

A Good Woman at Rest.

The death angel came to the home of Mrs. J. H. Coley on January 5th, 1909, and claimed for its own his beloved wife, Mary Currin Coley, aged 64. She was a devoted Christian and was a member of Enon Baptist church at the time of her death. It is so sad to go home and mother not there; her chair is vacant her voice is still. She leaves to mourn her death a husband and seven children; Frank, Joe, Jimmie, and Herbert Coley, and Mrs. Louis Taylor, Mrs. Leonard Gordon, and Mrs. Tom Briggs. Weep not loved ones for your loss is her eternal gain. All was done that medical skill and loving hands could do, but God knows best and we must say "Thy will be done."

As a neighbor, she was ever ready to lend a helping hand in time of need, and it was my good pleasure to have her visit my home the day before she was taken sick. She suffered but never complained. She was quietly laid to rest in the cemetery at Enon where the services conducted by her pastor, Dr. R. H. Marsh.

'Tis sad to say good bye, but we have the sweet assurance if we trust in God we shall meet again.

Horner Military School.

The Charlotte Observer of the 6th had the following from its Oxford correspondent:

Oxford, Feb. 6.—Last Monday morning the cadets had their first opportunity of the winter to skate on ice. Ridley's pond, close to the school, froze over during the cold weather of the two previous days, and in order for the students to take full advantage of the situation a half-holiday was granted. It is needless to say that all the participants enjoyed the rare pleasure to the fullest extent.

A number of the cadets attended an oyster supper last night at the armory given by the ladies of the town improvement society. Leave has recently been granted to all the students to visit Oxford on Wednesday afternoon in addition to the regular Saturday and Sunday afternoon permits.

Unearths a Rare Coin.

Mr. Tom Glover, while engaged in tearing away an old fence on the plantation of Mr. George W. Wray, near Shelby, found a curious coin which has all our local numismatic experts guessing as to its identity. The coin is evidently of Indian origin. Its metal is copper. It is about the size of a half dollar and is in good state of preservation. Carved on one side is the head of an Indian chief. On the reverse side appears the head of a squaw and a papoose. The workmanship shows unusual skill, the devices being well executed. There is no date, no inscription, nothing but the Indian characters as above described.—Shelby Star.
