The Public Ledger is requested to announce that a Premium Committee has been appointed to solicit premiums to be offered at the first Granville County Fair to be held some time this Fall, (date to be named later). To make a success of this Fair it is necessary to have the support and co-operation of the people of the County. The farmers are urged to compete for the premiums. BROWN ENTERTAINS. In Honor of Her Charms Guest, Miss Frances Brown. One of the most delightful entertainments given the young people of the city this season was that given by Mrs. J. P. Brown at her home on North Monroe street Tuesday evening, July 12th, in honor of her guest Miss Frances Brown, of Oxford, N. C. The entire downstairs was thrown into a large room and was beautifully decorated with pot plants and sunflowers. The large porch was lighted with yellow and green electric lights, carrying out the color scheme. The most enjoyable feature of the evening was a guessing contest, Miss Ruth Smith won the head prize, the booty going to Miss Nell Henley. A number of other interesting games were indulged in during the evening. Later in the evening refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by little Miss Janie and Margaret Strange, Kate Byrd and Mae Carroll. Behind a large bank of ferns on one end of the porch was a large punch bowl, presided over by Miss Yawn. Tallahassee, Fla., True Democrat. Asheville.—H. F. Barkley, who for several years has been a car cleaner for the Southern Railway here, was arrested today by government officials upon the charge of larceny of letters from the United States mail cars. Letters containing money and checks have been missed from the Asheville mails for some time and this week, when a package of some $35,000 in checks was sent to the American National Bank here by Barkley the matter was reported to the postoffice officials and detectives put on the case. Today a decoy package was placed on the Murphy train which arrived here about 2 o'clock, and Barker was caught by the detectives as he was in the act of removing the letters from the mails.

COLLISION ON SEABOARD.

FREIGHT TRAIN AND PASSENGER TRAIN RAN INTO EACH OTHER AND WERE WRECKED.

Claimed that Accident Was Due to Neglect to Dispatch Watchman From Freight—Several People Injured and Both Engines Were Demolished. At Watkins last Sat. morning about noon, on the Seaboard's Railway line between Durham and Heenderson the 10.50 passenger train out from Durham and a freight approaching from the opposite direction crashed into each other and a number of passenger train were injured. Both passenger trains were badly damaged, the engines being reduced to a mass of twisted iron. From accounts the responsibility for the accident seemed to lay with the freight it being alleged that no flagman was seen ahead. This dereliction owing to the failure to reach the siding gave the conductor of the passenger no inkling of the danger and the wreck took place without any warning. The tracks were badly torn up and was closed to traffic for some time. All on the freight escaped injury, they jumped before the collision. The freight was running at very slow speed and was about to enter the side track where it was to give the inlet to the passenger train when the collision occurred. The passenger was approaching at the usual schedule speed. Engineer Rogers of the passenger train, jumped in time to save himself from injuries more serious than the spraining of an ankle. Conductor Powell sustained a painful cut in the back of his head and Expressman Parrott was damaged to the extent of having his collar bone fractured. A section hand, from Oxford, Allen LeMay, was on his way to Henderson to set his check for his week's pay. It has been erroneously stated that he was a hobo beating his way. In addition to the train men, several passengers were slightly injured to say nothing of their being terribly frightened. Several young ladies from Kittrell sustained slight hurts but messages were sent from them to Durham. Where they had been visiting, that the injuries were nothing but a bad shakeup. The young ladies were Miss Blackhall and Misses Cora and Beverly Hunt.

Let us Reason, You and I. You devote more of your time to other things while I devote my time to the study of the eye, the examination for errors of refraction, good lenses and the perfect fitting of frames. I can and do guarantee satisfaction because I have the trained ability, equipment and facilities. Dr. N. Rosentien Eye specialist, will be at Oxford Tuesday July 26th at the Exchange Hotel for the purpose of examining eyes and fitting glasses. Remember the day and the place. A trial is my most convincing argument.

Death of an Infant. On July 15, 1910, the angel of death entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Duke, and carried little Neouville their youngest child into that happy home, where there will be no more pain, sorrow, or crying. Neouville was one year, six months, and twenty nine days old, she was loved and petted by all who knew her. She was sick for a long time and suffered much, all that kind friends could do, was done for her but God who gave her wanted her to be with Him. The funeral services was conducted by Rev. E. G. Ury, and her little body surrounded by a large number of sorrowing relatives and friends, she was laid to rest on Saturday July 16th, in the family burying ground. Our sympathies go out to the bereaved parents and family, and we pray that God may so direct their lives that some day they may all be one united family in Heaven. Neouville cannot come back to you dear friends but you can go to her where there will be no more pain, sorrow or separation.

HAY RIDE AT STEM.

Young men Give Pleasant Affair in Honor of Young Ladies—The Couples Present.

From Stem comes the report of a delightful social affair that took place last week. The account as given to the News and Observer news: The young men of Stem, N. C. gave a delightful "hay ride" to the Tar Valley manufacturing Company on Monday night complimentary to the visiting ladies who were Misses Elvah and Clide Jones, of Louisburg, and Miss Elizabeth Jones, of Culbreth. These who enjoyed the ride were Misses Bell and Lill Cozart, Alma Clayton, Kate Lee Gooch, Anabell F. Abow, Bessie Bullock, Elizabeth Jones Elvah and Clide Jones, Messers A. B. and W. S. Cozart, Jr., W. P. and D. I. Hardee, U. S. and J. B. Mayes, Jr., L. E. Whitaker and W. F. Jones. Among the features was the music furnished by all who could sing, and especially did they enjoy "A Mocking Bird Solo." After crossing the bridge and reaching the mill and the home of Mr. W. D. Kimball, we were very hospitably received by the Misses Kimball and their friends who were Mrs. A. B. Kimball, of Greensboro, Miss Irwin Stark of Oxford, Mrs. Lela Crews Bryant, Miss Madeline Crews, Miss Minnie and Miss Allie Kimball, of Tarville, Mr. Moore, of Danville, Va., Mr. Clarence Crews, Mr. Bob Crews, and Will Kimball, of Tarriver, who joined us in a picnic spread, after which some danced by string music and refreshments were served. The hospitality tendered us by the Kimballs was decidedly the most enjoyable of the occasion. Then we left and the trip home was very enjoyable. Every one joined in the singing. The Chaperone, (Miss Hallie Jones) discharged her duty beautifully and I think enjoyed it as much or more than anyone, for she has already persuaded us to give another ride soon.

Bulletin on Fig Culture in North Carolina.

A very timely Bulletin on Fig Culture has just been prepared and published by the North Carolina Experiment Station. The publication was prepared to supply information with reference to the growth and marketing of figs for at this time much interest is manifested in fig, culture by farmers and other fruit-growers in most sections of the upper South. The Bulletin deals with the climatic requirements of the fig, as well as the sections of the State suited for the growth of this fruit. It discusses the advantages and opportunities the State has over other sections. Such subjects as soils for figs, propagation, planting, cultivation, mulching, manures and fertilizers; irrigation pruning, winter protection, harvesting, marketing, uses and varieties are fully discussed. The important subject of the premature dropping of green or immature figs is fully treated; and remedies for same are given. A copy of this Bulletin may be secured free by addressing Director C. B. Williams, West Raleigh N. C. Well, Well, Well, Well. Of all the Wells in this world of Wells, Montgomery's Wells does work that tells. If you want sanitary plumbing that will stand any and all tests. Resolutions of Respect.

To the memory of Jehu H. Bullock Adopted by Oxford Lodge, No. 103, I. O. O. F. July, 19 1910. The destroying angel Death has again visited our Lodge and removed from our midst a brother who has long been a faithful member of our Order. Jehu Henry Bullock was born on July 22, 1855, near Stem in Granville County. He was the oldest son of James Terry Bullock, and Ellen Farbow Bullock, his wife, and upon the death of his father in the war he became the mainstay in caring for and supporting his mother and younger brothers and sisters. In 1882 he moved to Oxford and engaged in the leaf tobacco business, and later in the warehouse business, and continued both with eminent and success until his death. He was a successful business man and for many years a member of the Town Council, the School Board and of the Board of Directors of the Bank of Granville. For a number of years he has been an member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and was known as the right supporter of his pastor. He was a good steward, a good collector and one of the most liberal supporters of his Church. But way was a good true man in every walk in life, always willing and ready to do his part to give good advice from his brain well stored with good common sense. On December 24th, 1890, Mr. Bullock was happily married to Miss Sallie Bragg, only daughter to John H. Bragg, Esq., and Allie Bragg, his wife, also of Stem. There are three children surviving, John H. Jr., Estelle and Rebecca. We extend to his bereaved family our deepest sympathy in the hour of this sorrow affliction, and commit them to the fostering care of our kind Heavenly Father who will not permit a sparrow to fall without his notice, believing that he will care for those who put their trust in Him. Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family and one to the Public Ledger for publication and that the resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Lodge. S. G. COOPER, Z. W. LYON, A. A. HICKS, Committee.
