THE DOG LAW.

What the Law is and What the Punishment for its Infraction is.

As there seems to be some misapprehension in regard to the dog law we wish to state that it will be found in Chapter 694 of the laws of 1909.

SECTION ONE makes it unlawful for any owner of or person having control of any dog raised and used in hunting birds or animals to permit the same to run at large between the first day of May and the first day of September.

This does not apply to collies, shepherd, poodles, terriers and other dogs kept simply as pets and not used for hunting of any kind.

SECTION TWO makes it a misdemeanor, punishable with a fine not exceeding ten dollars, or imprisonment not to exceed five days.

SECTION THREE makes it the duty of the sheriff, deputy sheriff, constables and justices of the peace to enforce this law by having old dogs described in section one impounded and, after keeping same for 5 days, unless redeemed by the owner or person having control of the day by paying the fine and costs imposed by the Justice of the Peace, he shall kill the dog.

SECTION FOUR provides that any such sheriff, deputy sheriff, constable or justice of the peace, who after his attention has been called to any such dog running at large, shall fail or allow the said dog impounded and a warrant issued for the owner or person whose control said dog may be shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not exceeding twenty-five dollars.

So the provisions of this law are of the local officers to enforce them. There has been general complaint very stringent and it is the duty that the partridges and other birds are very rapidly on the decrease. Any man believe that more birds are destroyed during the breeding and raising time than by the hunters in the fall and winter. This is an experiment in the right direction and we hope the people will give the law an honest trial.

NOTICE.

The Oxford Branch of the Retail Merchant's Association of North Carolina have joined the National Collection Agency of Washington, D. C., for the purpose of collecting past due accounts which a lot of the merchants have on their books.

Merchants can't meet their obligations unless customers meet theirs. It costs the merchants a lot of valuable time and expense to make out statements and send out by mail and take a man from the store from one to three days the first of each month with a lot of accounts to collect.

Therefore we have taken this method to collect such accounts as are past due and from such people who are so indifferent as to their obligations.

So those owing accounts that are past due had better see that their names are not sent in to this Collection Agency as all names are reported to the Association for the Merchants' benefit.
