WHAT IS EDUCATION WORTH?

Expressions of Divers and Sundry Distinguished Men Upon Great Benefits—Education of Greatest Value.

Now that education is getting to be more and more a study and passion with the people of North Carolina and in our county especially, the following remarks along this line will be interesting reading. Here is what some of the wise ones have said.

The Late Chas. D. McIver.

The majority of the schools of the South need and need badly: Better houses and equipment, longer terms, stronger teachers, and more effective supervision. Reducing these needs to a common denominator, we have four distinct calls for more money. Not only is it a call for more now—one time—but for all time.

Ex-Governor C. B. Aycock.

It undoubtedly appears cheaper to neglect the aged, the feeble, the infirm, the defective, to forget the children of this generation, but the man who does it is cursed of God, and the State that permits it is certain of destruction. There are people on the face of the earth who take no care of the weak and infirm, who care naught for their children, and provide only for the gratification of their own desires, but these people neither wear clothes nor dwell in houses. They leave God out in their life, and are known to us as savages.

Governor Blanchard, Louisiana

The school house is the fountain head of happiness, prosperity and good government. Education makes people worth more to themselves. It makes every hand and every eye more strong and accurate. Someone has said it is cheaper to build school houses than jails. The first need of the State is the general diffusion of public education.

Horace Mann.

Such a thing never did happen and never can happen as that an intelligent and practical body of men should be permanently poor. The greatest fear, and the next greatest is to know of all the arts in political economy is to change a consumer into a producer—the end to be directly attained by increasing his intelligence.

Superintendent Lull, Newport, R. I.

An eminent business man of the Empire State has investigated and then publicly declared that a grammar school education adds fifty per cent to the worth of a man, a high school education a hundred per cent, and a college education three hundred per cent. We cannot select our ancestors, although Holmes has suggested that such a selection would be very desirable; but we can do the next best thing and see to it that the succeeding generations have good ancestors.

Walter H. Page, Editor.

It is a shining day in any man's growth when he comes to see and to feel and to know and freely admit that it is just as important to the world that the ragsman's child of his worthless neighbor should be trained as it is that his own child should be. Until a man sees this he can not be arduous democrat, nor get a patriotic conception of education.

Thomas Jefferson Said:

If a nation expects to be ignorant and free, in a state of civilization, it expects what never was and never will be. No other sure foundation can be devised for the preservation of a crusade against ignorance.

Educate and inform the whole mass of the people.

Editor Poe on Libraries.

The need of the rural library must be apparent to all that are familiar with country school methods. Reading is the magic key to all our store houses of intellectual wealth; it is the basis of all education.

PREVENTION OF TUBERCULOSIS

Fraternal Organizations and Labor Unions Unite to Save Members—Estimates 50 Per Cent Losses Can Be Saved.

Nine fraternal and benefit organizations with a membership of nearly 3,000,000, and three international labor unions with a membership of over 100,000 have joined the ranks of the fighters against consumption within the last year, according to a statement issued to-day by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

A year ago only one fraternal organization, the Royal League, and one labor union, the International Typographical Union, maintained in institutions for the treatment of their tuberculous members. Since January 1st, 1909, the following fraternal and benefit organizations have taken up the consideration of tuberculosis, and in most instances have decided to erect institutions: Brotherhood of American Yeomen, Order of Eagles, Improved Order of Red Men, Modern Woodmen of America, Knights of Pythias, Royal Arcanum, Workmen's Circle, Knights of Columbus, and Foresters of America. The international labor unions which have joined the fight against tuberculosis are the International Photo-Engravers Union of North America, the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union, and the International Boot and Shoe Workers Union.

The Modern Woodmen and the Knights of Pythias have already opened sanatoria for their members who have tuberculosis at Colorado Springs, and East Las Vegas, New Mexico. The Workmen's Circle is about to erect a similar institution at Liberty, New York. The Royal League has maintained a sanitarium at Black Mountain, N. C. for three years. The other fraternal organizations mentioned have either appointed committees to consider the advisability of erecting tuberculosis sanatoria, or are contemplating such action.

The first sanitarium to be erected for the benefit of the laboring men was built by the International Typographical Union in connection with its home at Colorado Springs. The International Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union have recently decided to erect a similar sanitarium and steps are now being taken to open such an institution. The international Photo Engravers Union while not conducting a sanitarium of its own, pays for the treatment of its tuberculous members in institutions in various parts of the country. The International Boot and Shoe Workers Union are recommending to their members that they ally themselves with the various organizations united in the fight against tuberculosis.

All of these fraternal organizations, and labor unions are also carrying on campaigns of education among their members, in this way over 3,000,000 men and women are receiving instruction through lectures, through official papers, and by literature expressly prepared showing the dangers and methods of prevention of tuberculosis.

It is a campaign of prevention which will bring to these various millions of dollars in the saving of lives and the cutting down of payments for sickness and death resulting from tuberculosis. It is estimated that 50 per cent of the death losses from tuberculosis could be saved by the various fraternal organizations of the country.

The national association for the study and prevention of Tuberculosis has rendered all assistance possible to these various movements among the labor men and the fraternal organizations, and stands ready to co-operate as far as possible with any society of this character.

ABOUT THE REAL ESKIMOS.

Something of the Habits and Customs of the People Who Helped to Discover the North Pole.

The Eskimos are the filthiest people in the world. They never wash not even the face and hands. The smell of their fur clothing and secretions from the skin causes a stink about their persons and especially in their igloos and tents, that is unbearable to tenderfeet.

Living in huts of stone or in ice in winter, in sealskin tents in summer, Eskimos never marry in the sense we use the word, but mate like animals. Swapping of mates for indefinite time is common. Furs are used for the common family bed, and everybody from father to babe strips stark naked before retiring.

Eskimos are all children, contented, peaceful, honest and without ambition for fame or power. They live almost entirely on raw animal meat, and this explains the absence of a number of diseases which are common to civilization. Salt water contains iodine, and all sea animals as well as all who eat them uncooked absorb more or less of this pickle chemical substance.

Scurvy, so common and deadly among early Polar explorers, is totally unknown among Eskimos who eat raw meat. This iodized raw food also explains the absence of enlarged tonsils, glands and goiter. Their perfect splendid teeth and strong lower jaws mark them completely carnivorous. The exclusion of vegetable food has shortened their intestines and indigestion is unknown. On would suppose their pure flesh diet would cause biliousness, etc., but the large percentage of oil in their food acts as a gentle laxative and protects against all harm. They eat with relish old rotten blubber that would stagger a buzzard.

Their skin though covered with filth and vermin, is smooth as satin and totally free of disease or blemish. The very fact that these people fear and hate washing in water may account for their fine "Arctic" skins. Exposure of hair to midnight sun for three months of the year favors hair growth. Baldness is unknown, and even time seldom bleaches the hair to gray, and at 60 it is still real black. Their special senses are very keen and eyesight seems undiminished with age. Consumption is unknown, nor is there any skin or bone form of tuberculosis. But when brought to the United States they contract consumption in most virulent form. Of six brought to New York all contracted the disease in less than six months. One who returned to his arctic home made a quick cure.

It is well known that the long Arctic winter, with its depressing effects on body and mind, often upsets the best balanced nervous system, even of the native. But this hysteria vanishes with the summer. Explorers have suffered the same way, and they have committed suicide. In summer Eskimos get so very common.

All degenerate diseases that cause so much suffering and death in civilization are absent from the Eskimos. The pure sterile Arctic air contains no germs, but Eskimos invariably take a bad "ship cold" when they go aboard a white man's ship. More Eskimos are killed every year hunting the walrus than die of natural causes. These people have no doctors and none of the remedies that are common among civilized people are known.

When we march up to reform we want everybody to get in line ahead of us.

The greatest blessing is a wife who doesn't want you to go on trips with her.

There's hardly anything more comfortable than meditation upon other people's sins.

The disadvantage of having a good reputation is how it makes everybody want to take it away from you.
