INDEPENDENTS ON PARKER.

The Charlotte Observer quotes the Greensboro News as believing that Mr. John J. Parker, Republican nominee for Governor, "is doing yeoman service in the cause of the Democrats." It believes that in the course of his speech at Durham, Mr. Parker "managed to make it exceedingly uncomfortable for any man possessed of both honesty and intelligence who might have wished to vote for him." The News was referring to Mr. Parker's contention that the Legislature will repeal the revaluation act, and that if it should fail, he would be elected and would remove the law from the statute books. The News does not think it worth while to dwell upon the point that Parker has promised to do something that no governor could do, but it rather takes him for repudiating "the honest and intelligent Republican membership of the last Legislature, accusing them of having helped write an iniquitous act upon the statute books." It is the belief of the News that if Parker would drop his "piffle," and "jump on the sins of the Democrats instead of their virtues, he might make a campaign that would rock the old State to its foundations." And the Hickory Record, another "independent" paper to which the Republicans have been in the habit of hopefully turning, expresses the bold opinion that "the revaluation act will not be repealed and Mr. Parker will not be elected governor. He is fighting honest progress and ought to know it." The Greensboro Record, a third link in the chain of independent papers, is calling on Mr. Parker to make himself clear. It wants him to specify where in the revaluation act is iniquitous. Mr. Parker, says the Record, "should make it appear beyond question that he is not objecting to the revaluation of property itself, lest he be classed among the demagogues as a danger to the mental health of the people."

Mr. Parker will get cold comfort out of the direction in which the mind of the independent papers of the State is running. With the deliverance of his keynote speech before the students of the North Carolina University one very firm conclusion was formed in the mind of The Charlotte Observer. That was "that whatever hopes the Republican candidate might have entertained of winning votes—and for a Republican candidate to win in a state election he must win a large number—must win between 30,000 and 40,000—those hopes had been blasted by his position on the question of State tax reform. Mr. Parker has deliberately set himself in antagonism of the financial interests of farmer and laborer, capitalist and professional man. The one man in North Carolina with whom he is hand and glove, is Marion Butler."

WATCH NEW JERSEY

If Jersey Goes For Johnson Today He Will Be the Republican Nominee For President.
Washington, April 26—The New Jersey primary tomorrow promises to be like Michigan primary a turning point in the campaign. Had Michigan gone for Wood the General would probably have been nominated. If New Jersey goes for Johnson it will be hard to refuse Johnson the nomination, though a victory for Wood in New Jersey will hardly do as much for him, for he has suffered too deeply in recent reverses to have his prestige restored by carrying a single primary.

New Towns in Burke.
Two new towns, Valdese and Connelly Springs in Burke county, have received papers of incorporation this week. Valdese has a population of 1500 with property valued at about one million dollars.

It is yet too soon to decide whether the Overall Club is a movement or a fad.

The primaries are settling one thing at least, the question who is the heir of Roosevelt.

Agents of the Department of Justice continue to insist that the bogymen will catch the sugar profiteers if they don't watch out.

Tentative inquiries concerning campaign funds reveal the fact that to open a presidential jackpot it is necessary to have the "jack".

The Durham grocer who charged eleven cents for a quarter of a pound of sugar and forty-four cents for a full pound evidently believed that good arithmetic is good policy.

If some enterprising tailor will begin to make khaki and denim suits of conventional cut he will soon have a market—unless he tries to profiteer.

There is so strong a suspicion of wildfire in the "overall" movement that there is reason to believe it may soon be an "all over" movement.

One brick may explain the whole economic structure: No amount of "profiteering prosecuting" will bring down the price of food while a hundred Granville farms remain idle.

Senator Frelinghuysen has introduced a bill for the coinage of seven and eight cent pieces. But no law can make the new coins buy more than five cents' worth of goods.

—After a man's wife has been out of town for two or three weeks he meets her at the depot and kisses her and hangs on to her arm and acts like he can't get close enough to her. AN OPEN LETTER TO MR. W. W. BRUMMITT

Mr. W. W. Brummitt, Oxford, N. C. Dear Mr. Brummitt: I appreciate very much your favor of the 14th. I am in favor of the Public School Plank in the Democratic Platform. I am in favor of the Good Roads Plank.

I am in favor of the Revaluation Plank as far as it goes, but my views are not covered by the Platform. I herewith enclose you a statement of my views of the Revaluation Question made in answer to the Questionnaire of the Farmers and Labor People.

I was opposed to Woman Suffrage two years ago and helped beat it in the State Convention. I voted against it in the recent State Convention, and a majority of the Delegates from Mecklenburg did. I am against Woman Suffrage, and expect to go down in defeat without changing my views. Of course, I suppose the General Assembly will feel bound by the declaration in the Platform. I can go further than to say at this time that I will discuss this question in a public speech in which I expect to urge some limit upon the right of negro women to vote before the Legislature acts. Very truly yours,

CAMERON MORRISON.

A FORTHCOMING EVENT

In Memory of the Late Lieutenant Calvin Capps—General B. S. Royster Will Speak.

A forthcoming event of great importance is the unveiling of a memorial tablet to the late Lieut. Calvin Capps, an old Oxford orphanage boy who served in the world war and died of wounds received in battle. The unveiling will take place Sunday afternoon, May 2, at the regular chapel service. Mrs. Maggie Capps, of Lucama, mother of Lieutenant Capps, and Messrs. Frank and Carl Capps, brothers, and their wives will be present. The speaker of the occasion will be Hon. W. A. Lucas, of Wilson, who delivered the address at the memorial service held in Lucama last year. Gen. B. S. Royster, of Oxford, will be present and speak on the occasion. Miss Myrtle Branch, music teacher, is preparing special music.—Orphans' Friend.

Why Wear Overalls?

The people who make clothing are working only a few hours a day and charging high for the time they do work. This results in a scarcity of clothing and high prices. So much so that some people who never wore overalls before feel forced to wear them now.

SUPPOSE THE PEOPLE IN THE WEST WHO MAKE CORN, HAY AND WHEAT WOULD STOP WORKING.

WHAT WOULD BECOME OF US IN GRANVILLE COUNTY.

WE WOULD HAVE TO M STARVE OR STARVE.

The reports are that the food crops in the West are being reduced on account of the scarcity of farm labor. If this is so the people in Granville will suffer next year unless they make a big corn crop this year.
