

DIAMONDS —An— HEARTS

Was the great attraction so successfully presented by our home talent on Monday night at the Opera House.

But purity, accuracy and promptness are among the many attractions which are presented daily at Hamilton's Drug Store. There is another great attraction now on hand at his store—a handsome red Rocking Chair is now waiting the call of the same lucky person holding coupon No. 775 or No. 6 or No. 1031 on blue coupons. Please look up your numbers and bring them in.

If you wish to wear diamond trade at Hamilton's and get the best. If your heart is right you will be sure to trade there and take advantage of his bargains.

Mr. Walter Stark has moved into his new residence on College Street before its completion as he had rented his old home to Mr. J. D. Brinkley.

Don't blow in your money. Our 2 banks in Oxford pay 4 per cent interest on deposits annually. Bank your earnings for the future, young man.

As Saturday and Sunday was ground hog weather the electric light failed to shed its brilliant rays and our people had to call in the services of the Standard Oil Co.

We want to know when you have friends in to eat "chicken dinner" or to visit you. It is such items of news that makes the local page of your paper interesting.

We suggest in connection with the Fire Department that more interest be taken in the Hook & Ladder Co. as we notice it has not appeared at a fire for some time. What is the matter?

Mr. John Booth has severed his connection with the Oxford Water & Electric Co., and accepted a position with the Granville Telephone Co., and will have charge of the erection of the lines.

Mr. Walter Johnson, who has charge of the Fire Wagon, has developed into a prompt and up-to-date driver, and the quick time made in answering an alarm of fire is due to his alertness.

Some time during Saturday night the glass of the front door to the store of Mr. L. F. Day, on Hillsboro Street, was broken and thieves entered and stole a few dollars in money, a watch and some goods.

Bishop John C. Granberry, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, died suddenly at his home in Ashland, Va., Monday while sitting in a chair. He was 76 years old and had been bishop since 1882.

Quite a number of the sidewalks in different parts of the town are being put in good condition. We call the attention of the Street Commissioner to the bad condition of the macadam on portion of College street.

The Tax Assessors appointed by the County Commissioners have an important duty to perform, and in all cases they should endeavor to be equal to the occasion. All property should be assessed for taxation on as uniform a basis as is possible.

There should be no factions in our town. There should be a mutual interest in the prosperity of our people. When we see indifference to the well-being of its citizens, we see a town all wise men shun. Success and failure are each a part of life and often those who have made the hardest fight are vanquished in the race.

Resignation of Mr. Niles.

The people of Oxford learn with deep regret the resignation of Mr. John A. Niles as manager of the Oxford Water & Electric Co. as they found in him a kind and obliging official. Mr. Niles took charge of the plant when it was first installed in Oxford, and hence has labored under many disadvantages which naturally arise from the installing of a new business. He had often to contend with inferior help, along with failure of the company to carry out their contract with the town. Under these circumstances it can be said that Mr. Niles did exceedingly well and our people are sorry to see this excellent gentleman sever his connection with the Company.

Dance at Horner School.

The dance Friday evening at Horner barracks, which had been anticipated with much pleasure by the cadets and young people of Oxford, proved a delightful occasion. About 25 couples participated in the figures of the dance which was led by Major Smith, with Miss Fannie Gregory. The chaperones were Mrs. J. C. Horner, Mrs. H. G. Cooper, Mrs. Clifton Robards and Mrs. S. W. Cooper. A Durham band furnished music.

The two companies of Horner School will go into encampment at Jamestown Exposition May 15 and remain ten days. Tents and floors will be furnished by the managers of the exposition and many courtesies will be extended the cadets. There will be no commencement exercises at the barracks this session on account of the encampment at Jamestown.
