Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boese's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or child. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25¢; large size 75¢. At I. P. Stedman's.

HON. A. W. GRAHAM FOR SPEAKER.

Granville county urges the name of Hon. A. W. Graham who was recently nominated for the Legislature for speaker of the House, in the next Legislature. Judge Graham is eminently fitted—both by experience and temperament, for this high honor. He is an experienced and capable legislator, having served in the legislature for four or more terms, being a member of both the Senate and House from Orange before he moved to Granville and a member of the House twice from this county besides this term. He is by nature well qualified for the place. He is a good parliamentarian, a wise leader, a conservative, popular and distinguished citizen.

During the two past Legislatures Judge Graham was a notable figure in that body and few men wielded so great an influence as he. His record there is both clean and able. He is a strong fighter for what he conceives to be right and yet fair and conservative—a democrat without limitation or qualification. If elected to the speakership he would give eminent satisfaction to every member of the body.

Perhaps no man in the State knows more of men and of legislation or is better fitted to deal with the perplexing difficulties and intricate problems which best a speaker than he. Granville county has sought few offices and asked for few honors at the hands of the Democratic party, but she will be highly gratified at the selection of Judge Graham—one of her favorite sons—for Speaker of the House. Let him be elected and no mistake will be made!

OUR PRESENT DUTY.

To our friends and party workers in the great Democratic party we would say that the party's prospects for success were never brighter. The day is dawning! Our opportunity for party success—county, State and national—is before us: It is only for us to realize this and success is ours. Not since the first time Cleveland was nominated has the Democracy had such a chance. The country is sick and tired of Roosevelt and Rooseveltism. The people are afraid of him, the business men distrust him; the great conservative element cannot and will not endure him. He is dangerous, arbitrary—revolutionary. Democratic victory is in the air. We can only fail of success from apathy, want of work or overconfidence.

We have a strong, popular and winning State ticket. With R. B. Glenn in the lead and such an array of able supporters we are bound to win and by an increased majority. For the Democracy not to win in North Carolina would be nothing short of a calamity. It would be a great step backward materially, educationally and socially. We have had several samples of Radical rule in the State, and all of them have been disgusting, injurious and destructive to our common weal.

In Granville we have a strong ticket—one which will command a large following. Let us—one and all—put our shoulder to the wheel and thus insure its election by a greatly increased majority. We not only want to beat the enemy but we want to "snow them under" so bad that they will not dare to show their heads again. Most of us know what Radical rule has meant in Granville in the past and what it would mean again, were the happening of such a calamity possible. We will not soon forget the disgraced mongrel spectacles which greeted our eyes only a few years ago in our court house—sights which almost desecrated the hall of justice!

If there be such a thing as factionalism in Granville county let us wipe it out. If there be dissentions and differences let us bury them. Those who belong to any party cannot hope to get their wishes every time. They must give and take. Party allegiance means some sacrifice—it often means compromise. All of us cannot have our friends nominated to office. Only a few, comparatively, of our capable men can hold office. There are not enough offices to go round. But when our convention has spoken let us gladly acquiesce. Let us stand by our party and our candidates and all will be well.

Judge Parker's Address.

"As we have not the space to publish Judge Parker's address in full, we take the following remarks upon it from The Charlotte Observer of the 11th:

Judge Parker was yesterday formally notified that he had been nominated by the Democrats for President, and signified his acceptance of the trust imposed upon him in a speech which will be read with interest by men of all parties. As might have been expected, the nominee came out strongly against free trade and takes up the Colorado dynamite outrages as a text upon which to express his ideas. He is of opinion that in deporting miners who were thought to be guilty of participation in these instances of lawlessness a great wrong was done. He holds that the men should have been tried, and if found guilty, punished to the extent of the law, but instead the reign of law gave way to the reign of force in both the cases of the dynamiting and the deportation. Judge Parker calls attention to the injustice of the tariff laws, and also notes their connection with the trusts. While standing for a sufficient force to protect the citizen at home and abroad, he is opposed to great military armaments, "which may please the eye and for a moment excite the pride of the citizen, but cannot bring to the country the brains, brawn and muscle of a single immigrant." Judge Parker is opposed to the United States meddling in foreign affairs which do not concern this country or its citizens. In this connection he holds that "the most efficient work we can do in uplifting the people of other countries is by the presentation of a happy, prosperous, self-governing nation as an ideal to be emulated, a model to be followed." In all of which it is to be seen that the nominee is a true Democrat as different from Bryan and Bryanism as he is from Roosevelt and the so-called Republicanism. A notable assertion of the judge is, that if elected, he shall not be a candidate for nor accept a re-nomination.

His position with reference to the Philippine Islands is impregnable: "The accident of war brought the Philippines into our possession, and we are not at liberty to disregard the responsibility which thus came to us, but that responsibility will be best subserved by preparing the islanders as rapidly as possible for self-government and giving to them the assurances that it will come as soon as they are reasonably prepared for it." It is most regrettable that these islands ever fell to our lot, but they did, "and we are not at liberty to disregard the responsibility" which came with them. It was this country's first duty to sustain their people. It is not successive duties are to qualify them for self-government and leave them alone. He reaffirms his allegiance to the gold standard, and is very impressive in his declaration of the right of men to labor and to live where they please. Judge Parker's speech contains the opinion heretofore expressed in these columns—that the Democracy did well to nominate him, and the country will do equally well if it elects him President of the United States.

The Outlook.

Paraphrasing a timely editorial in the Concord Tribune—which is applicable to Oxford—it is noted that the fall season for trade will soon open up and there is abundance of reason for expecting a good trade. The merchants are passing through the usual dull season, which we have been hearing an end. The present summer we have been told, and we are prepared to believe it, has been a bit quieter than for several seasons, especially to many branches of business. Anticipating a good, substantial trade for fall the Oxford merchants will prepare for the large influx in a supply of goods as will meet the requirements of the county; and offering this supply at a small profit will expect a patronage with the general condition of things. The election should not frighten commerce or cause any uneasiness, regardless of anything to the contrary. The country is safe, and will land on its feet on a firm foundation after the November election. Prospects for a rousing crop are seen by all of us, and everything points to a good harvest. In Oxford and Granville county let us bear one another's burdens, and together work for the best interest of home and homefolks. Crops are good, trade prospects bright, a panic is nearest to us from the east and all told there is a good life in the old land. Read The Public Ledger, buy at home and stand steady for Oxford and Granville county.

Love the Babies.

Judge Cooke insists that he is not a nervous man but he doesn't like any sort of a disturbance about him. The court officers were instructed to oil the hinges of a creaking door and while charging the grand jury his honor stopped to say that there must be no talking in the bar while he was talking. Presently a baby began to cry and Deputy Sheriff Beson got up to ask its mother to take it out. "Oh, sit down!" said the court. "The babies don't disturb me. I've been used to 'em for 35 years and if the grown folks will behave I'll get along with the babies." "This is Judge Cooke's first visit to Statesville. He is a stocky built gentleman of ruddy complexion and looks not unlike a farmer.—Statesville Landmark.

Public Ledger Subscribers.

A Sewing Machine,
A 52-Piece Tea Set and
A Cook Stove with all Utensils.

We have decided to give away three prizes, to-wit: A Sewing Machine, a 52-Piece Tea Set and a Cook Stove with all utensils. It is the custom of our subscribers in most instances to pay in advance, while some of our old subscribers, who have been on the books for years, pay at the end of the year, and for the purpose of increasing our subscription list, the editor will give away the three prizes above mentioned. The terms of the contest are exceedingly favorable. Read them carefully. Six hundred tickets will be printed, not a one more. One of these tickets will be given to each person for every dollar paid on subscription, whether in back or advance payment.

The tickets will be numbered from 1 to 600. Duplicate tickets will be printed and numbered and three of these duplicates thus numbered will be drawn out (to be marked sewing machine, cook stove, tea set) and placed in bank, to be held until the contest closes. No person on earth will know what numbers these are, not even the man who deposits them in the bank, nor the editor of The Public Ledger. On the day when the contest closes the sealed envelopes which contain these numbers will be opened, and the persons who hold the duplicates will be given the prizes. We guarantee that the contest shall be perfectly fair and done as stated.

No matter how great the demand, only 600 tickets will be given away. First come first served. Somebody is going to get these valuable prizes free. Tickets will be ready to give out Saturday, June 25, not before. Subscribers who cannot come may send their money and tickets will be sent them by return mail. Send a dollar bill in your letter and get credit for a year and by return mail get a ticket. Or better still, send a two dollar bill, get two years' subscription and two tickets. The more tickets you have the better are your chances to win one of the prizes.

Try for Health

222 South Peoria St.,
Chicago, Ill., Oct. 7, 1902.
Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie or sit down nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could say as much offering if they but knew of its value.

Don't you want freedom from pain? Take Wine of Cardui and make one supreme effort to be well. You do not need to be a weak, helpless sufferer. You can have a woman's health and do a woman's work in life. Why not secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?

Wood's Seeds.

Crimson Clover

Sown at the last working of the Corn or Cotton Crop, can be plowed under the following April or May in time to plant corn or other crops the same season. Crimson Clover prevents winter leaching of the soil, is equal in fertilizing value to a good application of stable manure and will wonderfully increase the yield and quality of corn or other crops when followed. It also makes splendid winter and spring grazing, fine early green feed, or a good hay crop. Even if the crop is cut and the action of the roots and stubble improve the land to a marked degree.
