Entered through Oxford, N. C., Post Office as mail matter of the second class, in accordance with the Act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

Every man gets mighty proud of his own voices when a clergyman goes wrong.

A curious thing about even the tallest of men having his leg constantly pulled is that it tends to make him a little short.

Gov. John Little, of Arkansas, who has been ill for sometime, is now insane and there is said to be small chance of his recovery.

A rumor is current on the streets of Raleigh that F. B. Arendell proposes to be a candidate for Congress in that district, now represented by E. W. Pou.

The New York legislature has passed a bill giving women school teachers the same pay men get. Mayor McClellan, of the city, had vetoed the measure.

When the 118 saloons and distilleries of Knoxville close up soon under the law voted recently, Asheville liquor men expect to do business with the Tennessee city.

Ex-Gov. Chas. B. Aycock will be retained by the state as one of a number of lawyers to appear for the state in the suit of the railroads to prevent the rate laws from going into effect.

The majority of the Congressional Committee investigating the Brownsville affair refuses to go to Brownsville, as there was sufficient proof to show that negro troops shot up town.

In the matter of establishing rural libraries, Wilkes county leads the whole state, having 73, and 23 more supplementary, and the purpose is to have one in every school district in the county.

In a suit last week against the city of Newbern, a man named White secured a verdict of $10,000 damages for injuries sustained by falling over a door step that projected out into the sidewalk, when the electric lights were not lighted.

A man in Montana refuses to work, and has been sitting around wasting his time because he believes the world was coming to an end May 13th. He will think 13 is unlucky when he goes back to work and finds out that the grass continued to grow while he was idle.

Speaking of Supt. Joyner and his work, Hon. S. A. Mynders, Supt. of Education in Tennessee, says "Joyner has done more effective work for the progress of education than any other State Superintendent in the Union. This fact is recognized by the State Superintendents of the entire South."

Harvey Smiley was killed on the Yakin railroad some months ago and his estate sued for $35,000 damage. In order to avoid the suit the Southern claimed that it did not own the road and the Yakin railroad company said it didn't own it, and so plaintiff has asked that the road be placed in the hands of a receiver if nobody owns it.

While the tax assessors are increasing the valuation to what it ought to be, they will of course, pay heed to numerous discriminations wherein one man pays on a higher valuation than another does on like property. The assessment all over the state is too low but there are some citizens everywhere who pay more than they ought to when compared with others.

Adam Frost, aged 127 years, is dead at his home at Cedar Springs, S. C., 4 miles from Spartanburg. Frost was perhaps the oldest man in the United States, certainly the oldest man in South Carolina. According to a record written in an old, worn and faded book by a man named Hunter, the old negro was born on Sullivan's Island, off Charleston, S. C., in the year 1789. Adam was formerly owned by the Draytons of Charleston, and later by the Frost family.

DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve does not merely heal on the service; it penetrates the pores and promptly relieves pain, caused by boils, burns, scalds, cuts and skin diseases. It is especially good for piles. Beware of imitations. Sold by J. G. Hall.

LETTER FROM MANILLA.

Major A. S. Lanier Writes About Tar Heels and Country.

Editor Public Ledger: It's a long call from Manila to Oxford, and the Ledger, which puts in its appearance at this port occasionally, is a welcome visitor from "over seas." The article in a recent issue which classed me with other Oxford boys who have achieved success out in the great world to the credit of a native town, was, indeed, gratifying to my vanity; but I fear the word "achieved", in connection with success, hardly applies to me. I am still in the race, and no laurel wreath yet adorns my spacious brow. I trust, however, that I have, at least, reflected no discredit upon the dear old town to which my mind often reverts midst the isolation and strangeness of the "Far East."

There are many Tar Heel out here, and I am glad to be able to report that they are doing well, as far as I know. H. P. Kingsbury and William Lassiter, both Oxford boys, are here; the former Colonel of the Eighth Cavalry, and the latter Major and Adjutant General of the Department of Luzon. I often see the Major and his charming wife, and have been the recipient of many courtesies at their hands. Willis Peace is up at Camp Stotsenberg, a first lieutenant of artillery. He has a very pretty and charming little wife, who but recently presented him with a bouncing baby, which, to the best of my recollection, is a girl. Mr. Tatum, the Electrician of the city of Manila, is a Durham boy. We have here a North Carolina society of thirty or forty members. The first squadron of the U. S. Asiatic Fleet, composed of the West Virginia, Colorado, Pennsylvania and Maryland, is now lying at anchor in the bay. Many of the officers are Tar Heels, especially aboard the Pennsylvania. I have received many courtesies from them. They are all worthy representatives of the Old North State.

While we exiles miss home and the dear ones there, life here is not altogether without its attractions and compensations. We are just ending a season which, for charm of weather, is probably unsurpassed anywhere in the world. It is just about like the beginning of fall at home. We have, of course, longer spells of hot weather than you have in the States, but it is tempered by the sea breezes and the long rainy season.

Three seasons are usually recognized—a cold, a hot and a wet. The first extends from November to February or March; the winds are northerly, and, though there is no need for fire, woolen garments can be worn with comfort in the mornings; the sky is for the most part clear and the atmosphere bracing. This is, of course, the most enjoyable period of the year. The hot season lasts from March to June, and the heat becomes very oppressive before the beginning of the southerly monsoon. Thunderstorms, often of violence, are of frequent occurrence in May and June. The wet season is usually ushered in by heavy rains. During July, August, September and October, the rains comes down in torrents, and large tracts of the lower country are flooded. However, I have never seen it as warm here as it sometimes gets at home.

Manila, situated on the island of Luzon, is a most interesting city, with a cosmopolitan population of about 350,000. Here one rubs shoulders with men from India's coral strands and Africa's sunny shores, from every land and clime where man is wont to live.

From an historic point of view no city in the world presents a greater or more varied assortment of interesting things; but to appreciate them one must be able to look beneath the surface with an observant eye, and a sympathetic understanding. Here are churches, convents, schools, and fortifications built long before the the North American continent was settled by the white man, or the American government came into being. These old churches, bearing the marks of time and hoary with age, speak pathetically of the centuries long gone by, and of the soldier and saint who sleep in undisturbed repose within their sacred precincts. They are profoundly impressive in the magnitude of their external proportions, and their interiors are splendid in their spaciousness, and the brilliancy of their decorations. Standing within their walls amidst "the dim religious light," which pervades, with a softness all its own, altars, alcoves and lofty naves, there is a feeling akin to awe, and one seems to breathe the spirit of departed ages.

These churches, convents, hospitals and institutions of learning bear eloquent testimony to the courage, fortitude and sacrifice of those early missionaries of the Cross, who came to bring the glad tidings of salvation to this people. Whatever one's opinions of the Roman Catholic Church, the beneficence and far reaching influence of its work here for good is bound to be conceded. It found these people heathen, it made them nominally Christians—the only Christian people among the Orientals. While it is unfortunately true that representatives of the church here have at periods appeared to forget their mission, and to lose sight of their high and holy calling, nevertheless, the church remains an abiding influence for good, and of tremendous import in the lives of the people.

Around the old city the walls still stand, in a remarkable state of preservation, as if defying the ravages of time and nature. Three hundred years or more ago they were built to afford defense and protection against the incursions and attacks of Chinese and Moro pirates. If they could but speak, many are the tales of daring deeds, and desperate attack and defense they might unfold, and how many the tragedies that lie buried in their dungeons keep. On that spot where once the political prisoner faced the Spanish soldiery, and mingled his blood with the native land, the grass grows green, and we hear the voices of children at their play, signifying that old things have passed away forever, and a new order of freedom and justice reigneth here.

Manila is situated up on a bay of the same name, circular in form and about thirty miles in diameter. The island of Corregidor, forming two narrow channels, guards the entrance to the bay. It was through one of these that Dewey came with his fleet under cover of darkness the night before the memorable morning on which he smashed the Spanish fleet, and devolved upon the United States the tremendous responsibilities that confront us here. The city is girted about by beautiful range of mountains, which in the distance are not unlike the Blue Ridge in Virginia. A few miles to the southeast of the city, and approached by the Pasig River is Laguna Lake, a magnificent body of water around whose shores are nestled many towns and hamlets. Here is located Los Banos, noted for the healing properties of its waters. One hundred and seventy two miles north of Manila lies the fair Province of Benguet with its mountains which in their rugged sublimity rival those in Western North Carolina. Upon the loftiest of these mountains, at an altitude of nearly 6000 feet, is Baguio, the summer capital. Thither the Commission, with Manila society, betake themselves with the first approach of hot weather, while we underlings remain behind to "hold down the lid" of State. If I may be permitted to give hearsay testimony, it is, indeed, a charming place, never a day too hot to climb the mountain fastnesses, or a night so warm that blankets and fires may be dispensed with. Thanks to American enterprise and capital, Manila has a street car system whose thorough equipment and good management are equal to the best in the States, and though the streets are very narrow accidents seldom occur; a splendid tribute to the care of the native motormen.

From the middle of November to about the latter part of February is the great social season. During that period the hours of recreation are taken up with one continuous round of receptions, dances, and entertainments. In the winter there are nearly always warships in the bay, either American or foreign, and they add greatly to the pleasure of our social life by their magnificent entertainments. I shall never forget the pleasure of a reception aboard H. M. S. King Alfred, when Vice Admiral Moore was here last November with the British fleet. For the past two months we have been having Italian Grand Opera by a very efficient troupe from Rome. There are over 5,000 Americans in Manila, exclusive of the Army and Navy. Among them is a high order of musical and dramatic talent as evidenced in a production of Mikado last week, which was far better than the average musical comedy seen in the States.

We have many clubs here that make for life's comfort and pleasure, chief among which is the University Club, of which I am a member. This club is composed almost entirely of university and college men, who form a goodly company. In the afternoon, when the arduous labors of the day are ended, one is sure to find congenial spirits there, not only in the company, but also in the "Scotch and Soda"—a very necessary stimulant in this enervating climate.

In concluding my comments on Manila, I fain would quote the tribute of M. Mallat, a Frenchman who visited the Philippines many generations ago, and wrote much about them. "Enchanting city!" he exclaims; in these are goodness, cordiality, a sweet, open, noble hospitality, the generosity which makes our neighbor's house our own; in thee the difference of fortune and hierarchy disappears. Unknown to thee is etiquette. O Manila! a warm heart can never forget thy inhabitants, whose memory will be eternal for those who have known them." Finished next week.

A little Kodol taken occasionally, especially after eating will relieve sour stomach, belching and heartburn. J. B. Jones, Newport, Tenn, writes: "I am sure three or four bottles of your Kodol positively cured me of dyspepsia, and I can recommend it as that was 3 years ago and I haven't been bothered since with it." Kodol is guaranteed to give relief. Sold by J. G. Hall.

CURES ALL SKIN TROUBLES.

Sulphur the Accepted Remedy for a Hundred Years.

Sulphur is one of the greatest remedies nature ever gave to man. Every physician knows it cures skin and blood troubles. Hancock's Liquid Sulphur enables you to get the full benefit in most convenient form. Don't take sulphur "tablets" or "wafers," or powdered sulphur in molasses. Hancock's Liquid Sulphur is pleasant to take and perfect in its action. Druggists sell it. A well known citizen of Danville, Pa. writes: "I have had an aggravated case of Eczema for over twenty-five years. I have used seven or eight bottles of the Liquid, and one jar of your Hancock's Liquid Sulphur Ointment, and now I feel as though I had a brand new pair of hands. It has cured me and I am certain it will cure any one if they persist in using Hancock's Liquid Sulphur according to directions."

"BUTLER EDGAR."

A Kansas man declares he saw an angel fly over the State. And it evidently was a pretty wise angel too, for it did not offer to stop in Kansas.

Wonderful Eczema Cure. "Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Henning, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. We then employed other doctors but no benefit resulted. By chance we read about Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all doctor medicines and body building health tonic. Guaranteed at Hamilton's Drug store, 50c.

Asheville has captured the next meeting of the General Conference of the Southern Methodist church.

A Narrow Escape. G. W. Cloyd, a merchant, of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a jimmy bar into his thumb. He says, "My doctor wanted to amputate it, but I would not consent. I bought a bottle of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and that cured the dangerous wound." 25c at R. L. Hamilton's, Drugist.

The great Historic Exposition at Norfolk, Virginia, is now in full swing.

Let me mail you free, to prove merit, sample of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart, or The Kidneys. Address me, Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Trouble of the Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves, means Stomach weakness. And, the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative.
