We trust that we may be able to interest the above parties on their arrival and stand ready to furnish our proportion of the necessary capital for the undertaking. LOUIS DE LACROIX, April 28th, 1902. When the gentlemen referred to above by Mr. de Lacroix come to Oxford we hope they may receive every encouragement from our people. No town ever needed a good hotel more. It would certainly mean a great deal for Oxford's future. We hope and believe when the gentlemen reach our town that they may be pleased. We flatter ourselves that most people are who come within Should they fully decide, which we think they will, to invest $20,000 in a Mrs. J. H. Daniel, near Cannady's Hotel in Oxford we feel sure our people will raise the other ten thousand; in fact four thousand of this is already assured. With this excellent offer from outside parties surely our people will not fail to appreciate it and to raise the amount needed additional. The object is, so we learn, to build an up-to-date and well equipped and well appointed hotel and make an effort to make Oxford a winter resort No place is better suited for -Mr. B. F.
