

CATARRH

The treatment of Catarrh with antiseptic and astringent washes, lotions, salves, medicated tobacco and cigarettes or any external or local application, is just as senseless as would be kindling a fire on top of the pot to make it boil. True, these give temporary relief, but the cavities and passages of the head and the bronchial tubes soon fill up again with mucus.

Taking cold is the first step towards Catarrh, for it checks perspiration, and the poisonous acids and vapors which should pass off through the skin, are thrown back upon the mucous membrane or inner skin, producing inflammation and excessive flow of mucus, much of which is absorbed into the blood, and through the circulation reaches every part of the system, involving the Stomach, Kidneys and other parts of the body. When the disease assumes the dry form, the breath becomes exceedingly foul, blinding headaches are frequent, the eyes red, hearing affected and a constant ringing in the ears. No remedy that does not reach the polluted blood can cure Catarrh. S. S. S. expels from the circulation all offensive matter, and when rich, pure blood is again coursing through the body the mucous membranes become healthy and the skin active, all the disagreeable, painful symptoms disappear, and a permanent, thorough cure is effected. S. S. S. being a strictly vegetable blood purifier does not derange the Stomach and digestion, but the appetite and general health rapidly improve under its tonic effects. Write us about your case and get the best medical advice free. Book on blood and skin diseases sent on application.

High-Grade Tobacco Guano,

Animal Bone and Potash Compound

In the manufacture of these brands, we have combined in available form the necessary elements for the growth of Tobacco and it has given such excellent results in all sections that our sales continue to increase year after year. The Potash in our Tobacco Guano, is obtained exclusively from High-Grade Sulphate of Potash, which is free from Chlorine, an element specially injurious to the Tobacco Plant, and found in all other forms of Potash except the "High-Grade Sulphate." The Ammonia is derived from the most available sources, and will give the plant quick growth.

At Nightfall.

I need so much the quiet of your love,
After the days loud strife;
I need your calm, all other things above,
After the stress of life.
I crave the heaven that in your heart lies,
After all toil is done;
I need the starshine of your heavenly eyes,
After the day's great sun!

LOVE REUNITED.

The strains of a dreamy waltz were filling the big ball-room when Gug Maxwell came to claim his partner. It was the beginning of the winter season in Southern California, and Hotel del Coronado was filled to overflowing with guests escaping from the cold Eastern winter. The dance was merely the ordinary Saturday evening one, but the floral decorations had the appearance of some large function.

Nether Maxwell nor his partner spoke, and before the music ceased he stopped rather abruptly, and saying: "Shall we go outside?" led her through the door on to the glass veranda which runs the whole length of the hotel on the side fronting the sea.

A sudden shudder on his part broke the spell that held them, and she turned suddenly toward him.

"It is strange that we should meet like this," he said, striving to keep the passionate longing out of his voice. "When we last danced together—do you remember?"

"I remember everything," she answered, softly. "It is two years ago now, isn't it?"

"Two years ago," he repeated, "and to me it seems a lifetime."

Sybil Delaunay shivered a little and her figure lost its haughty alertness.

"I—I hoped you had forgotten," she said tremulously.

He laughed bitterly. "I heard you had left New York, but no one seemed to know where you had gone."

"Yes, I left New York, gave up my profession and came here, as far away as I could get, my one desire being to escape from anything and everything that reminded me of you."

"You live here then?"

"Near here, in the mountains. I have a ranch."

"You are happy now; you have forgotten?" she almost whispered.

"I thought so until tonight. But when I saw you I knew that was hopeless; that all the flight, the striving to keep back the memories and

His Last Hope Realized.

[From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.]

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1890, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his traveling about and afterwards his coming upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. The one little bottle worked a complete cure, and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. All druggists.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century, discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., The Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

put you out of my life were in vain. You are and always will be the one woman in the world for me."

"Don't you think," she said, a new tone to her voice and speaking very slowly and softly, "that—if you had waited a little—had not been in such a hurry to get away—it might have been better? Women do not always know their own minds, you know."

Her voice was so low that he had to bend down to hear, and then he saw her face and a new light flashed into his own.

He put his hands on her shoulders and turning her around, forced her to meet his eyes.

"Do you mean it, Sybil? Oh, my darling, don't mislead me again; don't say it out of pity, or—"

For answer she leaned forward and kissed him on the forehead.

Still he held her away from him and continued in the same eager, passionate voice.

"You know what you are doing—you will come to me, live as a rancher's wife in the mountains, give up society and your work that was so much to you."

He waited breathlessly for her answer.

"For better or for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health, until—"

She got no further, for his arms were around her and her face was hidden on his shoulder.

The band still played, and the dancers whirled as they had done half an hour ago. Miss Delaunay's discarded partners searched anxiously for her, and finally and very wisely gave up the search and consoled themselves with less evasive attractions; the moon still shone brightly as ever and the waves rolled up and broke with their steady, monotonous sound, but for two people standing at the window the world had changed.

"NATURE'S BREW."

Buffalo Lithia Water Has Demonstrated Its Extraordinary Curative Power in The Treatment of Disease.

The value of mineral waters in the treatment of many diseases has long been recognized. In fact, many of these springs, located in different parts of the country, had been resorted to long before any analysis of the waters had been made.

Years ago people living in Mecklenburg county, Virginia, learned of the extraordinary curative power of the water from several springs situated in that part of the country known as the "Buffalo Hills," and it was but a short time after this when these waters became famous for their high per cent. of lithium salts.

No other mineral waters from any part of the world are more widely known or have higher medical endorsements than Buffalo Lithia Water. The many ailments and diseases for which it is valuable and the numerous cures that have been made by a liberal use of this water, is almost beyond belief.

Many of the most distinguished physicians in the world prescribe it in the treatment of rheumatism, gout, diabetes, brights disease, calculi, stone in the bladder, gall stones and all kindred diseases due to uric acid in the blood. It has also been found unusually effective in many diseases peculiar to women.

An interesting book, containing doctors reports of many cases and their cures by a free use of Buffalo Lithia Water, will be sent to any one by addressing the proprietor, Buffalo Lithia Springs, Virginia.

Resolutions of Respect.

To the Master, Wardens and Brethren Creedmoor Lodge No. 499, A. F. and A. M.:

We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions on the death of Bro. John C. Fuller, beg to report: Whereas, the allwise Master, in whose rulings there are no errors, has seen fit in His infinite wisdom to call from this to the Supreme Lodge above our brother, John C. Fuller, be it

Resolved, That our Lodge, Pleasant Grove church (of which he was a member) and the community in which he lived have lost an honest, conscientious member and citizen, his family a kind and affectionate husband who delighted in providing for the welfare and happiness of those dependent on him, his neighbors a friend and neighbor in its true sense.

That we submit to the will of Him who doeth all things well and point his family, our brethren and his friends to his God for comfort and consolation, taking knowledge of him in his patient suffering and anxiety to go; that there is happiness real and deep in trusting God.

That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our minutes, a copy sent to the family and a copy sent to the Orphans' Friend and Public Ledger with request that they print same.

Respectfully submitted,

PEDDLES SERMONS.

Clergyman Makes a Big Profit at Novel Syndicating Business.

An English clergyman makes a business of syndicating sermons," said a drummer who had just returned from London.

"How do you mean?" some one asked.

"Well," explained the drummer, "the clergyman writes a sermon, and then he prints about forty or fifty copies of it, and he offers to one preacher in each of forty or fifty towns the exclusive use in his own town of the production. The price of the sermon to each man is only 50 shillings, but if 15 or 20 men take it it brings to the syndicator, you see about 100 shillings. And since the sermons are so short that one can be done in a morning, that is pretty good pay. The syndicator advertises his sermons in a religious paper. The notice reads:

"A clergyman of experience and moderate views, who distinguished himself during his university course in divinity and English composition, will furnish original sermons, in strict accordance with the Church of England, in good print, at 5 shillings each. Only one copy will be given in any diocese. A specimen will be sent if wished for. Sermons made to order, on any required subject, on reasonable terms."—Philadelphia Record.
