

THE CAUSE OF COLDS.

Good Advice Regarding the Prevention of Coughs and Colds.

If people would only fortify and strengthen their system, about 98 per cent of coughs, colds and pneumonia might be avoided.

The only thing that will cure coughs and colds and prevent pneumonia is a medication which is absorbed and carried by the blood so that the diseased membrane is disinfected, cleaned, soothed and healed.

We have a remedy which we honestly believe infallible and unsurpassable for the prevention and cure of coughs, colds and all catarrhal conditions.

It stands to reason that we could not afford to make such statements and give our own personal guarantee to this remedy if we were not absolutely positive that we could substantiate our claim in every particular.

The "Dream" Month.

October is called the dream month of the year. The promise of seed time and harvest has been fulfilled, the fruits of field, garden and forest gathered and garnered and the husbandman feels that nature has repaid him for the long, hard months of toil that lie behind.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein.

late fruits that invite the frost for ripening, all invite the family to outings, the pleasures of which no other season of the year can rival.—The Commoner.

Storm of Canary Birds.

It happened in the night, and, according to the yarn spun yesterday by Captain Sandberg, of the Panama liner City of Para, it must have been a night of terror.

The ship was midway between Acapulco and San Jose de Guatemala, which is a latitude in which the unusual is the expected. The time was between 1 and 2 o'clock in the morning, and it was very dark.

At the first stroke the lightning blew out the fuse in the ship's dynamo and she became as dark as an abandoned trolley car.

Third Officer Zual, who had been off watch below, ran on deck. All the passengers followed Zual to the deck, and the captain says that the passengers thought the end of the world had come.

It lasted for an hour, and in the morning, when the storm had passed and the sun rose, there on the decks, covering the awnings and almost filling the boats lashed on the upper deck were thousands of dead and dying canary birds.

So the City of Para came safely through the storm when it rained canary birds, all save the gilt ball at the top of the foretopmast, half of which was lost overboard.—San Francisco Chronicle.

No Place For an Idle.

There are boys at the orphanage who can handle a team of mules with as much skill as anybody; others know to fire and run a steam engine; others still can make an honest shoe from heel to toe; a few of them can set type to beat the band, while all of them, who have left the nursery, know the necessity of doing honest work.

Sure Cure Wanted.

A wild-looking man rushed into a dentist's office, nearly upsetting the butler at the door. "Do you give gas here?" asked the new-comer. "We do," replied the dentist.

Consumption

is, by no means, the dreadful disease it is thought to be—in the beginning.

It can always be stopped—in the beginning. The trouble is: you don't know you've got it; you don't believe it; you won't believe it—till you are forced to. Then it is dangerous.

Don't be afraid; but attend to it quick—you can do it yourself and at home. Take

This is sound doctrine, whatever you may think or be told; and, if heeded, will save life.

The Laugh Cure.

Laughter induces a mental exhilaration.

The habit of frequent and hearty laughter will not only save you many a doctor's bill, but will also save you years of your life.

There is good philosophy as well as good health in the maxim, "Laugh and grow fat."

Laughter is a foe to pain and disease, and a sure cure for the "blues," melancholy, and worry.

Laughter is contagious. Be cheerful, and you make everybody around you happy, harmonious and healthful.

Laughter and good cheer make love of life, and love of life is half of health.

Use laughter as a table sauce; it sets the organs to dancing, and stimulates the digestive processes.

Laughter keeps the heart and face young, and enhances physical beauty.

Laughter is nature's device for exercising the internal organs and giving us pleasure at the same time.

It sends the blood bounding through the body, increases the respiration, and gives warmth and glow to the whole system.

It expands the chest, and forces the poisoned air from the least used lung cells.

Perfect health, which may be destroyed by a piece of bad news, by grief or anxiety, is often restored by a good, hearty laugh.

A jolly physician is often better than all his pills.—Success.
