In the Goldsboro Argus is seen a very complimentary notice of Col. A. C. Davis, who made such a splendid oration in this city on the public installation of officers, by the Masons. Col. Davis has been re-elected city attorney for Goldsboro, and the city ordinances codified by him were so complete that the board of aldermen of that city have no need of material changes in them this year. The Goldsboro Argus says: "And therein a higher compliment could not have been paid the professional ability and painstaking research of Col. A. C. Davis, city attorney, who has filled that responsible position for the past four years, and has again been re-elected for the ensuing two years. He has so classified and codified the city's ordinances and had them printed in such convenient shape that we doubt if there is another city in the south, or the country anywhere, that can show a more consistent, equable and intelligently codified system of municipal laws."-Kinston Free Press.

For the Purpose of Advertising During a Dull Season the Public Ledger will Give Valuable Prize

The rule of good advertisers is to advertise in dull seasons more than in the more lively times of the business year. The Public Ledger will follow this rule. It is the custom for our subscribers in most instances to pay in advance, while some of our old subscribers, who have been on the books for years, pay at the end of the year, and for the purpose of increasing our subscription list, the editor will give away one of the Taylor-Gannady Buggy Go.'s high-grade Top Buggies. The winner of the buggy will be allowed the privilege of having it made to order, which is better

The terms of the contest are exceedingly favorable. Read them carefully. Three hundred tickets will be printed and numbered, not a one more. One of these tickets will be given to each person for every dollar paid on subscription, whether in back or advance payment. The tickets will be numbered from 1 to 300. Duplicate tickets will be printed and numbered and one of these duplicates thus numbered will be drawn out and placed in the First National Bank of Oxford to be held till the contest closes. No person on earth will know what number this is, not even the man who deposits it in the bank, nor the editor of the Public Ledger. On the day when the contest closes the sealed envelope which contains this number will be opened, and the man who holds the duplicate will be given the buggy. We guarantee that the contest shall be perfectly fair and done as stated. No matter how great the demand, only 300 tickets will be given away. First come first served. Somebody is going to get a valuable new Taylor-Gannady top buggy free, and made of the best material. Tickets will be ready to give out Friday, June 26th, not before. Subscribers who cannot come may send their money and tickets will be sent them by return mail. Send a dollar bill in your letter and get credit for a year and by return mail get a ticket. Or better still, send a two dollar bill, get two years' subscription and two tickets. The more tickets you have the better are your chances for the buggy. J. T. BRITT,
