AS TO PITCH

The address of the retiring Moderator of the Northern Presbyterian church, Dr. John Willis Baer, advocating the active participation of the church in politics, indicates the awakening of the churches to the necessity of taking a more active part in the things of government. It is good advice, and if followed will be a "short cut" to the political regeneration of the country.

Gang politics exists only because the best citizens of a city or state choose to let it exist. The churches should be the most formidable enemy of the Political gangster, but the political interests of the church heretofore has been sporadic and has been confined to single issues rather than with the general evils which lie at the root of our unsatisfactory political situation.

The policy of the church in the past has been too much that one cannot touch pitch without being defiled. This may be true, but it should also be remembered that pitch cannot be removed without touching it.

If liars had good memories more probes would be fizzes.

Practical politics appear to develop calluses on the conscience.

Both backers and opponents say of the soldiers' bonus, "I hope they may get it," but there is a slight difference in inflection.

If the same enthusiasm manifested in base ball was lavished on peace gardening the likelihood of a food shortage would go glimmering.

Men are interested in things that touch them where they live—or, if they are house-hunters, in places where they would like to live.

President Wilson sees his own views in Carter Glass's draft of the Virginia platform. Kind of looking Glass, as it were.

There is little likelihood that political conventions of the future will resemble a combination prayer meeting and love feast any more than they did in the past.

It is probably because progress is invariably made on a zigzag line that the world's slowly increasing production is punctuated by strikes and rumors of strikes.

WHY VOTE FOR PAGE

Hon. Robert N. Page for Governor—A balance wheel for business.

You owe it to the Democratic Party to nominate for Governor a candidate whom all elements of the party can support without reservation. Mr. Page has embittered the friends of no candidate, and won the respect of all men.

Mr. Page is the only candidate for Governor who has declared for changing the date of tax-listing for farmers back to May 1st.

NINE CLEAR REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD VOTE FOR ROBERT N. PAGE

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF NORTH CAROLINA:

When you go to the polls next Saturday, June 5, I hope you will make up your mind beforehand that you are going to mark a ballot for ROBERT N. PAGE for GOVERNOR—and that you are going to do so regardless of any pressure that may be brought to bear by politicians working for other candidates.

I ask you to do this simply because Mr. Page is the best man for Governor—and for reasons which I submit to your own thoughtful consideration and judgment. Here are nine definite and explicit reasons why I believe this:

1. Mr. Page tells where he stands. He started out by announcing a definite platform for State progress and development and he was the first candidate to answer frankly and explicitly the questions asked by the organized farmers and laborers of the State. Governor Bickett answered such a questionnaire four years ago; so did Mr. Daughtridge. Mr. McAdoo has just answered such a questionnaire. So have Mr. Hoover and other presidential candidates. Mr. Page has never dodged any request for his views on public questions.

2. Mr. Page proposes to make economy and efficiency the keynote of his administration. North Carolinians now pay several million dollars a year in taxes. Any other great business having such vast expenditures would get the wisest judgement of organization experts as to how best to promote efficiency and economy in every line. If elected Governor, Mr. Page promises not only to give his own time to this end, but to employ the country's best experts to help him. Our systems of county government can also be made much more economical, and Mr. Page will formulate and advocate policies to this end.

3. Mr. Page has the training needed to make his program a success. As Mr. J. Z. Green says:

He began his business career when his enterprising family was seriously embarrassed by debts due to the general poverty of the South, and it was only after years of labor with both mind and muscle on the farm and at lumber camp, that Mr. Page at last achieved his business success. He knows what it is to toil, knows the work and sweat back of a dollar, and in the great task of administering our State government and its millions of dollars in tax money, he will carry out his pledge to "make efficiency and economy the keynote of his administration."

because his training fits him for this task. The life-training of the other two candidates has been as lawyers. With-

9. Last but not least, Mr. Page is a man of highest character. No breathe of suspicion has ever been uttered against him. Free from cant, pretense or hypocrisy, the simply dignity honor and uprightness of the man have won him honors both from State and church.

IF THESE NINE REASONS FOR SUPPORTING MR. PAGE convince you that he should be our next Governor, then I repeat that you should make up your mind beforehand to vote for Mr. Page and let no paid or unpaid workers for other candidates prevent you from doing so.

More than this, you should SEE YOUR NEIGHBORS and get them to go to the polls and vote for Mr. Page. He has no political machine behind him. No powerful corporation influences are supporting him. He is also opposed to the use of money as a means of getting the nomination, and the law also forbids it. To you and to all other independent voters therefore he makes this direct appeal and ASKS NOT ONLY FOR YOUR VOTE BUT FOR YOUR SERVICE IN GETTING OUT OTHER VOTERS IN HIS BEHALF.

SECOND SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY

"The wages of sin is death", really physical death, too. God allows the ills of humanity; He spared not His own Son, and He does not spare us, "because we are sons." The "sting of death" need not be feared by the Christian, who believes in Christ, the conqueror of death and sin, and in whose power he may conquer. If we really believe and understand something of the meaning of God in Christ, there should a penetrating satisfaction influencing our physical health, other things being equal. One of the founders of the Emmanuel movement was heard to say "No persons practicing Confession of sins to a priest have come to us." thus acknowledging the curative properties of official Absolution for sin. Again, Holy Unction sanctifies the means used for healing and is itself a source of comfort, conveying grace to body and soul. St. James connects its use with penitence and forgiveness of sins, St. James 5:14-16 as in all Christian healing.
