

Big Double Vote Offer For Two Weeks Only.

This Means That No Other Time During The Contest Will There be Given as Many Votes on a Single Subscription. Believe in Yourself. Never Postpone.

That the Oxford Ledger's great prize and popularity contest for ladies is destined to break all records in the contest line, admits of no denial. The contest work of the many popular ladies entered as contestants has not only met a ready and sympathetic response in the way of support, but has made earnest partisans of representative citizens in every walk of life in each and every district. Some of these friends of the candidates are inquiring into the plan and methods being and to be pursued in the conduct of this contest, with a view of assuring themselves that the candidate whom they are supporting is to have a square deal.

The Real Power.

The friends of the candidates are the real power in the race for success. See that you do your part to make your favorite candidate popular. Speak everywhere of her campaign and of your wish that she should win. Back up your words by deeds, and give her the substantial aid of your subscription.

Getting Nervous.

This is the critical period when the nerves of the candidates are apt to get what a woman calls "jumpy." Some who felt secure are beginning to wonder after all they are so sure that the person who seems just below them may not be holding back enough votes to be just above them in the final count. That feeling isn't pleasant, but it's wholesome. No one can afford to be certain that they are in a position to win the prize of their choice. Best make it sure by getting as many subscriptions as you possibly can.

A Question for Candidates.

A question for all candidates to ask themselves at the close of each day is, "Did I do all that was possible to gain votes today? If you cannot honestly assure in the affirmative, then you are not doing well enough, and you should decide firmly to improve tomorrow."

Going to Work.

Mr. Pittard is going to work now, said one of the candidates yesterday when she learned of the double vote offer in The Oxford Ledger's great prize and popularity contest. If any grass grow under my feet during the two weeks this offer is on, the grass will have to get up early in the morning. Every effort should be put in during this period. Just think of the prize which makes it possible for you to get double votes on all subscriptions, old or new.

Double Votes.

Here is the big offer of the great prize and popularity contest. It is the double vote offer, which means that between the dates of Thursday Sept. 22nd at 7 p. m. and Thursday Sept. 30th at 7 p. m. all subscriptions turned in will count double the usual number of votes.

This week the votes are 100 per cent over the regular scale; next week they will be 75 per cent more than the regular scale; the next week after that but 50 per cent more than the regular scale; and the next week the regular scale will prevail.

This offer is not confined to new subscriptions. All subscriptions paid between these dates will be given double votes, whether old or new. Old subscribers are entitled to votes by paying up arrears, should they be behind in their payments.

A Square Deal For All

This is eminently proper, and The Ledger not only pleased to see such interest being displayed but is prepared and glad of the opportunity to show that the methods being pursued each contestant.

DOUBLE VOTES.

100 per cent increase "Double votes issued on all subscriptions turned in between Thursday, Sept. 8th, and Thursday Sept. 22nd, 1910, at 7 p. m. Voting Power and Subscription Rates

	Votes	Price	Old	New
One	100	$1.00	4,000	8,000
Two years	200	2.00	8,000	16,000
Three years	300	3.00	12,000	24,000
Four years	400	4.00	16,000	32,000
Five years	500	5.00	20,000	40,000

Believe in Yourself.

A great thing for candidates to cultivate is self-confidence. There is no reason for you to be afraid of any one. Remember that in this contest, no one has any way of telling what another's reserve force may be, and the very person whom you read is probably just as much scared as you are, for fear that you may have such a pile of votes back of you that you will take the lead at any time you are ready to do so.

Notice to Subscribers.

Old subscribers who make payments of $1 or more on subscriptions are entitled to votes whether such money is for back subscriptions or advance payments. Ask for the votes when you make subscriptions anyway, why not make some young lady happy by giving her a little help.

Votes are allowed both old and New subscribers and those paying arrears.

Never Postpone.

Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today. If there is an opportunity for you to see a possible subscriber don't say to yourself that another time will do just as well. It will not do as well. Some one else is more than apt to get ahead of you. Get the promise at any rate, and they do not allow it to escape either your own or your friend's memory.

If you have not yet entered the contest do not put it off longer, but send in your name today, and then lay your plans to be a winner on October 12th.

Marriage at Exchange Hotel.
Our local Gretina Green, the Exchange Hotel, got busy again Saturday afternoon, the 27th inst., when Miss Grace Wilson and Mr. Charles R. Williamson both of Soudan, Va., were married at the hotel.

The ceremony was performed by R. E. Fowell, who accompanied them the pastor of the happy couple, Rev. United in Marriage in the parlors of the Exchange Hotel.

As the bridal pair entered the parlor, Miss Willie Lee Smith played a wedding march of Mendelssohn's, "The Host." Smith, who is usually master of ceremonies on such occasions, this time was too busy promoting a rabbit hunt to waste any time on a wedding. Smith's pack of hounds make sweeter music on the chase (at least to his ears) than any wedding march ever composed.

Hence Mrs. Smith directed the ceremony, and did so with so much efficiency, and grace that Smith's absence was regretted most by the rabbits.

Mrs. Jenette Risdon, (nee Egerton,) has been on a visit to her Aunt Mrs. Maria B. Landis.

CULBRETH CULLINS.

Moving About of People in that section of Granville—Everybody Very Busy.

Rev. George B. Blalock has been visiting his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Blalock.

Mr. Sol O'Brian and family, of Norfolk are visiting his father, Mr. J. L. O'Brian this week.

Miss Blanche Lingen, is visiting her Aunts, and Uncle, in this section.

The Misses Hobbgood spent a week with their father and mother last week.

Farmers are busy now with their tobacco and the fodder crop will soon be pushing too.

Tobacco seems to be curing very well this season thus far, and the market will soon be getting it.

Fruit is staying on the trees a shorter time than usual this year. It may be the trees were too full.

Mr. Trent Frazier is spending a few days with Mr. Hawkins Jones of Culbreth and then going to his grandfathers Mr. J. C. Curran, of Berea.

There seems to be very much hauling of crosses just now, along our road to the Shoo Fly crossing.

Mr. B. D. Eakes and family, visited his brother Mr. M. L. Eakes last Sunday.

The public schools will soon open now and the boys and girls will have a change of amusement.

Miss Corrina Bowling has decided to teach the Graham Public School of Culbreth again this winter.

Mr. Clarence O'Brian after a long struggle with the fever is getting out again to the delight of his many friends.

BULLOCK BREEZES.

People are Stirrin About a Great Deal—Farmers are Having Good Time Curing Tobacco.

Summer vacations are over and after having wild, jolly times we are all getting to work again.

Mrs. J. G. and R. M. Pittard went on a short visit to their brother Mr. A. A. Bullock in Henderson a while back and had a very pleasant time.

Miss Sue O. Boyd and Miss Jewell Floyd will again teach the Bullock Graded School. We wish them much success.

Miss Agnes Pittard left for Kansas City, Mo., the 26th, where she will spend the month of September with her Uncle W. P. Bullock.

Mr. Willie Woltz and his fine new buggy are very popular around about now, and the "first girl to ride in it," especially enjoys many pleasant drives. This young gent's heart was made very sad one fine minute when his sweet-heart sang as a "Little Bunch of Daisies."

Misses Sue and Alfred Pittard will leave for school the 13th of Sept. Miss Sue going to Greenville East-Carolina Training School, and Miss Alfred to Greensboro State Normal.

Mr. John Thomas is as confirmed old bachelor as ever, since the "Pretty depot agent" left.

Mr. Robert A. Pittard, spent a two weeks vacation at his home near Bullock during August.

It seems we are going to have a long rainy spell again.

The farmers are having good times curing tobacco—Branswick Stews at the barns helps to keep them awake. But they will chew their tobacco and get back their sleep in the long winter time that is coming on.

Miss Grace Hicks will attend Oxford Seminary this year.

Miss Bessie Pittard will teach again this year at Boykins Va. Rough Rider.

Pleasant Entertainment.

On Thursday afternoon September 8th, the Christian Church of the Oxford Baptist Church was delightfully entertained at the home of their teacher Mrs. Sidney Ustry—Despite the rain quite a number enjoyed Mrs. Ustry's hospitality.

Two contests, in which Misses Mittie Lee Taylor and Edith Pagan were the successful contestants, formed a very interesting feature for the afternoon—after which, delicious refreshments were served.

All the Class are thoroughly convinced that Mrs. Ustry's talent is not confined to teaching alone.

Yes We're Getting E'm.

The Oxford Public Ledger has apparently adopted The Dispatch's method of adding subscribers. It now has a booming popularity contest. It promises to be a subscription getter before it comes to a close, and the Ledger will doubtless add several thousand to its already healthy subscription list—Lexington Dispatch.

A Reliable Medicine—not a Narcotic
Mrs. F. Marti, St Joe, Mich., says Foley's Honey and Tar saved her little boy's life. She writes: "Our little boy contracted a severe bronchial trouble and as the doctor's medicine did not cure him, I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar in which I have great faith. It cured the cough as well as the choking and gagging spells and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar many times saved us much trouble and we are never without it in the house."—Sold by all Druggists.

THOSE WHO ENTERTAINED.

Social Happenings of Past Week—A Number of Entertainments in Honor of Visitors.

Among the many charming social functions of the past week that have taken place in the circle of Oxford society, none were more charming than the delightful "Bridge Party" given by Mrs. P. H. Montgomery on Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Dudley Bonitz of Chicago. The hostess received her guest and ushered them into the library where they were served with punch by Misses Mary B. Williams and Sophia Taylor. In the parlor receiving were: Mrs. Dudley Bonitz and Mrs. J. W. Cannady, while the dining room was delightfully presided over by Mrs. J. B. Booth and Mrs. Crenshaw. The Royal prize was won by Mrs. H. G. Williams, the visitors by Mrs. Bonitz, and the booty to Mrs. E. H. Crenshaw. After the game refreshments, consisting of cake, ices and mints were served. Those present were Mesdames: D. A. Bonitz, of Chicago; J. W. Cannady, J. C. Horne J. B. Powell, W. H. Hunt, B. K. Hays H. G. Williams, W. L. Peace, and Misses: Linda Hoskins of Charlotte, Alice Grimley of Snow Hill, Robbie Hall of Fayetteville, Ganette Biggs, Mary B. Williams, Sophia Taylor, Net Gregory, Irvine Starke, May Carbutt, Maud Farham and Annie Furman.

The most charming social event of the week took place Wednesday morning when Mrs. J. W. Cannady entertained at a Chanteur Bridge Party in honor of Mrs. Dudley Bonitz of Chicago. The attractive residence on Williamsboro Street was tastily decorated for the occasion the color scheme of red being carried out in the decorations, refreshments, and favors. The first prize was won by Miss Linda Hoskins, the second by Mrs. W. L. Peace and the visitors prize was presented to Mrs. Bonitz, the guest of honor. During the morning punch was served by Mrs. H. G. Williams and Miss Mary B. Williams. The invited guests were: Mesdames: James Powell, W. I. Hunt, W. L. Peace, Hamilton Powell Kate White, E. H. Crenshaw, W. A. Devin, J. C. Roberts, J. C. Horner, A. S. Lanier, P. H. Montgomery, Luther Starke, T. L. Booth, H. G. Williams, Hillman Cannady, B. K. Hays, Mrs. McKeithan of Fayetteville, Mrs. Griffith, and Misses: Maud Farham, Linda Hoskins of Charlotte, Fannie Gregory, Florence Breaime of Brooklyn, and Miss Alice Grimley of Snow Hill.

"Brantwood" the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwards T. Hicks of Brooklyn was the scene of a delightful social affair for the "Younger Set" on the 24th inst. Bobbie Hicks entertained at a "Sagamundi Party" on Friday evening. A number of enjoyable games were played in which Miss Lucy Landis won the first girl's prize, Miss Estelle White the second, Mr. Roy Royster the first boy's prize, and the second boy's prize was captured by Frank Hancock. About forty five guests attended and all declared the occasion one of the most delightful of the summer season.

The young people of the town enjoyed a delightful reception given at the home of Miss Josephine Brown, the occasion being replete with genuine pleasure, and a gleam of true Southern hospitality was displayed in every detail of the entertainment. After the floating reception refreshments of superior quality and elegant variety were served. These were presided over by Mrs. W. B. Balboa and Miss Jeanette Biggs, and daintily passed around by Miss. Francis Abbott and Helen Paris. All present pronounced the occasion remarkably pleasant and Miss Brown a most accomplished hostess.

On Friday evening Miss Annie Furman was hostess at a delightful "Heart Party" given in honor of Miss Nell Grimley of Greensboro who is the guest of Mr. T. L. Booth. The occasion of a most enjoyable game Miss Jennie Hunt was declared the winner of the prize, and was presented with a lovely box of candy. Those enjoying the hospitality of Miss Furman were: Misses: Sophronia Cooper, Helen Paris, Sallie Webb, Estelle White, Janie Hunt, Elizabeth Hancock, Hixie White, Clady Rawlins, Francis Abbott, Isabel Pearson, of Enfield, Roberta Hicks of Brooklyn, Ruth Mitchell, Fannie Hays, Isabel Fleming, Allene Minor, Marie Stark, Ethel Adams, Mary Shaw, and the guest of honor Miss Grimley.

THE MORNING CLARION.

Dr. C. H. D. Fort Runs Across Old Copy of Newspaper Published Thirty Four Years Ago.

Monday morning Dr. C. H. D. Fort strolled into the Ledger office and showed the boys a copy of "The Morning Clarion" which was published in Oxford thirty-four years ago. He found the interesting publication a few days ago while rummaging in old papers.

The little sheet which bears the date "Tuesday morning May 9, 1876" is now yellow with its 34 years of age. It is but a three column affair, set in 8-point type, but a daily paper in these days of hand composition was quite an ambitious enterprise for Oxford. The business announcement made by the publishers, William and Robinson says that the paper was published in "Theban Hall" for 12 1/2 cents per week or $2.50 per year. The advertising notes, which are not intelligible to the general public, shows vast differences. If one of the Ledger's patrons were asked 20 cents per line for local notices, this being the "Clarion's" price, there would be trouble and a lot of it in the premises.

"The Clarion" flew a suggestive signal at the most head which looks as if it was not afraid of trouble. It was, "How Noble the Man among noble Men, who fears not to ply a truth telling pen." The copy carried a stirring editorial telling Oxford folks to bestir themselves and agitate the question of subscribing in aid of a new railroad between Oxford and Henderson to connect with the Raleigh and Gaston.

An abbreviated general directory of the town is given. As pastors of the Episcopal, Methodist, Baptist, and Presbyterian churches, respectively the names of Revs. M. H. Vaughn, S. V. Hoyle, F. R. Underwood, and D. E. Jordan, are given. Our venerable and genial friend, Dr. L. C. Taylor was postmaster, James B. Crew, Mayor, W. C. Crabtree Constable, and the board of Commissioners was composed of these citizens: S. S. Halthcock, A. H. A. Williams, T. D. Crawford, and S. M. Watkins.

Under the head of professional cards appears that of Drs. Paschal and Young, and Dr. E. W. Owen, while the well known colored barber, Peter Charleston just below them furnished as "Barber and Hair Dresser," under the heading "Tonsorial." The local display advertising was not as heavy as might have been but these names will be quite familiar: T. D. Crawford Co., druggist and C. A. Taylor, confectioner, Cooper and Williams, sectioner, have indulged in the 20-cent-a-line local's in advertising boots "that must be sold." Capt. A. F. Spencer, indulged in them to announce that he might be found at Grady and Brothers store Tuesday, Thursdays and Saturdays, fish of the freshest and cheapest. A few other lines by Cooper and Williams some by Mitchell and Sons, and a few advertisements of other publications, including one of the "Torchlight Book Store" and one of the "Morning Star" of Wilmington, is about the inventory of the advertiser's notices.

The "Local and State Squibs" or "Humy Graphs" contain a number of interesting items. Among them appear the "Humy Graph" which is a puzzle in the Ledger Shop but which some of the older citizens may understand. "The Whandoodle Mourneth. He has been indicted." Another paragraph said that "Charlie Landis has the Pneumonia." The squib also gives an inkling of political conditions: "The Franklin County Commissioners are being stirred up about their frauds and corruptions. The people are getting tired of such things. Give it to them hot and heavy, brother Baker, we have about just such a crowd of rascals to deal with."

The best column of the front page contains a very touching and appropriate eulogy notice, beginning with this formal heading:

"At 2 o'clock Sunday morning, Mary Melvina, the youngest child of John W. and Sallie D. Hays, aged 6 months and 7 days."

MAJOR STEDMAN TO SPEAK.

Will be here on Thursday 15th, and in Creedmoor Saturday 17th.

Major Charles Stedman, Democratic Nominee of the fifth district for Congress, will speak at Oxford in the Court House on Thursday and a large crowd is expected to be present to hear the Major. He is a splendid orator and everywhere he goes his speeches attract attention. He is one of the best orators in the State. Come to hear him. Remember the day is next Thursday.

MR. FARABOW DEAD.

Died Last Tuesday Night at Two O'clock and Buried on Thursday.

After an illness of about two weeks, during which Mr. Luther Farabow succumbed to this deadly disease, typhoid fever, Mr. Farabow was taken on the twenty fifth of August and steadily grew worse and death claimed its victim. It is not known how he contracted the fever, as there have been very few cases in town this summer. He was buried in Elmwood cemetery by the Odd Fellows, of which lodge he was a member of excellent standing.

In 1898 Mr. Farabow came to Oxford from Stem to live and at once accepted a position as clerk for Long Bros. as it was then. The firm changed and he still held his position. He had been a resident of Oxford for twelve years and was very popular among his contemporaries. He was naturally popular in town, and had the happy faculty of making friends and holding them. He was thirty seven years old.

On Jan. 6, 1909 Mr. Farabow was married to Miss Bertie Cheatham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Cheatham, of this county. One child was born to them.

Mr. Luther Farabow leaves behind to mourn his loss, a devoted wife and another Mr. P. T. Farabow of Sumpter, S. C., Mrs. R. H. Stark, Wilson, N. C., Mrs. J. A. Parrish or Sumpter S. C., Mr. Sam and Wesley Farabow, of Sumpter S. C., Will Farabow of Stem N. C., Misses Morada and Annabel of Magnolia, N. C.

Rev. Mr. Shamburger conducted the funeral services at the church and the Odd Fellows took charge of the remains at the cemetery.

Mr. Farabow was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Farabow of Stem, the father having died some years ago.
