Horner Military School.

Oxford, April 17.--In the tennis game last Wednesday Company B defeated Company A by a score of 3-6; 6-1; 5-4. The contest was very close throughout, and the winners were not decided until the final point had been made. Pollard and Mellon represented B while Reinhardt and McGowan did the work with the racket for A.

On the next day Company B also won the baseball game by a score of 12 to 5. The game was not as interesting as the two former ones, inasmuch as the score was not so close, and the playing rather slow. Vann and Joyner were the battery for A, while Robinson, Hancock and Sears performed likewise for B.

Yesterday afternoon Horner and Oxford crossed bats for the fourth time this year. The game was exceedingly close throughout, but for the first three or four innings, when Oxford had quite a lead. This lead, however, the cadets succeeded in overcoming and in the ninth inning with two men out Horner succeeded in pushing the winning run in, making the final score 9 to 8 in favor of the school boys. The features of the game would probably be the number of errors on both sides and the uncertainty, as to the winners of the contest, and while judged from a baseball standpoint the game was a poor one, yet for the lover of excitement the game was unequalled. Lanier and Howard were the battery for the town boys, while McGowan, Hancock and Sears occupied the same positions for Horner.

The closing of school is now in sight. The principal expects a magnificent commencement, in view of the reunion of old Horner students at that time.--Correspondence of Charlotte Observer.
