

THE HOUSEHOLD

Waffles.

Waffle making is an art, difficult, if you will, but not at all impossible to master.

The cooking of the waffle and the mixing of the batter are the important parts. The waffle iron must be scrupulously clean, to begin with. Heat it. Then rub it with a piece of salt pork or a little piece of butter wrapped in a piece of clean gauze or cheesecloth. Every part of the iron must be greased, and one way to make sure of this is to close the iron so that the melted fat will run into all crevices. Then fill the iron, when it is smoking hot, with the batter, about two-thirds full. Shut the iron and cook, for one or two minutes on each side.

So much for the cooking. Here is one recipe for the batter:

Sift three cups of flour a teaspoon of cream of tartar and a saltspoon or salt. Beat two eggs light. Dissolve half a teaspoon of soda in a little hot water. Add to the milk, then add to the flour and also add the eggs and a tablespoon of butter. Beat thoroughly, for the batter must be very smooth.

Here is another waffle batter: Mix well a quart of sifted flour and three teaspoons of baking powder, and put in half a cup of butter. Then add three beaten eggs and enough milk to make a thin pouring batter.

Waffles may be served in many ways, and if different sweets are devised to serve with them, they make a very acceptable desert a couple of times a month. And may also be eaten occasionally for breakfast. Served with strained honey they are, perhaps, best of all, although maple syrup is also delicious with them.

They can be slightly salted and served with fried chicken with good results.

They can be sprinkled with granulated sugar and cinnamon sifted together.

They can be served with butter and sugar.

They can be served with the juice from any sweet, canned fruit.

Any fruit sauce, made of a syrup with chopped, cooked fruit, is also delicious with waffles.

They must always be served soon after they are made, as they become stiff and rather tough as they cool.

—The internal revenue offices located at Statesville will be moved to Raleigh and will be in charge of F. L. Boyd, of Kentucky, who is in charge of the Louisville district.

—With the completion of Lenoir's good roads plan it is probable that school consolidation will follow. It will be better, according to those in charge, to do away with the small districts of 40 pupils, and put some five or six districts together.

Periodic Bilious Attacks

Persons subject to periodic bilious attacks will observe that their appetite fails them just before an attack. That is, they do not really crave food but eat because it is meal time. If they will eat only a light meal and no meat, then take two of Chamberlain's Tablets the attack may be avoided.

WHEN THE SNOW FLIES

(Mary R. Merriman)

Last summer, when I played around, Acorns lay scattered on the ground. I put them in a hollow tree,

To save them for the squirrels' tea. For when the winds of winter blow, And all is covered up with snow,

How can the little squirrel play If they go hungry all the day?

Today I saw the snow-flakes fly, They came down whirling from the sky;

And squirrels in the hollow tree Were cracking acorns merrily.
