Short Items Dealing With the News of a Week.

—On with the dance!

—On with the Oxford & Coast Line Railroad!

How did you keep your Lenten resolutions?

—Long Bros. are having their fronts of their Stores repainted.

—Pleased to note the continued improvement of Col. Roger Gregory.

—Mr. J. F. Edwards is digging a cellar under his new storage house.

—Mr. Z. W. Lyon is riding around now in a new Taylor-Cannady Buggy.

—Col. W. B. Ballou is adding a room to his residence on Gilliam street.

—Mrs. W. A. Devlin is out after several days sickness to the joy of her friends.

—Mr. J. G. Hall has put in two handsome show cases in his drug store.

—Hamilton's Drug Store has become quite a popular resort with our young men.

—Col. H. G. Cooper has added two rooms to the rear of his residence on Homer Heights.

—Our young friend, Mr. Wm. H. Harrison, who has been sick for two days, is at his office.

—Your attention is called to the administrator's notice of Wm. E. Yancey in another column.

—Ex-Judge Graham has commenced the erection of three cottages for rent on upper Spring street.

—Mr. John Paris, who was numbered with the sick from Saturday until Tuesday, is at his store.

—It is with much pleasure that we learn that Miss Mary Curran has so far recovered as to leave her room.

—Mr. J. F. Edwards is having the roof of his storage house painted and Prof. Eugene Lewellyn is doing the work.

—Mr. Will Minor, one of our brightest young men, has accepted a position in the National Bank of Oxford.

—Hello! Town Dads, how about electric lights now? Turn on the current and give us light on the subject.

—The young ladies of the Oxford Seminary gave a reception Monday night from 8 to 10 which proved a most delightful affair.

—Mr. C. A. Carroll has moved back to the home of Mr. J. L. Ferguson, and Mr. J. Y. Paris will occupy the Stedman residence on Penn Avenue.

—The up-to-date Druggist, Mr. R. L. Hamilton, has a change of advertisement this week, and you will find it greatly to your interest to read it.

—The Granville Grays, under command of Capt. W. A. Devlin, will leave Monday for the Charleston Exposition, and we wish them bon voyage.

—Mr. Charley Bryan, the excellent salesman for the Taylor-Cannady Buggy Co., sold a large number of buggies the past week to the local trade.

—The Colonel asked the Judge, which is worse to play polka at 25c a corner or to play dominoes while waiting for a telegram from the Stock Exchange?

—Parham Bros. Co. we are pleased to learn are doing a fine business in Oxford as they sell everything and their store is thronged daily with real bargain hunters.

—For Sale—Barred Plymouth Rocks eggs at $1 per 13 all guaranteed fresh. Also a lot of White Wyandott chickens, pullets and cockerel for sale. Apply at this office.

—Rev. F. W. Hilliard will hold service and preach in St. Peter's church, Stovall, on Sunday next, April 6th at 11:15 o'clock a.m. All persons are cordially invited to attend.

—Sunday morning was a beautiful one, and our churches enjoyed large congregations of Easter worshippers. At St. Stephens church the services were of an impressive character, and the collection for the new church amounted to $400.

—Talking about smart dogs during the snow Mr. J. M. Phipps, who lives near Oxford and was in town Monday, informed us that he had a pointer dog which went out during the late snow and brought in a rabbit for each meal. Who can beat that?

—Jessie, the intelligent little daughter of Mrs. Callis, died Monday morning at 10 o'clock after several days illness with typhoid fever. The deepest sympathies of our people go out to the broken hearted mother in the loss of her darling little daughter. The burial took place Tuesday.

—The afternoon train from Keyville now arrives in Oxford at 3:25 o'clock instead of 3:05, and the train from Henderson arrives at 3:15 instead of 1:40. By this last change it will enable people arriving in Henderson over the Seaboard Road from the North to make connection for Oxford instead of coming to Dickerson and driving through the country.

COTTON FACTORY STARTS UP.

The Editor's Hopes are at Last Realized and the Machinery Begins to Hum.

There is nothing over which the editor—and we believe all Oxford with us—feels so proud as over the successful establishment of the Cotton Mills. The establishment of this important enterprise has been one of our hobbies for a number of years, and advocated its establishment in season and out of season if such it can be called. Now that it is established and the hum of machinery is heard on the hill we can but feel a just pride in it.

Its energetic President, Mr. John G. Hall, has devoted about 2 years of his best energies to its establishment, and we congratulate him upon the erection of one of the best plants in the State. He is a safe, capable business man whose name is always a synonym for success. To his untiring efforts is no doubt due the successful launching of this great enterprise.

Now that the mill is built and has commenced operations we hope that everything will be done which possibly can be done for its continued success, and that every means will be used to make the factory a source of profit to the town as a large number of our business men are stockholders.

Under the wise direction of its capable President, and the wise management of its Superintendent, Mr. E. W. Worth, whom we learn is a man of successful experience in his line and a pleasant and intelligent gentleman, we see no reason why it should not be a signal success.

The Public Ledger is not narrow minded like some people we know of, and is in favor of everything that in the least tends to build up our town and the sooner those who prefer to patronage out-of-town people come to the same conclusion the better off we will all be, and decidedly more rapid progress the town will make and every encouragement possible should be accorded every enterprise. If you do not foster and encourage home industries who will?

By way encouragement and help to cotton mill and the town we wish to call the attention of our Town Commissioners to a much needed improvement. We think they should have the left side of the sidewalk on Hillsboro street, leading out to the Cotton Mills and to town limits, put in first-class order. The street has already been macadamized to the Foundry branch, and if the town will put the sidewalk in good order to the corporation line the Factory will take the work up from that point and make a walk to the Cotton Mill.

The mill will pay out to the hands about $500 per week or some $24,000 per year, most of which will be spent by the operatives among the business men of Oxford. It is to the interest of the town to provide for the convenience of these people. Besides receiving this patronage from the Factory the town should do what it can for the convenience and help of the factory people.

This is an important matter and we trust our Town Commissioners will carefully consider it at once and decide to act upon our suggestion.

Easter Monday at Bank's.

The annual Easter Celebration at Bank's Chapel, near Wilton, proved a grand success in every way, we are informed. There was a large crowd present and excelled all previous celebrations. It actually drew away from his home Prof. W. H. P. Jenkins, who has not been heard from since the Legislature adjourned. Rev. J. H. Shore, the able and popular pastor, delivered a very fine address, which we hear complimented very highly.

Another Murder for Granville.

Coroner Alf Hobgood received a telegram Tuesday morning stating that a murder had occurred Monday night at or near Virginia, over the line in Granville. Mr. Hobgood left about 12 o'clock, and could not reach the scene of the murder until about night as he had to drive about 23 miles. Up to the hour of going to press we have received no particulars of the murder, and do not know whether it is a white or a black man that was killed.

Drug Journal for Atlanta.

The Constitution of the 24th says: The Southern Drug Journal will soon make its appearance in Atlanta and arrangements are being made for the first issue. The paper will be devoted to matters of interest to the drug business. Francis B. Hays, a native of North Carolina, is the editor. Mr. Hays was connected with the Druggist Circular, of New York, for 11 years and has had others experience on New York drug journals. He was at one time a retail druggist. Mr. Hays arrived in the city Friday.

Arrested for Forgery.

Sergeant W. G. Crabtree, of the police force, arrested a negro by the name of Dunesey Taylor, a few days ago on a warrant from Creedmoor, Granville county, charging him with forgery. The prisoner was taken back a day or so ago and was sent over to Granville superior court under a bond of $100, which he could not give and was committed to Oxford jail. The prisoner is charged with having forged an order to get a money order belonging to a neighbor.—Durham Herald March 28th.

Four Virginians Made Happy.

Mr. Andrew Palmer and Miss Estelle Glascock, of Halifax county, Va., arrived in Oxford Thursday afternoon and that evening were made man and wife at the home of Mr. Len Pitchford in South Oxford, Rev. J. S. Hardaway officiating. The happy couple left next morning for their Virginia home.

On Tuesday evening there was another happy marriage at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Len Pitchford when two more Virginians entered into double blessedness. The contracting parties were Mr. Paul J. Adams, a prominent young merchant at Randolph, Va., and Miss Sallie F. Palmer, daughter of Dr. Palmer, of Charlotte county, who was accompanied by her sister Miss Addie. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. S. Hardaway. The happy couple returned to their home at Randolph Wednesday morning.

Payment of Poll Tax—Important to all White Men!

ON THE WING.

The present Election Law provides that all persons liable for poll tax, before being entitled to Register and Vote, must have paid such poll tax before the first day of May of the year in which they offer to register and vote. This provision of the law has been construed by eminent lawyers to apply to the Election to be held this year. In view of this fact it is a matter of great importance to ALL WHITE MEN to pay their poll tax at once. It has been suggested to me that this question is being agitated for the purpose of enabling the Sheriff to collect the taxes more promptly, but this is not true.

Let it not be said of ANY WHITE MAN of Granville that he was unable to register and vote because of his failure to pay poll tax. Leaders of the Republican party are actively engaged in the work of urging its voters to pay their poll tax at once, and I most earnestly urge every White Man, who is liable for poll tax and who has not paid the same, to see the Sheriff or his deputy at once and pay up. To delay in this matter may mean a great deal to all of us. "White Supremacy" and good government are ours and we should continue to enjoy these blessings. The Election this falls a most important one and I wish every WHITE MANTO BE ABLE TO VOTE.

Very truly,
B. S. ROYSTER,
Chairman Democratic Executive Committee of Granville County.

Death of Mrs. J. T. Hart.

The editor extends his warmest sympathy to his friend, Mr. J. T. Hart, of Oak Hill, township, in the loss of the companion of his bosom, which sad event occurred on Saturday last. Her death was not unexpected as she had been suffering about three years with consumption. She was the sister of Messrs. John and A. G. Elliott, of Durham, and was greatly beloved for her many admirable traits of character. She was a true member of the Mountain Creek Baptist church, a devoted wife and affectionate mother, and leaves a grief-stricken husband, 5 children and two brothers to mourn her demise.

Easter Monday in Oxford.

Was a regular cold March day with high winds and plenty of dust. The streets were crowded with visitors, many of whom come to do their spring shopping. The manufacturing industries, postoffice, schools and banks closed.

In the afternoon there was a game of baseball at Horner Park between the Horner team and Trinity High School, the score standing 13 to 3 in favor of the Durham boys.

Our colored citizens were deeply interested in a game of ball between a Henderson team composed of men and the Mary Potter School boys. They put up a good fight, but were defeated by a score of 4 to 7.

Some of our tobacco men went out to Soudan and caught a nice lot of fish and were enthusiastic over their day's sport.

Glad to See Him Nearly Well and In Oxford at Long Bros.

We are very glad to see Mr. Will Jones in Oxford again and gratified to learn that he has nearly recovered from his recent severe attack of appendicitis and resumed his duties with Messrs. Long Brothers on Main St. His case was a critical one and his recovery is a compliment to great skill of Drs. Hays & Booth, who so successfully performed a very difficult operation on him for appendicitis. Their success along this line and other extreme cases have won for them a very enviable reputation in the successful treatment of appendicitis and other dangerous diseases.

The High Cost of Living.

The increase of the cost of living which has been brought home this winter in a particular way to every household, and to that other partner in household management who supplies the something to eat, affects the people of the entire country. It is a subject for remark in the newspapers everywhere. It is stated that meats and provisions have not been so high in many years, and there is no indication of lower prices until another crop is made. The Oxford people are fully aware of the additional cost of living in the face of a poorly supplied market.

To the Masons and People of Oxford.

The singing class from the Oxford Orphan Asylum will give a concert in the Opera House Friday evening 8:30 o'clock. This notice we are sure is all that will be necessary to elicit your interest and bring out a large audience to encourage the children and aid in the good work. All Masons will esteem it a privilege to avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing the orphans, and this notice is given by the officers of the Lodge in order that the matter may be brought fully to their attention.
