RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

seems gleaned from the Teachings of Jesus Christ. The right kind of faith is that which tempers the soul which submits to what God orders, but never submits to what God can make better—Rev. Dr. Theodore L. Cuyler, Congregationalist, Brooklyn.

A Privilege. We should never be satisfied with hoping that we are Christians, but as it is our privilege, it is likewise our duty to know that we are such.

A Great Miracle. The difficulties of unbelief are immeasurably greater than those of faith.

True Leader. We all know perfectly well what a true leader is. He is a man of ideas, a man who advocates a certain line of action, and he works through the press to increase humanity's happiness.

Dignity of Labor. Labor is an ordination of God, and the sweetest bread that any man or woman ever ate is that which was won by their own energy or deserved by their usefulness.

Touch of Personality. The moral quality of the human mind is always aggressive.

A Moral Obligation. There is a moral obligation in money. There is a moral obligation in one dollar.

Christ in Our Life. Christ is the life of all morality. Sometimes morality descends by inheritance unacknowledged.

NEW SHORT STORIES.

A Silk Hat Job. The late Beriah Wilkins, owner of the Washington Post, came to Washington as a member of congress and left a good many political friends in Ohio.

He was in his office one day several administrations ago when a very seedy administration came in.

Wilkins looked the man over and found he was a lawyer who had done him some service in Ohio.

They went to a barber shop where the man was shaved and had a hair cut and a bath.

Next morning Wilkins took his friend to the White House and introduced him to the president.

"I am," said the visitor. "All right," said the president, "I will make you chief justice of one of the territories."

"But—but—" stammered the surprised Ohio man. "Shut up!" commanded Wilkins, and the fellow subsided.

The appointment was made, and the man served out his term.

MALARIA AN INSIDIOUS FOE TO HEALTH.

Malaria is an atmospheric poison which we unconsciously breathe into our lungs through the impure air arising from low, marshy places, stagnant ponds, damp cellars, sewer pipes, improperly ventilated houses, decaying vegetable matter, etc.
