A decoration and a safe-guard to your home

A real roof must be more than a watershed. It must be sightly. It must be fire-safe. It must last. A roof of Johns-Manville Asbestos Shingles meets all these requirements, and in addition, is moderate in first cost with no continual upkeep or painting expense.

JOHNS-MANVILLE Asbestos Shingles

give the permanence and fire-protection of asbestos; while their soft, warm colors harmonize with any architectural scheme or natural surroundings. Because of their material—asbestos fibre and cement—they cannot burn. And as they age on the roof, they become harder and more durable, a veritable roof of stone, impervious to fire and the elements.

We can supply Johns-Manville Asbestos Shingles in various sizes and shapes, with rough or smooth edges, and in four colors—a deep red, a warm brown, a dark gray, and in one of the sizes a composite of blended brown shades called "Conglomerate Brown." We will be pleased to advise you concerning a distinctive roof for your residence.

MOORE LUMBER COMPANY

The After Effects of Pneumonia

This is No. 2 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vicks' Vapo-Rub may be of value in this condition.

Pneumonia attacks the air cells of the lungs. An inflammation is set up and matter is thrown off which causes the air cells to solidify, thus preventing the natural flow of blood thru the lungs. This "backing up" of the blood causes the heart to pump harder, just as stepping on a hose increases the water pressure, which is the reason why, during this disease, the physician watches the overburdened heart so carefully.

After recovery the lungs are filled with a mass of wreckage—the debris of the battle—which must be gotten rid of by a process known as resolution. Frequently, inflamed spots remain, congestion persists, cough hangs on, and the least exposure brings on a cold that is hard to get rid of. If neglected, such damaged air passages may easily develop serious disease of the lungs.

Such cases should always continue under a physician's care and frequent examinations should be made to see that nature is properly continuing the rebuilding process.

Nightly applications of Vicks' Vapo-Rub will aid nature in this work. Because Vicks acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots and relieve the cough. In addition, the medicinal ingredients of Vicks are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, thus bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas.

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying, swallow a small bit of Vicks the size of a pea.

Samples to new users will be sent free on request to the Vicks Chemical Company, 232 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.
