

Wagons

Harvesting time is at hand, and we are selling number of new wagons. It is poor economy to try to handle a big heavy crop with a broken down wagon.

We sell these well known makes:

Geo. E. Nissen
(Original)

Thornhill Hackney.

Best wagons made for the money. Sold hundreds of them and know. We stand behind sale of each wagon and you run no risk. Glad to see you.

Horner Brothers Co.

Just Received Another Car Load of Flour, Shipstuff, Red Dog, Hay.

Farmers Warehouse

FOR THE SALE OF

LEAF TOBACCO

It affords us much pleasure to announce another opening sale at the Farmers Warehouse.

This Warehouse will be run by Joe Meadows, Walter Stark and "Bob" Hart, under the firm name of J. F. Meadows & Co. We don't think that either member of our firm needs any introduction to the farmers of Granville and adjoining counties, as all of us have been engaged in the warehouse business for 15 years and some much longer than that.

Hard Work, Honest Dealing, Highest Prices
Will be Our Motto.

It is our purpose this season to better work for our customers than ever before. We bought more than one-half million pounds tobacco of the last crop and have sold all this except a very small quantity, which makes us well prepared to begin the new crop.

We expect to buy more on our floor this season than ever before, and will say that we expect this crop to bring good prices.

What helps our customers helps us. Therefore we shall spare no effort or energy in doing at all times the very best possible thing for all who bring us their tobacco.

And now with the highest appreciation to our host of customers and friends for the large share of business they have so kindly given us in the past, we wish to express a hope that during the coming season we may be favored with even a larger share of your valued business, and we shall continue to do all in our power to make our relationship both pleasant and profitable.

Yours for Business,

WINTER COVER CROPS.

Mr Parker Tells About the Great Saving of Plant Food by These.

Every farmer owes it to himself, to his family and to posterity, to take the best care of his land that he possibly can; to maintain its fertility and to keep it from washing away.

Investigators, whether scientists or practical farmers, have found that winter cover crops of any kind prevent land, in a large measure, from washing, and when turned under the following spring make it more productive than if no crop had grown on it.

An experiment covering a number of years, in one of the North western states, showed that more plant food was lost from the land during the months when no crops were grown on it than was taken off in the regular summer crops. If this was true in that state where they have long and cold winters when leaching is impossible for weeks at a time, how much more would it be true in North Carolina with her open winters when plant food can be leached from our soils almost any week during our winter months.

A ton of green rye contains, according to good authorities about 6.6 pounds nitrogen, 3 pounds phosphoric acid, and 14.6 pounds potash. A ton of green wheat contains 10.8 pounds nitrogen, 3 pounds phosphoric acid, and 14 pounds potash. Green oats contain just a little less plant food than does green wheat. A ton of green crimson clover contains 8.6 pounds nitrogen, .6 phosphoric acid, and 9.8 pounds potash. Red clover, Bur clover and the vetches contain more plant food in the green state than crimson clover does. The wheat and rye mentioned above was probably grown on fertile land which explains their high percentage of nitrogen, for it is an established fact that crops grown on rich land contains more nitrogen than when grown on poor land. For that reason grain grown on rich land has a higher feeding value than that grown on poor land. It may be well for us to remember this when growing grain for our own feeding purposes.

Rye, wheat and oats take nitrogen from the soil and store it in the plant, thus saving much of this costly element of plant food that would otherwise be leached from the land by our winter rains. The stools or bunches and their roots and leaves retard the flow of water and as brakes which will prevent to a large degree the washing of our rolling lands. The clovers save the land from washing in the same way and in addition to this are beneficial by being able to take nitrogen from the air through the agency of bacteria which adds to the fertility of the soil. But to grow these latter crops successfully the soil must contain the bacteria peculiar to the particular crop grown.

It has been the experience of many of our farmers that any crop grown after a winter-cover crop, when turned under at the proper time in the spring, and disked well before and after turning, will produce a great deal more, often as much as 50 per cent more, than if no winter-cover crop had been grown. The seed for a cover crop will cost from one to five dollars an acre according to kind and quantity of seed used. This should save to the soil and add to the next year's crop more than twice the cost of the cover crop.

Sow at the rate of 15 to 20 pounds crimson clover seed per acre and cover lightly with harrow or cultivator. These can be sowed in growing crops, on stubble land, or after peas. Sow from 20 to 30 pounds of vetch per acre if sown with small grain, and if sown alone put from 40 to 50 pounds per acre. Rye should be sown at the rate of one to one and a half bushels per acre.

An application of manure, or from 200 to 500 pounds acid phosphate, per acre and 25 to 50 pounds muriate of potash on sandy or gray land, will be helpful to the clovers and vetches. For rye or other small grain it may be better to add 2 per cent nitrogen to the above.

It is now time to commence putting these crops in. When put in cotton fields it is better to sow immediately after the pickers, as in that way no cotton will be knocked out in covering the seed.

Put in the crop that will succeed best in your locality and experiment with other crops in a small way until you are assured they will make satisfactory growth on your land and under your conditions.

SCUM OF THE EARTH.

Wolves in Sheep's Clothing Preying on the People.

Statesville Landmark.

That is an interesting story the Concord Tribune tells of the three cotton mill workers—one of them said he was a mill man and it is presumed the other's are—who agreed to go out on an evangelistic tour purely for the money they could get out of it. One who claimed to be a college graduate and an ex-preacher was to do the preaching and the others, who outfitted the preacher, were to do the singing, etc. At the last moment the better nature of one of them asserted itself, he backed out and the expedition was off. Then the whole story came out, because the ex-preacher wouldn't return the clothes his backers had bought him, and when he told the story of the agreement—and the story wasn't denied—he said they were all drinking. This was truly a fine lot to go out to call sinners to repentance, but it was only the better angel of one of them that saved Hickory from the visitation. We have referred to this case to say that we have no doubt that many of the so-called preachers who come around holding tent meetings, and who usually attract attention by the extravagance of their language which constantly borders on the profane and the vulgar, if it does not cross the border are of just such material as composed the Concord expedition; and some of them are not as well equipped to talk, being neither college graduates nor ex-preachers. Yet, by denouncing the regular ministry and the organized churches these cattle demoralize those who are so weak as to follow their leadership and wean them away from the influence of the regular churches and the ministry, while they fill their pockets with the contributions of their dupes. Gastonia has been greatly afflicted with these so-called preachers and the Gazette says the regular ministry and the municipal authorities have agreed that no more tent meetings conducted by irresponsible preachers shall be held in that town. We don't know how they will proceed, but some way should be found to stop the wolves in sheep's clothing from preying on the people, prostituting sacred things and bringing the religion of Jesus into contempt.

FIRST CLASS BRICK, LIME and Cement for sale. C. D. Ray.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co. Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists, 75 cents. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.
