

Finishing Touch

is Experience. And the more experience he has the more finished is his education. So it is in the drug business, and years of experience added to a thorough knowledge of Pharmacy, makes a druggist more and more proficient, and in the same proportion add to the safety and accuracy with which Physicians Prescriptions and Domestic Recipes are compounded.

Our Prescription department is always in charge of Pharmacists made competent by a thorough knowledge of pharmacy, and years of experience.

Our stock of Patent Medicines is complete, but if don't happen to have what you want we'll get it for you. Phone us or send an order. We deliver goods promptly to any part of Oxford.

HARNESS REPAIRING

is only a little less important than harness selling. In both departments we do our utmost to give entire satisfaction to our customers. The quality of the goods we sell is equalled by the high quality of the workmanship in all jobs done here. And our prices are adjusted on a fair basis. You'll consider them low. LOCAL BREVITIES.

GATHERED BY OUR REPORTERS.

Short Items Dealing With the News of a Week.

—Charity is beauty of the soul.
—Heartache is the worst kind of ache.
—The man with the hoe is getting his work in.
—Coppage & Johnson have put up a new awning.
—How about a Chair Factory for Oxford and a new hotel?
—Mr. J. M. Currlin is having his residence on High street repainted.
—The usual spring rush of work for house painters has begun.

—Read notice of J. G. Hunt, Clerk of the Court, in another column.
—Col. R. O. Gregory is still confined to his home on account of his fall.

—The heart of a man in love is about the consistency of rhubarb pie.

—Mr. J. D. Bullock will soon complete another cottage on Broad street.

—They say that a ghost will never haunt a person who has laid his hands on a corpse.

—Some improvements are being made by Dr. B. K. Hays to the old Hays homestead.

—Mr. R. P. Taylor is refurnishing his splendid home with handsome mahogany furniture.

—Work on the handsome residence of ex-Judge Graham is progressing nicely since the weather settled.

—Just imagine what a dreary world this would be if Adam had died with all his ribs in his body!

—Presiding Elder, Dr. J. T. Gibbs, held quarterly meeting in Oxford Sunday at the Methodist church.

—Don't say he "drank himself to death." Simply say that "he liberated his spirit with a corkscrew."

—Your attention is called to the advertisement of sale of land by G. B. Harris, Trustee, in another column.

—Large quantities of fertilizer has been hauled out of Oxford the past week and we predict a large tobacco crop.

—The Public Ledger continues to grow in the hearts of the people as its subscription list is still on the increase.

—Mrs. A. W. Graham is now delivering milk to her customers in a new wagon made by Taylor-Cannady Buggy Co.

—Mr. J. M. Currlin has one of the finest thoroughbred horses that has been on our streets in many years. He is a beauty.

—Misses Maud Parham and Lena Taylor, and Mr. Mott Pinnix, who have been quite sick, we are pleased to learn, are much better.

—Our Furniture Factory is in a prosperous condition and large quantities of their excellent furniture is being shipped daily.

—It is the secret ambition of every woman who gets married to have all the other women say: "Her husband fairly worships her."

—Superintendent Behlen informs us that the Taylor-Cannady Buggy Co. are now getting out some swell buggies, of superior workmanship and finish.

—If you wish choice meals and comfortable rooms why all you have to do is to stop at the exchange Hotel. This is the verdict of all who stop there.

—Mr. Luther Burchett and Mrs. Flora Freeman were quietly married Sunday afternoon at the residence of Mr. J. W. Brown, Squire J. K. Wood, officiating.

—The ladies of St. Stephen's church will give a supper from 5 to 10:30 p. m. for the benefit of the church at the home of Prof. J. C. Horner on Thursday, 24th of April.

—The stores are fairly teeming with beautiful Spring goods, and if you wish to know where to find them read through the advertising columns of the Public Ledger.

A neat residence for Superintendent E. W. Worth is being built near the Cotton Mills, and will soon be completed. This fine mill is now working more than 50 hands.

—How about that Poll tax? Remember, if you do not pay it before the first of May it means no vote next fall. This is the law, so why not pay it today?

—The past week has proved a good one for the local buggy business. The Taylor-Cannady Buggy Co. sold 9 in two days, so their fine salesman, Mr. Charly Bryan, informs us.

—Saturday afternoon a buggy fell against one of the large windows of the Gibbs store occupied by Parham Bros. Co. and demolished it. A new glass was ordered at once.

—If men had what their wives thought was coming to them, half of them would be in jail and the other half would be millionaires.

—Ransom Cannady, one of the oldest citizens of Oxford, died on Monday at the advanced age of 90 years. He was a good man and a worthy citizen. Peace to his ashes.

—Oxford is now forcibly feeling the effects of the beef trust, as beef has gone up on the Oxford market. Our people will have to do what they are now doing in all the cities—eat less beef.

—The man who does not treat his own womankind with politeness and consideration is never really good-mannered, even though he take an infinity of trouble to hide the fact to the outside world.

—The Oxford Graded School ball nine and the Henderson Graded School team played a game in Oxford Saturday and the score stood 14 to 10 in favor of Oxford. Come over again boys, as you may be able to defeat our fine team next time.

—We are informed that we were in error last week in saying that Coroner Hobgood had been unable to bring any criminal to justice during his incumbency in office. He has turned three over to the officers of the law, and we gladly make the correction.

The merchant who thinks he can succeed in this advanced age without advertising makes a mistake. The failure of a majority of business men is due to their failure to invest money in newspaper space. Successful business men find it one of the best paying investments made.

—Mr. Coley Gill, was in Oxford Friday and informed us that we were mistaken in saying that he was an applicant for the postmastership at Stovall in place of Mr. W. K. Jenkins, and we take pleasure in making the correction. This looks like there has been "much to do about nothing."

—The public is cordially invited to the closing exercises of the Carolina Normal Institute, at Dabney, on May the 2nd, 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. It is expected that President McIver, of the State Normal, will make an address in the morning. There will be declamations, recitals, songs, etc., both morning and evening.

—Mr. N. H. Fleming, of Hester, had on display in Oxford Monday and Tuesday the splendid Disk Cultivator for working all crops that grow in rows at one stroke. It is just the thing to save labor for an up-to-date farmer, especially as the old class of labor is playing out and become too tired to work. Those who are judges say its work well and with ease.

GRADED SCHOOL LIBRARY.

It is a Thing of Reality and Must be Encouraged.

Our Graded School Library appears to be something of a Banquo's Ghost—it will not down. In this respect only, however, is it like that distinguished spirit, for the school library is decidedly not a creature of the fancy and imagination, but a thing of life and reality. We had the pleasure of a visit to the library a day or two ago, and were much pleased to find a good start made.

The following books are to be found on the shelves, and a glance at the list will at once show that the range is broad and the class represented the very highest:

Quentin Durward, The Talsman, Waverley, Anne of Gelestein, The Betrothed, The Highland Window, The Heart of Midlothian, Ivanhoe, by Sir Walter Scott; The Deerslayer, Pioneers, Last of the Mohicans, Prairie, James Fenimore Cooper; Last days of Pompeii, Harold, Last of the Saxon Kings, Bulwer Lytton; Black Beauty, Anne Seawell; Life of Daniel Boone; Short History of the English People, Greene; Talks about India, Rowen's; Epochs of American History (3 vols.); The Colonies, R. G. Thwaites; Formation of the Union, Albert B. Hart; Division and Re-union, Woodrow Wilson; True Stories from Modern History; Lines of Famous Men; History of Germany; American Inventions and Inventors, Mowry; History of William the Conqueror, History of Alexander the Great, History of Peter the Great, History of Julius Caesar, History of Romulus, History of Alfred the Great, History of Richard I, History of Mary Queen of Scots, Abbott; Adventures of Henry M. Stanley; The Water Babies, Chas. Kingsley; Lancelot and Elaine, Tennyson; The Princess; Tennyson's Poetical Works, 2 copies; Burns' Poetical Works; Bryant's Poetical Works; Longfellow's Poetical Works; Holme's Poetical Works; Palgrave's Golden Treasury of English Songs and Verses; King Richard III, Merchant of Venice (2 copies), Macbeth, Julius Caesar, Shakespeare; Lay of the Last Minstrel, Scott; The Songs of Hiawatha, Longfellow; Henry Timrod's Poems, Gems from the Poets, The Prisoner of Chillon, Byron; History of American Literature, Brander Matthews; Southern Literature; Mornings in Florence, John Ruskin; Air of Redcliffe, Charlotte Yonge; Tom Brown's School Days, Thomas Hughes; Mill on the Floss, George Elliott; Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea, Jules Verne; The Gray and the Blue, E. R. Roe; D'Roi, and I, Irving Bachelier; Tanglewood Tales, Nathaniel Hawthorne; The Silence of Dean Maitland, Maxwell Gray; Robinson Crusoe, Defoe; With Lee in Virginia, With Wolf in Canada, G. A. Henty; Swiss Family Robinson (3 copies); The Conscript, Alexander Dumas; The Wonder Book, Nathaniel Hawthorne; The Pilot, James F. Cooper; Hans Anderson's Stories (3 copies); Poems and Tales, Edgar Allan Poe; Aesop's Fables, Christmas Stories, Charles Dickens; Dicken's Complete Works, 13 vols; Rabble Saunderson, Jan Maclaren; Dr. Jekel and Mr. Hyde, Treasure Island, R. L. Stevenson; Sesame and Lilies, John Ruskin; The Snow Image, Hawthorne; Gulliver's Travels, Swift; The Encyclopaedic Dictionary (4 vols); North Carolina and Its Resources; Educational Report of North Carolina 1897-1900; The World's Wonders; The Poets and Poetry of America; Zig Zag Journeys in Classic Lands; Famous Literature of England and America; Life of Gen. Robert E. Lee (3 copies); Geographical Reader, Carpenter; Patriotic Selections from American Literature.

The school owes this collection of more than 100 hundred good books to the interest and zeal of the pupils and a few of the friends of the school. Some of the books are just from the publishers, the purchase money being that collected by subscription by Dr. Thomas L. Booth. The others are gifts of which special mention should be made of the Encyclopaedic Dictionary, a very valuable reference book of four large volumes bound in leather, presented by Dr. Thomas L. Booth; and of the complete set of Dicken's novels presented by Mr. Crawford Cooper. The school as well as the general public, for a movement of this kind results in good for all, is under many obligations for the interest and good work shown by these and other friends.

It is to be hoped that the work will not stop here. The interest of the pupils has been aroused, the school authorities are anxious to continue the work, the books have already begun to stimulate zeal in studies. We are assured by Superintendent Connor that every effort will be made to continue the growth of the library until one worthy of the school and of the town is at the command of every child in Oxford.
