Gentlemen: "In the winter of 1903, I had an attack of Grippe, followed by Pnoumonia and later by Consumption. I gr w steadily worse. In the winter of 1.04 I had cough, night sweats, fever and roised quantities of awful looking stuff and later, I had many hemorrhages; at one time, three in three successive days. Milk and eggs became so distasteful I could keep nothing down. Three physicians treated me. I was ordered to the mountains, but did not go. Eckman's Altrative was recommended by a friend. After taking a small quantity I had the first quiet night's sleep for weeks. My improvement was marked from the first. I gained strength and weight and appendict. I gained strength and weight and appetite. I never had another hemorrhage and my cough gradually lessened until entirely gone. I am perfectly well. Everything I say here can be verified by my family and friends."

GOAT BUTTS SPEEDING AUTO.

'Honk! Honk!" Says Chaffeur, and Billy Honks Back and Charges.

From the New York Press. There was a collision between a billygoat and an automobile in the boulevard near twenty-second street. Bayonne, with the result that the billygoat smashed one of the lamps of the machine, put a big dent in the hood, and then proceed to butt from the immediate neighborhood small boys who congregated in large numbers near the scene of the unusual accident. The collision was due to the fact that the billygoat, which just had eaten an old broom and was devouring pasteladen show posters for dessert, insisted on using the roadway in the boule vard for his dining table.

The driver of the approaching automobile honked his horn for billy to get out of the way. The goat felt so sure of his ground, however, that he merely honked back and took a fresh mouthful of deepred poster and shook the danger signal in the face of the chaffeur.

"All right, Billy; I'm sorry for you," the chaffeur said, and sent his machine spinning toward

Billy saw the two lamps in front, mistook them for the eyes of a new and a strange-appearing animal, hunched himself and launched forward at the psychological moment His aim was true, and he struck one with force that the chaffeur was showered with splintered glass, which would call for an explanation to his employe later. As the machine lifted the belligerent animal it kicked the hood of the machine and caved it in. Then Billy gave up for the moment and permitted the auto to toss him into a snowpile at the side of the boulevard.

He was in cold storage only few seconds when he heard boys laughing at what they regarded his hard luck. Indignant bceause of juvenile misconception of what really had occurred impelled him hump himself once more. He emerg ed from the snowpile like a rotary plow from a drift on the Northern Pacific road and sent the boys scurrying for safety. Then Billy went to a billboard, pulled off both legs and part of the torso of an actress in tights, returned to his stand in the center of the boulevard, and resumed his interrupted meal.

The sudden change from years of activity of both body and mind to the quiet of later years causes the human system to undergo many changes, chief of which is in the digestive organs.

It becomes harder and harder to get the bowels to move promptly and regularly and in consequence many elderly men suf-fer not only from the basic touble, con-stipation, but from indigestion, headache, belching, sour stomach, drowsiness after eating and similar annoyances. It is first of all necessary to keep the bowels open and then to tone the digestive muscles so as to get them to again do their work naturally. A violent cathartic or purgative is not only unnecessary but harmful, and something mild will do the work

After you have got through experimenting with salts and pills and waters of various kinds, and have become convinced that they do only temporary good at best, then try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a mild, gentle, pleasant-tasting laxative tonic that is especially adapted to the requirements of old people, women and children, and yet is effective enough for anybody. Your druggist, who has handled it successfully for a quarter of a cenit successfully for a quarter of a century, will sell you a bottle for fifty cents or one dollar, but if you want to make a test of it before spending any money send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and he will gladly send you a sample bottle free of charges.
