Mr. E. A. Kelley, Bevidere, Ill., writes us: "I am an ex-engineer with 22 years active service to my credit. About three years ago my kidneys were affected so that I had to give up my engine. First I was troubled with severe aching pain over the hips. Then followed inflammation of the bladder, and specks appeared before my eyes. A sample of Foley's Kidney Pills that I tried, so benefited me that I bought more. I continued to take them until now I can safely testify that they have made me a sound and well man." THE CUSTOM OF USING COSMETICS GOES WAY BACK INTO ANCIENT HISTORY.

Women Who Like to Use Those Adorners Refuse to Pay Attention to Irate Husbands—Baltimore Sun in Sympathy With Crusade Against Custom.

Baltimore Sun.
 Since the days of Noah the way in which some women paint their faces has made the judicious grieve. So far as we have been able to learn there were no cosmetics in the Garden of Eden, and Mrs. Eve wore her own hair exclusively but before the tower of Babel was completed the ladies were fixing themselves up so as to enhance the beauties of nature, and ever since that day they have appeared on every big occasion in their full regalia of rosy cheeks and abundant hair, whether they grew on them or not.

Men Storm in Vain.
 Men have threatened, stormed, passed laws, and refused to pay the bills in order to stop the women folk from painting and powdering and rigging themselves out in style, but all has been in vain. They paint and powder now just as they did when Vashti was the leader of society or Cleopatra caused as much talk by her flirtations at the leading summer resorts of Egypt.

All women do not care for these vanities, there are millions who would scorn to use artificial aids to beauty, and of course, your friends and ours appear in their own natural beauty and charms, with never a trace of paint or powder or false hair. But when a woman wants to paint her cheeks or pencil her eyebrows or build up a big head of false hair, there is nothing this side of the north pole that will stop her.

Richmond Ministers Protest.
 Some of our ministerial friends in Richmond have been deeply pained by the artists who are performing on the midway at the Richmond fair. They have protested to the courts against the "painted faces" that adorn the route of parade and ask that the courts enjoin such persons from performing and remove their faces from the fair grounds. These performers, who play the count and countess are neither young nor fair. They may not be as bad as they are painted, but if they should venture out on the midway no calamine on their faces they might scare the crowd away and seriously endanger the success of the fair. If anybody is allowed to paint and powder, these should be the ones, for they need it the worst.

Baltimore Sun Against It.

But we wish our Virginian friends success in this crusade. We are against the painted face, whether it is at the fair, the ball, or the whist party. The young girls don't need cosmetics, and the old women who think to repair the ravages of time by rouge and tints only make old age ghastly and pitiable. The woman who does not paint is too sensible to need advice, and the woman who does is likely to be deaf to admonition. So that the mere man who tries to censor the faces of the fair sex has undertaken a monumental task. If he can succeed in restoring woman to her natural state, he is the man we need to organize on the gold rule plan, give our cities ideal government and institute the reign of purity in politics.

The Truth Will Out.
 Mr. Swainson is a powerful preacher, but is never before leaving his sermons with humor.

A good story he tells concerns a visit once paid to the cottage of one of his parishioners. It was early spring and for a long time he sat by the window with the woman's little girl.

"do you notice how bright is the green of the leaves and grass?"

The little girl nodded.
 "Now tell me why does it appear so much brighter at this time?"
 Mr. Swainson asked.
 "Cos." was the unexpected reply.
 "ma's just washed the window and you can see out better."

A Joker.
 Lippincott's Magazine.

A seedy-looking man entered a store in Trenton the other day, and asked assistance, backing up his request with a long tale of sickness and lack of employment.

With a wink at his clerk, the merchant pointed to a friend who happened to be in the place, and replied:

"Ask that gentleman. He is the proprietor. I am only a clerk. The friend received the beggar's request in a sympathetic manner, and, turning to the merchant, remarked: "This seems to be a worthy case. Mr. Jones give him a dollar from the cash register," and walked out of the store.

It was in vain that the merchant protested that it had been a joke. So insistent did the seedy one become that "de boss's" directions should be carried out, that it was finally necessary to do so in order to be rid of him.

An Indigestion Remedy Free

Many people who otherwise healthy suffer from indigestion, or dyspepsia. When you consider that the stomach and allied organs of the body, it would seem that a disorder there is to be taken very seriously.

Dyspeptics cannot eat the things they like; food sours in the stomach; there chronic constipation begins, or, as is often the case, you have been constipated all along, and the stools are forced and irregular.

But there is no use letting indigestion go until it becomes chronic and undermines your health. It is good advice to suggest to you that you go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the wonderful cure for stomach, liver and bowel troubles. That is what C. Fowler, of Carson City, Mich., did and he is well today. Others who did the same and are cured are Ida A. Fortune, of Grand Junction, Tenn., E. F. Thompson, of Shenandoah, Ia., who actually considers that it saved his life. You can obtain a 50-cent or $1 bottle of the druggist, and, taken according to directions, it will probably be all you need. It is a liquid, acts gently, never gripes, and besides the laxative effect, contains exceptional tonic properties which tone the stomach and that what is especially needed in indigestion.

All sufferers from indigestion who have never used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can obtain a free test bottle by writing the doctor. It will be sent direct to your home without any charge. In this way thousands have proven to their own satisfaction Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the very remedy they needed to cure indigestion. When once you use this grand remedy you will throw violent catarrhs, tablets, salts, etc., away.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 550 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.
