

NOMINATION FOR SENATOR.

At Ten Minutes to Ten O'clock one of the Cleanest Fights in the History of North Carolina Politics Ended.

Raleigh correspondent of Charlotte Observer of Jan. 29th says:

At 10 minutes to 10 to-night, Lee S. Overman, on the 61st ballot of the series and the fifth of the night received 72 of the 142 votes of the Democratic caucus and was declared its nominee. The excitement during the whole evening had been intense as the first ballot showed a gradual increase for Overman, and it was realized at last to which of the two Watson or Overman, Craig had decided to give the victory.

It has been the finest game and the closest one of high politics ever known in the State.

As soon as the election was announced by the chairman, Mr. Morton, Charles Webb Craig's manager, moved to make it unanimous. This was seconded by R. A. Doughton, who was Watson's foreman. On motion of Speaker the chair appointed Messrs. Webb, Gattis, Doughton, Murphy and Watts a committee to notify Mr. Overman of his nomination and escort him to the hall with an invitation to Craig and Watson. A mighty cheer went up when the candidates appeared and by a preconcerted signal, as Overman entered the hall, a snow-storm of Overman ballots, thrown from the galleries, covered the audience.

OVERMAN THANKS HIS CAUCUS.

Ascending the platform in front of the speaker's chair, as soon as the deafening applause had subsided, Mr. Overman said in substance:

"Would that I could give expression to the feelings of my heart. I can only say to you I am glad, that I am grateful, profoundly, deeply grateful. This has been a battle royal but a battle between Democrats. (Great applause.) With the exultation that comes with success there comes to me the sad reflection that two noble Democrats have been defeated. (Great Applause.) With the responsibilities that are upon me I feel gravely but it is my greatest am-

Rescued from Suffering and Death by

PAINE'S Celery Compound

THE GREAT MEDICINE.

MR. ALFRED BROWN,
A Prominent and Popular Citizen, Says:
"After the Use of Paine's Celery Compound,
I Am Now in the Best of Health."

The greatest of modern physicians, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., after years of long practice and close scientific study, gave to suffering and diseased men and women his marvelous, life giving prescription, with the conviction and positive knowledge that it had peculiar virtues and ample powers to cure.

Thousands of the strongest testimonials from the best known and most reliable men and women of our country fully sustain the claims made by Dr. Phelps regarding his incomparable Paine's Celery Compound.

One of the most convincing proofs furnished, comes recently from a gentleman widely known in the capital city of the Dominion of Canada. We refer to Mr. Alfred Brown, 91 O'Connor St., Ottawa, Ont. Mr. Brown's letter fully demonstrates the fact that the greatest sufferer may cast off his or her burden of disease and become well, strong, and happy. It proves, too, that the great medicine maintains more fully than ever before its unrivaled place in the estimation of people of wealth and social standing as well as with the masses.

Mr. Brown says:—
"I acknowledge with thankfulness and pleasure the fact that I have been cured of a very painful illness of eight years' standing by use of Paine's Celery Compound. I had, during the years of my illness, tried almost all the advertised medicines without deriving any good results. I was also treated by several of the best doctors of this city, hoping to find that one of them, at least, would understand my case.

"I was getting worse, and was told I was incurable. It was indeed in a critical condition. I could not rest from the house, alone, as I was liable to sudden collapse. I tried hospital treatment, but no relief or good results came to me. I could not sleep; anything that I ate increased my agonies; I was extremely weak, restless, tired, and dependent; was obliged to walk about with my hands pressed firmly into my side to ease my pains; my feet and hands were cold continually; had inclination to vomit, had profuse, cold sweats, quick breathing, and would be racked with pain for hours at a time.

After the regular use of Paine's Celery Compound for a time, I am now in the best of health, have good appetite, and can use any kind of food. Thank God I am my old self once more, all through the use of Paine's Celery Compound."

Notice

Take notice that application will be made to the General Assembly of North Carolina, now in session, to amend the charter of the town of Oxford, and for authority to hold an election to issue bonds for refunding the present town debt and in addition thereto to issue sufficient bonds to provide the town with a system of waterworks. S. W. MINOR, Mayor.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that application will be made to the General Assembly of North Carolina, session 1903, for the passage of an act to prohibit the manufacture or sale of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or any other substance, liquid or solid that produces or may produce intoxication, within three (3) miles of Fellowship Baptist church in the county of Granville. This, January 6, 1903.

bition to worthily bear them. With obligations to no corporation, no special interest and pledges to none that will conflict with my service, with the blessings of God, I shall devote myself to the best interests of all the people of my State and for my party, for which I have fought for the past 25 years. (Great applause.) Great questions are upon us; the very basal stone of the temple of this republic—equal rights to all, special privileges to no man or set of men—needs to be carefully protected to prevent the encroachments by the great trusts and other combinations that threaten the country with industrial servitude.

"God bless you all, my friend. For the gallant Watson and the great Craig I can but say they are noble in defeat as they have been in battle. (Great applause.)

WATSON SPEAKS LIKE A DEMOCRAT.

Mr. Watson said: "It was a great pleasure to me to appear before the audience. It is not the first time I have suffered defeat or been borne from the battlefield with wounds. As I have battled for the Democratic party and my country for the past 35 years, I shall continue to do so for my party and my country."

(Closing he said he was prouder tonight in defeat, having fought the great fight against corporate greed and encroachments of the great common people than to have won the victory, having failed in the least of any of these particulars. Mr. Watson concluded by saying he would never forget the friends who had stood so devotedly by him during the contest and for those on the other side he had no heartburnings. He only hoped they would hold up the hands of the gentleman they had entrusted with the highest office in their gift.

CRAG TAKES HIS DEFEAT MANFULLY.

Mr. Craig began by saying: "A soldier has lost his buckler, but there is no grief because a soldier has found it." (Great applause.) He said the disappointment to him was great, but there was great compensation in realizing that this honor had been conferred upon a true Democrat and as noble a son as the State counted and he will work and wear the mantle of the great Vance under whose portrait he is now sitting. (Great applause.) The Democratic party owes me nothing and owes no man anything and every service I have ever given it was due before it was given. (Great applause.) The great old Roman, Cyrus B. Watson, and I can continue to serve in the ranks and will help to hold up the hands of Lee S. Overman, who has been elected by the best Legislature ever assembled in the State. (Great applause.) I believe you have done what you believed to be for the good of the State and what you honestly thought would best build up your State and your party."

HON. LEE S. OVERMAN.

Hon. Lee S. Overman was born in Salisbury, January 3rd, 1854. In 1874 he entered Trinity College, Randolph county, and graduated in 1876. Upon the redemption of the State by Governor Vance in 1876, Mr. Overman, a brilliant young man, just out of college, was made private secretary to the great War Governor. In that position Mr. Overman made a friend of every man who called at the Executive Office, and formed many strong friendships. He devoted his nights to the study of the law and in 1878 was licensed to practice law. In 1879 he resigned as private secretary, returned to Salisbury where he entered at once upon a practice that has grown with every passing year. He now commands a clientele second to that of no practitioner, at a specially able bar. In 1886 he was elected a member of the House of Representatives from Rowan, and has been elected five different times to the House. He proved himself a safe and wise legislator, and his people have often called upon him to serve them. His record is without flaw. In 1893 he was elected Speaker of the House and proved one of the fittest men who has filled that high office in a quarter of a century. He is a splendid parliamentarian, has commanding presence and made a fine officer. He has held many positions of trusts and honor. He was director and afterwards president of the North Carolina Railroad under the administration of Governor CAMP.

At the session of the Legislature of 1895, the Democratic caucus nominated Mr. Overman as their candidate to succeed the lamented Vance in the United States Senate, and he received the vote of every Democrat for that high office. In 1900 Mr. Overman was the Democratic Presidential elector of the Southern Large. In that and in every other campaign since he attained his majority he made eloquent speeches for Democratic candidates. He is a Democrat without variableness or shadow of turning, and has been ready to serve his party in the ranks or in leadership. He is an eloquent and able campaigner; a successful and able lawyer; a popular and wise legislator of large experience; and is well equipped for the great office of United States Senator. Personally, Mr. Overman is a gentleman of high character, a popular and affable gentleman, and enjoys the confidence and esteem of the people of the whole State. He was married in his early manhood to Miss Mary Merrimon, daughter of the late United States Senator and Chief Justice Augustus S. Merrimon.

HOW NOMINATION OF MR. OVERMAN WAS ACCOMPLISHED.

A protracted contest usually ends a way different from what was anticipated. This proved the case in the fight for the United States Senatorship. Not that Mr. Overman's nomination was not predicted by as many as prophesied for the other candidates, but the way the nomination came was the surprise. Since the contest came well under way it has been thought that no nomination would result until Mr. Craig withdrew. The politicians and guessers have been figuring on what would happen when Mr. Craig got out of the race.

Yesterday Mr. Craig's supporters seemed steadfast and this led most people to think that there would be no nomination. Only three or four of Mr. Overman's closest friends felt confident that something would happen and this would be brought about not by Mr. Craig's withdrawal, but by broad into the apparently impregnable forces of Mr. Watson. The only indication that a nomination was coming was the confidential remark last evening of one or two who were not considered particularly strong for either candidate that the end was at hand. The first ballot stood Watson 64, Overman 61, Craig 19. The 38th began to show a change for Overman was 64, Watson 60 and Craig held 19, so three Watson men had gone to Overman and one had not voted. Then 59th stood Overman 66, Watson 60, Craig 19. The feature this time was the fact that five men had left Craig, and Watson had gained four and Overman two, one more vote being cast than on the previous ballot. The next ballot Craig held his own while Senator Brown and four others from Watson joined the Overman forces. The next ballot gave Overman the nomination which was made unanimous.

There are many estimates as to the cost of the Senatorial contest. The expense fell almost altogether on the candidates and some of their friends. For nearly a month they have been in Raleigh and of course have paid the hotel bills of some of their staunch supporters who were not able to stand this expense. The cost in its total must have been something like $5,000 or $6,000. There was not a whisper even of unfairness throughout the contest. —Raleigh Times.

DO YOU WANT FREE MAIL DELIVERY.

If so, Write Your Congressman About it, and Have Your Friends do the Same.

Senate Bill 909 provides for the extension of free mail delivery service to all towns and cities where the postoffice receipts are $5,000 or more or the population is 5,000 or more, in which class is your city. The bill passed the senate last June and is now in Congressman Loud's committee on postoffices and postroads. It will be reported out and become a law if all the congressmen who ought to be interested will insist on IMMEDIATE action so as to get the measure through the House prior to March 4, 1903, at which time Congress adjourns.

Some Excellent Speeches.

In the case of State vs. Lawrence Davis tried here Tuesday, there were some very excellent speeches made which we think deserve special mention. The case was assault with deadly weapon. The State was represented by Solicitor A. L. Brooks, Esq., and Frank S. Sprull, Esq., of Lenoir; the defendant by Messrs. Graham and Devin. The Solicitor as usual made a strong convincing speech for the State, in fact we might say much stronger than usual. Judge Graham made a logical speech for the defense, covering the entire evidence with much vigor and ability. Mr. Devin's speech for the defense was also a good one and was well received. Mr. Sprull for the prosecution made one of the best speeches we have ever heard. It was delivered in his most impressive manner and was very forceful indeed. We have long known that Mr. Sprull was one of the leading lawyers of the State, but in that fine speech he even surpassed himself. His style is clear, strong, and connected, and his speech contained the qualities which are characteristic of a great lawyer.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers; they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble. Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble. If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. Sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Our present bonded debt is $47,000 bearing 6 percent. interest. Let us fund this with bonds bearing 4 1/2 percent and add $18,000 for waterworks. The interest on the $65,000 will then be 2,925 00 to run the town and school. The entire amt. town orders for 1902, including graded school, was $4,825 00

Or only $105 more than we pay on the $47,000. After paying interest on bonds, we have 8,375 00

Deduct cost of oil lamps, 450 00

Add to school appropriation 500 00 4,875 00

We then have left, after paying interest on bonds, the expenses of the town and $1,500 to graded school, $3,500 00 to say nothing of a system of waterworks which will save to the taxpayers some $1,200 in insurance. But, we are without street lights—except as the moon or our lanterns may favor us. (We have to depend upon these good friends with our present street lights.)

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

AND ALL OF THIS WITHOUT A CENT OF EXTRA TAX.

Now the question arises: What shall we do with this extra $3,500? Some will say reduce the tax; others will say apply it to payment of bonded debt; still others will say work the streets; AND YET OTHERS WILL SAY HAVE GOOD LIGHTS AND WORK THE STREETS AND SIDEWALKS, TOO.

I am opposed to any increase in our tax rate. And yet it is wise, just a while longer and try to get out of the rut. When we get out the town will grow; there will be more property for taxation; more people to pay it, and we can then—and I trust not many years hence—reduce it 10 cents on the $100 and let it stay there. It is a good thing for the individual to get out of debt, and it may be for a municipal corporation, and we should strive to keep the debt as small as practicable with progress. But have you ever observed that the most progressive towns and cities never get out of debt? A man dies, and his estate must be settled; but the town, unless because of criminal neglect, like Tennyson's "Brook"—"goes on forever." That is perhaps the reason they never get out of debt—this generation works to make improvements for future generations to enjoy—and pay for; and so on with successive generations. There are a good many who favor the last proposition—have good lights and better streets and sidewalks. I take it that there are very few among us who are opposed to improvement and progress, provided it does not cost them anything extra. Improvement and progress are synonymous terms. I am not prepared to say, at this time, what good lights will cost. Instead, however, of the large, high arc light, it seems to me that about sixty "Inclosed" arc lights (like we have at the cotton mill) will give better results and cost no more than eighteen or twenty of the former. If that be true, then it will cost about $1,500 for lights—or only about $1,000 more than we are paying at present for next to nothing. This would leave us to work the streets and sidewalks—something sorely needed—about $2,000 in addition to what is spent each year at present—about $1,500. With about $3,500 judiciously spent for permanent improvements of streets and sidewalks each year for a few years will "open the eyes of the oldest inhabitants."

FACTS AND FIGURES.

They Show What Can be Done to Push Oxford Forward.

The man who has for his motto "work like the devil and never spend a cent" may, in the course of a long life, lay up a good estate but he does not make a good citizen or a good neighbor. The man who spends without a definite object in view and without judgment, will soon come to want. The best citizen and neighbor, the man whose life and works are a blessing to his race and generation, is the man who strikes the "happy mean" between the two. In helping others he helps himself, and in helping himself he helps others. When he buys a house either for himself, or for rent, he does not consider it good judgment to pocket all the rents and spend nothing for repairs. A few dollars each year paid to a carpenter, a good coat of paint when it will improve the appearance and preserve the building, not only runs up his rent roll and helps the carpenter and painter, but makes the property more desirable and valuable, and if he should desire to sell he can get back good interest, all that he has spent on it and a good profit on his investment. On the other hand the man who works his property for all it is worth and never feeds it, so to speak, will soon find it in the same condition that he would find his horse or cow if treated in the same manner. The man who works all the time "on a dead level" accomplishes little and soon grows old, and takes his place upon the shelf. A little energy, a little "push," a little of the spirit of progress makes the heart beat strong, it warms the blood, it gives new life, new hope, new strength.

What is true of the individual is equally true of the town—the town is but the aggregation of the individuals. A town that treats in the same old rut soon wears the rut into a hole—and then it is dead. What was sufficient ten years ago is not sufficient today. The rut grows larger by constant wear—it becomes a hole. Is Oxford in a rut, or is it in a hole? I think it only a rut.

It has been said that any man can make a good showing upon paper. It has also been said that "figures never lie." Both sayings are more or less true; but I think that the following figures are nearly accurate, and are conservative:

Total revenue of Oxford for year ending April, 1902, $8,400 00

Deduct liquor license, 600 00

$7,800 00

Add 75 per cent. net profits from dispensary, say 3,500 00

$11,300 00

Henderson Gold Leaf For Sale.

The Raleigh Post voices our sentiment in the following: "Desiring to go into another business our friend, Mr. Thad Manning, offers for sale his excellent newspaper and plant, the Henderson Gold Leaf. Mr. Manning says: "The plant is a good one, the equipment first-class, much of the material new. But the good will of the paper, now in its twenty-second year, is perhaps its most valuable asset. It has a good patronage, which is capable of development, and a fine opportunity is open to a wide-awake newspaper man. "Good reasons for wishing to make a change after more than twenty-one years continuous service in the newspaper business."

The retirement of Bro. Manning from the State press is a public misfortune. During his 20 years service he has merited as he enjoys the confidence of a community and public he has served conscientiously and well. The property is certainly valuable and if the right man gets it will find it profitable. It is located among as good people as this or any other State can boast.

F. Usry and quietly wended its way to the bedside of Mrs. Ellen Usry, his devoted wife, and claimed her as its victim a few days ago, saying thy temptations are forever at an end; come up and enjoy the eternal bliss forever. Mrs. Usry was 63 years old, and had been a consistent member of the Missionary Baptist church at Corinth for a good many years. Her death was of palsy and she had been confined to her bed about three weeks. From what the writer can learn she was possessed of many excellent traits of character, was a devoted wife, a tender, loving mother. She leaves a husband, one son and four daughters to mourn her death, to whom the writer extends sincere condolences. NASH.

LEGISLATURE.

In the House, Saturday, there was a discussion of a bill to require clothing for county convicts, convicted of a misdemeanor, to be different from that worn by felons and it was finally re-referred.

Bill to make drunkenness a misdemeanor with $10 fine for the first offense and $25 for each subsequent offense was lost, 6 to 28.

A bill was introduced to create a State Historical Commission.

Mr. Baldwin's bill decreases the tax on merchants, coal dealers, rent collectors and auctioneers and increases the tax on emigration agents from $2 to $20.

At the expiration of the morning hour, Friday, the Baldwin bill to allow all divorced persons to remarry came up on its third reading. Mr. Henderson said that he was satisfied that all the divorces in North Carolina granted for abandonment were unconstitutional and void because these legislative acts provided that divorces could be secured for the causes that occurred before the passage of the act. He believed that if a proper case was taken to the Supreme court that that court would so declare. He moved to amend the bill by repealing chapter 277, acts of 1895, and chapter 211, laws of 1899, which would take away abandonment as a cause for divorce. Mr. Baldwin said that he was opposed to divorces and was willing to the amendments. Senator Wellborn considered this entirely too important a matter to be tacked on this bill as a rider. Senator Baldwin favored the amendment to prevent divorces for abandonment and hoped the bill would pass as amended. The amendment repealing the acts giving abandonment as a ground for divorce after January, 1904, was adopted and the bill passed third reading.
