appointed treasurer of the Sir Walter Raleigh monument fund was $11, sent by Col. John W. Gordon, of Richmond, who pledged himself to give 5 cents for each child in the Oxford Orphan Asylum, where there are 220.

—Mr. W. D. Lynch has greatly improved the interior of his jewelry store by having it repaired and repainted. He is well prepared for the Holiday trade, as he has just received an elaborate line of all kinds of jewelry, watches, chains silver ware, etc., and get your choice before they are all picked over.

—Rev. A. D. Betts, one of the oldest Apostles in Methodist Conference occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church Sunday morning and preached a tender and feeling sermon to the joy of the congregation. He was pastor of the church 32 years ago, and but few of the members remember him.

—Owing to the sickness of Mr. Paul Collins, Superintendent of Oxford Cotton Mills, at his home in Hillsboro, President J. G. Hall has had hands full during the past week looking after and having the machinery placed in the mills. We trust Mr. Collins will soon recover, and be with us again.

—Chief Wheeler's street force is now busy putting in order upper Spring street leading out to the old Hunt homestead. The street is being straightened and sidewalks put in good condition. We are glad to see this needed improvement going on as there are quite a number of fine building lots on the upper portion of the street.

—The precious little Benjamin, 11 months old son of Mr. H. G. Duke fell on sleep Thursday and his spirit joined his mother in the Upper and Better Kingdom. The funeral took place Friday evening conducted by Rev. A. McCullen, and the interment was in Elmwood Cemetery. We extend deep sympathy to the bereaved father in the hour of great sorrow.

Headcenter of High Prices.

—Oxford has become a great tobacco market and the weed continues to pour in not only from Granville, but Person, Durham, Vance and Franklin counties. High prices and kind treatment will bring the farmers every time. They deserve every cent they can get for their tobacco, and Oxford's liberal buyers are always willing to pay it.

Death of Mrs. Dr. Williams' Father.

—Mr. W. H. Peters, one of the oldest and greatly beloved citizens of Portsmouth, Va., and father of Mrs. Dr. J. B. Williams, died in that city Sunday at the advanced age of 86. Mrs. Williams was by his bedside a number of days before he was gathered to rest. The Public Ledger joins in extending sympathy to the bereaved family.

Another Rural Mail Route.

—Glad to say that we will have another rural delivery route from Oxford after the first of January so our efficient postmaster informs us. The route will be from Oxford by way of Carlton, Watkins and Dement, and will supply 120 families with mail. The route will be about 20 miles long and prove a great convenience to the people of this section.

Woodman of the World Oyster Supper.

—The Oyster Supper for the benefit of Woodman of the World Tuesday evening proved a delightful success, and committee request us to warmly thank the ladies for their assistance as well as those who attended. The vote on the prettiest young lady resulted in favor of Miss Louise Buchanan, and for the most popular young lady resulted in favor of Miss Jessie Hogobood. Some $20 net was realized.

Give Your Friends a Picture.

—Mr. J. D. Brinkley, the up-to-date photographer, is now ready to furnish you with handsome photographs to give your friends as a holiday present. He has in Mr. James Parker, a splendid assistant for the Holiday rush and now is the time to call and have your picture taken. He also has in stock a beautiful line of pictures suitable for gifts to your friends. Read his advertisement and call and see him.

Same old Story.

—It is an undisputed fact that some people are noted for having extreme gall, especially those who are really able to subscribe to the Public Ledger. One of our subscribers informs us that five of his neighbors read his copy of the paper every week, sending for it sometimes before he has a chance to read it. If this is not unadmitted cheek we do not know what to call it, but it is that of the noted government nels.

Made Him Drop the Chickens.

—Last Thursday night a thief entered the pantry of Mr. R. T. Smith, which on the end of his back porch, and stole a lot of provisions. The thief, it seems, was not satisfied with taking the provisions, but came back and raided the hen house. Mr. Smith heard him this time and jumped out of the bed and ran out in the back yard, and was so close behind the thief that he dropped the hens and escaped.

The Place to Buy Your Holiday Goods.

Watch out and don't neglect to call at the old reliable J. G. Hall's and select your Holiday gifts as he has the most extensive line of goods brought to Oxford to select from. He has almost everything you want for the dear tiny tot up to your sweetheart, parents, sisters, brothers, uncles, aunts and cousins. The goods are now on display and you are invited to call and view the beautiful array and behold old Santa Clause in all his glory. Read his advertisement.

At Rest in Zion.

—Rev. R. S. Webb, who is well known by many of the older residents of Southern Granville, died in Greensboro last Wednesday. He was in charge of the Greensboro circuit and among the oldest ministers in the Methodist Conference. He was a brother of Mr. James H. Webb, of Sten, and a Chaplain in the Confederate army. Verily a most faithful worker in the vineyard of the Lord has passed "Beyond the smiling and the weeping" and joined the "royal army" of the Father.

Remember the Orphans Today.

We all love to honor him who was the first great advocate of the orphan cause in North Carolina and one who, for so many years, gave his heart and life in its behalf. We cannot better perpetuate his name than by cherishing that cause for which he lived. The orphanages of the State have increased in numbers within the past few years and each one is trying to receive more children than in the preceding year. Can we better show our gratitude to God for His many mercies to us than by a liberal donation to these His little ones, on Thanksgiving Day?

The Colored Graded School.

We are pleased to learn that the Colored Graded School under the management of Rev. Walter Pattillo is in a flourishing condition as the percentage of attendance is exceedingly good. Superintendent of Public Instructions Buchanan visited the school a few days and congratulated the Principal upon the admirable manner in which the school was conducted. Prof. Harding, the very able Superintendent of the Oxford Graded Schools, who is a constant visitor to this school expresses himself as much pleased with the management.

—The editor is glad to say that he was in error in stating that his esteemed friend, Mr. Walter Stradley, had decided to locate in Oklahoma City, and hope he will return to his native town and make it his home and devote his fine talent to upbuilding of Oxford.

—L. B. Turner has a nice line of flooring, ceiling, and heart fencing, for sale. Nov. 14th, 4t.

THE GATTIS-KILGO TRIAL AGAIN.

Commenced Monday Afternoon—The Jury and Counsel on Both Sides.

The noted and unfortunate and now famous Gattis-Kilgo suit set for re-trial this term of the Court by a decision of the Supreme Court came up last Thursday, but by agreement of counsel it was postponed until Monday morning at 11:30 when it came up for trial before the able and fearless Judge Shaw. The plaintiff asked that the trial be postponed until next term of court as one of the principal witnesses (Mr. Umstead) could not attend, but defendants objected, and finally agreed to admit all the evidence given by witness Umstead at the former trial, while the plaintiff agreed to and the trial commenced. The following jurors after a few hours were chosen to try the case: Herbert Gregory, Erastus Mitchell, William Daniel, J. W. Strother, R. S. Royster, William R. Curdin, R. M. Hogan, J. H. Hunt, Forest Hamme, J. D. Williams, Robt D. Royster, and M. D. Crews. Out of the jurors called and rejected 11 expressed themselves in favor of Mr. Gattis and four for Kilgo. The jury is composed of 5 Methodists, 4 Baptists and 2 Episcopals. With the exception of Mr. R. D. Royster, who is one of Oxford's clever merchants, all the jurors are farmers.

There are not so many witnesses and visitor in attendance as at the former trial. The attorneys for the plaintiff who are present are: Maj. Wm. A. Guthrie, Judge A. W. Graham, Mr. J. Crawford Biggs, Mr. A. A. Hicks and S. M. Gattis. The attorneys for the defendants present are: Judge W. W. Winston, Gen. B. S. Royster, Messrs. F. L. Fuller and T. T. Hicks, Messrs. Cyrus Watson, Gov. Aycock, R. O. Burton, and Messrs. Montgomery and Boone, who were attorneys in the former trial are not here. Dr. Kilgo was here Monday, but has left Mr. Odell and Mr. Duke are both absent.

The trial will probably consume about all the week, as it seems to be progressing very slowly. The examination of plaintiff Gattis had not been concluded up to Tuesday night. Judge Shaw is presiding with his usual dignity and ability. We believe his rulings in this case are generally commended.

DEPUTY SHERIFF BLACKLEY GUILTY.

Fined $500 and Cost for Allowing T. S. Rogers to Escape and Removed from Office.

The trial on last Friday of Mr. F. M. Blackley, constable from Brassfield township, charged with permitting the escape of T. S. Rogers, a fugitive, who was charged with the rape of Miss Myrtle Harris on August 9th, resulted in his conviction. The judgment of the court was that the defendant Blackley be fined $500 and be discharged from office.

The evidence against Blackley was very conclusive. The evidence showed that Blackley was ordered by the magistrate's Court to commit Rogers to jail, but instead of doing this he took him into the woods in an open field and there Rogers was freed. Soon after he was released he was seen by the evidence to the Court was clear that he connived at and consented to his escape, allowing the prisoner while in his custody to retain a pistol on his person. His Honor ruled that Blackley's own evidence, if true, convicted him and instructed the jury if they believed him to return a verdict of guilty, which they did in ten minutes after retiring.

The result of this trial should be a forcible warning to other officers of the law and should teach a lesson which some officers all over the country much need. The oath which an officer of the law takes is a very solemn one, and his trust is a solemn one, and he is bound to aid or connive at the escape of a prisoner, or negligently allow him to escape is a very grave crime. Certainly the judgment of the Court was a just one. Personally we have no criticism to make of Mr. Blackley. We know him and like him, and his father, who is numbered among the best men in the county, is a special friend of ours, and we are sorry of the unfortunate occurrence which happened.

But as we have said it should be a warning to other officers. The sacred mandates of the law must be revered and enforced at all costs regardless of personal feelings. The attempt of the legislative department of our government to enact laws and of the judiciary to construe them is of no avail if the executive arm of the government is to be weakened by incompetent or unreliable officers. Without their aid the other departments of the government are powerless.

Since Mr. Blackley has gotten into this trouble we take it he will have the financial aid of his friends. We suppose that since he has sacrificed all for them they will stand by him. His particular, however, we express no opinion in the matter.

Lecture of the Gifted Henry Blount.

A fairly good house greeted the gifted Colonel Henry Blount at his double lecture, "Hip Van Winkle and Solon Shingle," at the Opera House last Friday evening. Colonel Blount spoke for over two hours and a half. The entire audience were charmed with the lecture and were often convulsed with laughter. As a mimic and impersonator Colonel Blount is among the best we have ever heard of or vivid imaginer, his rhetorical and eloquent outbursts of oratory his equal is hard to find. On him Mercury seems to have bestowed her best gifts.

At one moment his audience is moved almost to tears with his descriptions of pathos; at other they are convulsed with laughter. Few lecturers possess in a greater degree the dual power of both amusing and moving the feelings of their hearers.

The lecture was in every way a signal success. We hope Col. Blount may come to Oxford again. It was a great pleasure to the editor to meet him while in Oxford.

North Carolina Grown Rapidly.

The Census preliminary report of the manufacturing industries of the North States shows a total capital of $76,508,894, an increase of 133 per cent during the decade; number of establishments 8,216, an increase of 97 per cent; average number of wage earners 70,570; total wages $13,828,430, cost of material used $55,072,368, an increase of 132 per cent; value of products including custom work and repairing $94,916,663, an increase of 135 per cent.

Moral Obligation to Observe It.

Today is Thanksgiving and it is well for us to remember that we have a moral obligation to perform. Of late years the day has been turned into one of ordinary feasting, with no other meaning than that of joy and merriment. To a certain limit that is right, but it will be well for the people of this country to follow the lead of the churches in organizing special services and encourage them by your attendance upon the services. The setting aside of one day out of the year as a time for the giving of thanks for special mercies granted by the Creator is an example that all nations by the youngest of them all.

The Editor Kindly Remembered.

We take this method of expressing our thanks to some of our leading warehousemen, who being friends to the editor, and feeling appreciative of his efforts to build up Oxford tobacco market (as well as every other interest which pertains to Oxford's welfare) have seen fit to give substantial expression to the same by sending us a large fat turkey for Thanksgiving. Such an expression is always better than simply kind thoughts about the editor while the Creator is an example that all nations by the youngest of them all.

We especially appreciate this because our friends do not so often remember us as formerly. They seem to have imagined that this custom has gone out of style. We would remind them that this kind of "ware" is staple and never out of style.

The Children's Friend.

You'll have a cold this winter. Maybe you have one now. Your children will suffer too. For coughs, croup, bronchitis, grip and other winter complaints. One Minute Cough Cure never fails. Acts promptly. It is very pleasant in the taste and perfectly harmless. C. B. George, Winchester, Ky., writes our little girls attacked with croup late one night and was so hoarse she could hardly speak. We gave her a few doses of One Minute Cough Cure. It relieved her immediately and she went to sleep. When she awoke next morning she had no signs of hoarseness or croup." J. G. Hall.

GRANVILLE SUPERIOR COURT.

Result of Criminal Docket—Judge Shaw and Solicitor Brooks.

Since our last issue court proceedings have continued uninterrupted. A great many criminal cases have been disposed of, none of them, however, being of very special importance with the exception of the Blackley case. Granville county owes Judge Shaw a debt of gratitude for his work in bringing the trial to justice. If he could come to our county several times more it would be of great benefit to the county and would rid the county of so much criminality. If all the Judges were as careful as he in this respect, there would be fewer criminals in our county.

Solicitor Brooks is also an enemy to evil doers. In him Judge Shaw has had an excellent help-mate in bringing to justice violators of the law. Few districts can boast of so good a Solicitor as Mr. Brooks. He knows neither friend nor foe, nor is he influenced by fear or favor in discharge of his professional duties.

The following is the disposition of the criminal cases on docket this session:

State vs. John Allen, enticing servant, guilty; fined $25 and cost.

State vs. B. Vandergriff, enticing hand; not guilty.

State vs. Lafayette Cash, retailing liquor without license, plead guilty; fined $57.50 and cost.

State vs. S. C. Lyon, failure to return capital stock, plead guilty; judgement suspended on payment of cost.

State vs. John Taylor, a. w. d. w. guilty; judgement suspended on payment of cost $38.75.

State vs. Frank Maddra, a. w. d. w. plead guilty; fined $40 and cost.

State vs. Archer Sneed, larceny, guilty; judgement suspended on payment of cost. If cost not paid goes to the road.

State vs. Wm. Roberson, larceny, guilty; 6 months on roads in Durham county.

State vs. Hughly Cozart and Alex Strahl, w. d. w. guilty; as to Stovall judgement suspended.

State vs. Martha Lassiter larceny guilty, judgement suspended.

State vs. Theodore Parker, a. w. d. w. submitts, fined $20 and cost.

State vs. Shep Walker and Anna Kinsbury, l. and c. guilty; Walker 8 months and Kingsbury 5 months on Durham county roads.

State vs. John Rounton and Frank Wyche, assault, guilty; Rounton 8 months on Durham county roads, Wyche $100 fine and cost.

State vs. John B. Watson, assault, guilty; $25 fine and cost.

State vs. T. S. Rogers, rape, true bill, instantia capias issued.

State vs. Herbert Omery, assault, guilty; six months on public road.

State vs. Harriet Howell, larceny, guilty; 4 months on public roads.

State vs. George Herndon larceny, plead guilty; 8 months on roads.

State vs. R. G. Elliott and Will Fleming—Fleming plead guilty; fined $10 and half cost.

State vs. Braxton Bragg for the murder of Walter Green; true bill, capias for him.

State vs. F. M. Blackley, escape of T. S. Rogers, guilty; judgement that Constable Blackley be removed from office and permitted to exercise the duties and to pay a fine of $500 and cost. Notice of appeal; bond $750 to be approved by the clerk. Mr. Blackley gave the bond.
