COULD HARDLY STAND ALONE

Terrible Suffering From Headache, Sideache, Backache, and Weakness, Relieved by Cardui, Says This Texas Lady.

Gonzales, Tex.—Mrs. Minnie Phil-pot, of this place, writes: "Five years ago I was taken with a pain in my left side. It was right under my left rib. It would commence with an aching and extend up into my left shoulder and on down into my back.
By that time the pain would be so severe I would have to take to bed, and suffered usually about three days.
I suffered this way for three years, and got to be a mere skeleton and was so weak I could hardly stand alone.
Was not able to go anywhere and had to let my house work go. I suffered awful with a pain in my back and I had the headache all the time. I just was unable to do a thing. My life was a misery, my stomach got in an awful condition, caused from taking so much medicine. I suffered so much pain. I had just about given up all hopes of our getting anything to help me.

One day a Birthday Almanac was thrown in my yard. After reading its testimonials I decided to try Cardui, and am so thankful that I did, for I began to improve when on the second bottle. I am now a well woman and feeling fine and the cure has been permanent for it has been two years since my awful bad health.
I will always praise and recommend Cardui." Try Cardui today. E 78

GREAT TRUTH SIMPLY TOLD

Warning Here to Those Who Neglect to Set Down Their Priceless Discoveries.

A noted author in the Satepost writes: "The commonest sign of fatigue is found in feeling of weariness."
There are times when we are almost led into believing that this is true.
Equivocal and ambiguous as the statement may seem, at the first reading, it becomes clearer when read over four or five times. In fact, we don't know when the proposition has been stated with more clarity, after one masters the language in which it is couched.

Have you not often read things and said to yourself: "How often I have thought that very thing. Why did I not put it down in imperishable words?"

It is so with this. Doubtless, in your humble way you have often thought that your weariness was a sign of fatigue. At those times you thought a living truth, but did you write and tell some magazine of your priceless discovery? No. You allowed somebody to come along, perhaps years after, and do it.

The moral is that when you think a great thought, put it down on paper at once. Even if you do put it away somewhere and forget it, posterity may find it.

Now, many times in our career we have had feelings of weariness. Some of our friends have been misguided enough to attribute it to laziness—an awful word, particularly among friends. But, when we were weary, it was not laziness that ailed us. It was fatigue.

And we never knew the truth until we read the magazine article mentioned. We have been slandered for years by a wrong idea.—Exchange.

HIGH HONOR FOR SMALL GIRL

Face of Ten-Year-Old Has Appeared on Millions of Coins of the United States.

The government of the United States in 1835 made an offer of $1,000 for the most acceptable design to be placed upon the new cent coin soon to be issued. Some Indian chiefs traveled from the northwest to Washington to visit the Great Father and then journeyed to Philadelphia to see the mint, whose chief engraver was James Barton Longacre, who invited them to his home.

The engraver's daughter, Sarah, aged 10, greatly enjoyed the visit of her father's guests and during the evening, to please her, one of the chiefs took off his feathered helmet and war bonnet and placed it on her head. In the company was an artist, who immediately sketched her and handed the picture to her father. Mr. Longacre, knowing of the competition for a likeness to go upon the cent projected, under the inspiration of the hour, resolved to contend for the prize offered by the government. To his delight the officials accepted it, and the face of his daughter appeared upon the coin, which was circulated about the nation for nearly a century. There were more than a hundred competitions.
The cent bearing the face of Sarah Longacre has gone into more hands than any other American coin.

How England Grows.

A great deal of interest is taken in England in the question of coast protection. The ocean, assailing the cliffs, gradually tears them away, but this very process furnishes a defense for the land by building up long beaches of sand and shingle which arrest the waves before they can attack the cliffs. An effort is making to prevent, or better regulate, the removal of this material for construction and road building, because in many places its removal has permitted the sea freely to exert its power of erosion.

The ordinance survey has ascertained that in the last half century England has lost 6,640 acres by sea erosion and gained 48,000 acres through reclaiming land the existence of which is mainly due to material brought down by the rivers.

Growth of the Cities.

A Cleveland editor once said that Cincinnati's chief business was "pork and politics," observes Girard in the Philadelphia Press.

You have been told in advertisements a million times that a certain beer "made Milwaukee famous."

Everybody knows that Washington, D. C., has one big industry—holding down government jobs.

The new census figures from these cities, all above 400,000, are significant.

Pork population increased only 10 per cent in a decade, while beer population expanded 22 per cent. Both look small compared with the growth in government job population of 32 per cent.

Four Vials

Diplomats at Washington.

There are 42 accredited representatives of foreign governments in Washington. Besides these there are many unofficial representatives of nationalities seeking recognition from the American government. Chief among the latter are representatives of the Irish, Ukrainians, Armenians, Lithuanians and Albanians. Only the state of Monaco and San Marino, two of the smallest republics in the world, are without representatives.

EXPEDITIONARY FORCE SHOWN

The Story Of America In The War Told In Pictures On Walls Of National Museum.

The story of the American Expeditionary Force is told in pictures on the walls of the National Museum in Washington in a permanent exhibit just opened to the public, says a Washington dispatch. Continuing the dispatch says:

"Drawn from life in paint, pen and ink or pencil by American artists commissioned and sent to the front for that purpose, the collection of almost 500 studies detailing nearly every phase of life in the army overseas is spread over the walls of half a dozen great, well-lighted rooms.
It is a tale of stirring action which they disclose.

"Among the scenes depicted are ruined French villages made sacred to Americans because of American blood freely given to tear them from German hands. There are the homely, appealing scenes from behind the lines with happy-go-lucky youngsters of Pershing's division in billets mixing among the people of France, the very old and the very young people.
Here and there are grim reminders of the great tragedy in groups of huddled dead in wrecked enemy trenches over which the tide of victory had poured. Again, half glimpsed through a down pour of rain, a trudging, sodden infantry column is moving onward through a sea of mud as the artist saw it; or an endless line of gun teams dragging forward the batteries to blast the road to triumph.

"At one point the artist caught and held for his countrymen the breathless tensiety of a forest outpost, peering thru the leafy screen of his covert toward the enemy lines, his rifle hugged close with his fingers clinched about the trigger; at another a slash of light from a half-opened door has painted on the screen of night just a hint of a column, tramping on toward battle, just a young face or two in the line, weary, dirty but with jaws grim set with purpose. Again it is a hospital that has gripped the artist's imagination, a twisted writhing form under the tumbled blanket with agony in every line and over it the steady-eyed surgeon or the merciful

"In rooms around the picture display are shown all the countless things with which the army and the navy dealt in war; the guns, the bombs, the uniforms of ally and enemy alike, captured weapon and German war gear of many kinds.

These form a striking setting for the epic tale of war artists have pictured, probably the only such record ever assembled for it began with the army and runs on to the departure of the army and transports at the close."

League Covenant in Esperanto.

In the case of most international conventions a version in one language, customarily French, is taken as the original text. The treaty of Versailles, however, stipulates that the French and English texts shall have equal authority. But a perfectly equivalent translation of anything more complex than the multiplication table is impossible and already controversies have arisen over supposed discrepancies in the two versions. So the Es-perantists of Paris have published their "Kontrakto de la Ligo de Nacioj" with the suggestion that by making Esperanto the official language of the league all disputes would be avoided.
