IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of my dear cousin, Bettie Camilla Edwards Chamblee, who entered into eternal rest one year ago today, June 4th.

"The Lord had need of a lily,
The flower of Easter tide,
To bloom in His heavenly garden
Called the angel of death aside.
"Bring me," said He, "a spirit
Unselfish, loyal and fair
In tune with love and happiness
And like a lily rare.
"But mark—Her Soul must love me,
Her feet walk in my way—
Her little world seem brighter
Because she smiles each day."
The angel of death came earthward
Took the spirit of her we love
To fill the need of a lily
In the celestial fields above.
But we who wait and miss her
From out her earthly place
May know she will bloom forever
In the sunshine of His face."
She lives in the heart of one who loved her.
