Story of Local Events.

* Moving Pictures of a Weeks Happenings.

—Cool and dry.
—How about new hotel?
—Don't fall to clean up your lots.
—Oxford has been quiet since the commencements.

—Good-hye chickens as the preachers are within our gates.
—Oxford is getting to be one of the prettiest towns in the State.
—Harrisburg bridge has been well repaired by Mr. Sam Wheeler.

—Read administrator's notice of A. S. Lyon in another column.
—There seems to be no rush of candidates for the county offices.
—All of Oxford's manufacturing enterprises are doing a good business.

—Don't forget to list your taxes, as the list-takers are ready to serve you.
—When a man resigns himself to fate his resignation is always accepted.
—Let the wave of paint continue to roll in Oxford as it is a town beautifier.

—Mr. S. W. Parker has enclosed his residence on High street with a nice new fence.
—Are you throwing any obstacles in the way of building of the new railroad?
—Mrs. Fred Curran, of Enon section, who has been sick several weeks, is some better.

—The front of Odd Fellows' Block presents a decided neat appearance with its new coat of paint.
—The many friends of Mrs. Caroline Osborn will be glad to learn of her recovery from a two weeks sickness.

—Mrs. Julia Minor and daughter, Miss Eva, who have been numbered with the sick, continues to improve.
—Durham, Davidson and Randolph counties endorse Judge Clark. Break the news gently to Fab Busbee, Page & Co.

—Strangers can now find the post-office as Postmaster Peace has had signs put on each of the front windows.
—The attention of our readers is called to the administrators' notice of Mrs. Virginia T. Meadows in another column.

—Mr. Josh King, one of the pleasant clerks at Long Brothers, has recovered from a week's sickness and is on a visit to his old home in Halifax county.
—We have heard a large number of farmers express themselves in favor of the renomination of Judge A. W. Graham for the Legislature if he will consent to run again.

—Tobacco flues have commenced to go out to town, as farmers have commenced to get ready to cure the growing crop, but unless we have rain soon it will be cut short.
—A thing to avoid is the habit of going up stairs, as most women do, bent forward, with the chest contracted, which, as well as being an indolent, careless manner of walking, is injurious to the heart and lungs.

—Put your ear close to the ground and you will hear of a "Democrat" training himself to run as an independent candidate for the Legislature in the interest of Senator Pritchard. Watch out for him as he will bob up soon.
—It seems that some few people in Oxford are so blind that they are not really aware that there is a paper published in the town. If they can get anything published in the Ledger they are serenely happy.

—General B. S. Royster is pulling down his residence and will put it up on the old Baptist church lot which he owns. He will soon commence the erection of a handsome residence on his beautiful lot on the corner of Front and Raleigh streets.
—James Kavanagh, who died in Watertown, Mass., a few days ago, aged 112 years, had been a tobacco user for a hundred years, and also indulged in stimulating beverages, to which habits some attribute his premature death.

—A pretty wedding was witnessed Wednesday in the Presbyterian church at Graham. Mr. Nathan M. Lawrence, Jr., of Smithfield, was married to Miss Lida Vestal of Graham. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. C. Murray, D. D.
—Col. W. J. Hicks, the greatly beloved Superintendent of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, who was quite ill last week, is much better to the joy of the orphans and host of friends in Oxford and throughout the State as well as his family who had gathered at his bedside.

THE EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Consecration of Episcopal Church.

Woman's Auxiliary and Bretherhood of Saint Andrews, Programs, Etc.

The Diocesan Convention of the Episcopal Church for the central part of the State convened in Oxford with St. Stephen's Church yesterday, and we extend to each delegate and visitor a cordial welcome to our town. This is one of the most notable religious bodies which ever assembled in Oxford, composed as it is of an able ministry and strong churches. The Convention will last for several days, and is an important one in which all plans of church will be discussed. We gladly welcome this great body to Oxford, and trust their stay may be profitable to us and quicken the religious life of the town, and be exceedingly pleasant to them. We feel confident that the presence of so able and consecrated a body of men and women can but be an inspiration and help to the people and the churches of the town.
The annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary, the noble band of Church workers of the Diocese, meets with the Convention today. This is one of the most earnest, consecrated and cullured ladies associations for church work in our State, and will be a special feature of the Convention. Miss Mary Horner, of Oxford, one who ranks among the highly cultured ladies of our grand old State, is the very efficient Secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary. She has for many years been a leader in the Auxiliary and other church work, and liberal with her means. She has been one of the most zealous and efficient lady members of the Oxford church. She is possessed of the tact and earnestness which is so necessary in such work, and has exerted a telling influence in her church as well as in the Diocese.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrews, also meets with the Convention on Friday, the program of which appears elsewhere. This is the seventh annual convention of this excellent organization for church work and comprises the territory of the Carolinas. The discussions will be of especial interest to the church and to all those interested in church work.
We notice that one meeting will be held in the Opera House Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, which will prove of great interest to those who attend, and we trust our people may turn out in full force. They will certainly be amply repaid as some noted speakers will deliver addresses.

The beautiful new brownstone St. Stephen's Church, which has just been fully completed, was dedicated this Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. The services were very impressive. Bishop Cheshire, Rectors of the different Parishes, and the vestrymen entered the church in a body. The regular consecration services, led by Bishop Cheshire, followed next, which were impressively performed. The beautiful new church was thoroughly filled and the closest interest was manifested by all present. After the consecration was concluded Rev. Dr. Murdoch preached from 1 Chron. 17, Chapter, 1 verse. The sermon was on the Establishment and Growth of the Christian church, and was well delivered. The sermon produced a great impression on those who heard it. During its delivery the large congregation gave the most earnest attention.
The music for both services was delightfully rendered. The choir sang some beautifully selections, Miss Nina Horner presided at the organ with her usual ease and rare skill. All the services held so far have been largely attended, and have been greatly enjoyed by the people of the town.

The building of this church was a large task for the congregation to undertake, but it was a labor of love and was undertaken and finished seemingly without great effort. The church, with its noble band of heroic workers, is to be warmly congratulated upon the completion of such a lovely edifice. The whole congregation, but especially the consecrated women of the church, deserve unbounded praise for sacrificing efforts they have made. The ladies, always the leaders in every good work, have, by every laudible service which they could think of, raised money to complete this exceedingly handsome church. No nobler band of church workers ever blessed any community than the good ladies of St. Stephen's Church. The editor rejoices with them that they now see the fruition of their mutual hopes—the completion and dedication of their new church.
The ministrations of the Rev. R. B. Owens, the present beloved Rector of the church, have been highly gratifying to the members of the church. He took charge of the church in December, 1897, and since that time St. Stephen's has advanced both in numbers and efficiency. In all respects one of the best Rectors the church has had, in piety, in earnestness and in tact, which is so essential for the successful pastor. He is a genial, kind-hearted gentleman who has a strong hold on the affections of the people of the town irrespective of denomination. He is still a young man, and we trust, has many years of usefulness ahead of him.

Our people, regardless of denominations, are entertaining the ministers and delegates and others in attendance, and are making effort possible for their comfort and pleasure while they are within our gates.
Bishop Cheshire is presiding. The number of the regular representatives of the churches exceed 120.
The following sketch of the church has been kindly prepared for us by the Rector:
St. Stephen's church was founded in the early days of the 18th century when Oxford scarcely deserved the name of a village. Just when the first service was held it is impossible to say. In a report to the convention of 1821, which met in Williamsboro, Rev. Thomas Wright says he "had visited and preached at Oxford." Rev. Wm. Hooper, Professor of Languages at Chapel Hill also reported that he had officiated at Oxford once. In 1822 Rev. Wm. Mercer Green, afterwards Bishop of Mississippi, held services here once a month. He was the first "minister in charge" of the congregation. Bishop Perry, the Historian of the American church, says of him, "Few more saintly men have adorned the annals of the Episcopate than Bishop Green. His life was a benediction."
St. Stephens church was admitted into union with the convention in 1823, and Mark M. Herndon was the delegate.
In the spring of 1832 steps were taken to build a church. Messrs. Robt. Kyle, Jas. A. Russell, and R. Kingsbury were the building committee. A lot was purchased, and a church erected, the corner stone being laid by Bishop Ives, Nov. 27, 1832, and the church consecrated April 20, 1833. Rev. Wm. Show had charge of the church at that time.
The following is a list of the Rectors and Ministers in charge:
Thos. Wright, 1821; Wm. Hooper, 1821; Wm. Show, December, 1822 and October, 1833; T. S. W. Mott, January, 1834-July, 1836; Wm. Thurston, April, 1838-1840; Lewis Taylor, July, 1841-March, 1844; Edwin Geel, February, 1845-December, 1848; J. J. Ridley, January, 1849-October, 1853; Robt. B. Sutton, September, 1854-1858; E. W. Gilliam, July, 1859-1863; M. H. Calhoun, December, 1863-1865; M. H. Vaughan, August, 1863-June, 1870; P. D. Thompson, February, 1871-July, 1874; M. H. Vaughan, November, 1875-August, 1882; F. L. Bush, 1882-1884; Jas. Baird, D. D., 1884-1884; J. Y. Gholson, D. D., 1884-1885; L. W. Rose, December, 1885-1887; W. W.

Walker, January, 1888-November, 1892; Edward Benedict, May, 1893-January 1895; Jas. F. Plummer, July, 1895-December, 1897; R. B. Owens, December, 1897—

The bell was purchased 1881, the organ 1884. The old church repaired 1884, 1885.
The convention of the Diocese first met here in 1842, again in 1884, and now in 1893.

In 1888, Mr. Walker reports 145 communicants, the largest number the Parish has even had. But the next year he reports a loss of 30 and the next year, 1890, the number left is 96, a loss of 47 in two years. This was largely due to the removal of so many families from Oxford at that time.

It was while Mr. Walker was rector that steps were first taken to build a new church. Pledges were secured and a small building fund collected. In 1884 or 1885, during Mr. Benedict's rectorate, the corner lot was purchased, and a building committee consisting of Messrs. J. C. Horner, J. G. Hall, and R. W. Lassiter appointed. July 1895 work was begun on the foundation of the new church. The stone came from Sanford, Moore County. The story of the building of the new church is fresh in the minds of our readers and need not be repeated here.

The vestry and congregation resolved at the outset that the church should not be built with borrowed money, and when the finishing touches were given the building last week, the money to pay the bill was in the hands of the treasurer. But what self-denial and effort it means! How faithfully and willingly the whole congregation, building committee, vestry, ladies aid society, chancel guild and even the tiny "Juniors" have worked and given that they might build a noble edifice to the glory of God! Where all have done so well, it would be unwise to specialize. But we do think that the congregation owes a heavy debt of gratitude to the chairman of the Building Committee and former Senior Warden Mr. J. C. Horner for the energetic and efficient way in which he took hold of the work at its very beginning, and in spite of many difficulties and discouragements pushed it to completion, we need not say more.

The beautiful Tower of the church was erected by the Horner family as a Memorial to the late James H. Horner, M. A., LL. D., for years a vestryman and warden of the church, and is a fitting memorial to a great man of whom Oxford is proud.

The marble font is a memorial to his daughter, Gertrude The Lectern is a memorial to Mr. H. A. Taylor, for many years a vestryman and warden. The chairs are memorials, the one to Rev. Lewis Taylor, a former Rector, the other to Mr. Lewis Taylor.

The altar, the gift of the Chancel Guild, and the Credence, a memorial are the handwork of the Rector. The communion rail is the united gift of all the communicants of the Parish.

We had intended to mention the names of some of former communicants, men and women, who were leaders in every good work for God and man, but space forbids. It must suffice to say that from the feeble beginning of the church, to the present time, there have always been noble souls, many of them, whose feet were taught at St. Stephens to walk in the straight and narrow way. She has sent out two ministers, Rev. B. S. Lassiter and Right Rev. J. M. Horner, who are teaching others the lessons they learned from her. May she send others ere long.

May the church continue to be the power for good that it has ever been in the past.
