MR. CREWS BACKS UP MR. MILLER'S STATEMENT

Has a Good Word to Say About the Oxford Market.

(Henderson Daily Dispatch)
I want to say that I read Mr. J. I. Miller's article of September 13, and to save my life I can't see anything wrong or offensive in it. He stated facts and told just what they were.

Now, as to the automobile. He had no reference to the man that was able to have one. He was writing about the man that had no home of his own, and did you know that the woods are full of those fellows that have Autos? Now, I know men of this kind who ride their cars short distances that I would not thought of riding horseback in my palmist days. In other words, they ride every where they go, and are going all the time nearly. And the most of these make tobacco only.

Brother farmer, listen I never intend to vote for another hot headed politician while life lasts, nor am I going to follow a reckless farmer. You can't afford to do it. You just have a few more such sale days as last Monday was, and Henderson will not have a market.

We want harmony and not strife and bloodshed. My son sold tobacco the same day in Oxford and averaged $28.50, his next to last primings, and was well pleased with his sale.

If tobacco don't sell to suit you, just stop stripping and prepare your land for wheat, oats and clover. In other words, make your supplies at home and then what tobacco you can, and you will never glut the market. The farmers lost their heads over the high prices last season and planted tobacco to buy everything else with—made a very poor crop, and now they are cussing out all tobacco concerns.

Brother I have my crib full of corn; would you think I was very foolish to build another the same size, pay ten or twelve dollars a barrel to fill it? You have been told that there are two hundred million pounds of the old crop on hand. Now I have asked those that know and they say it is a fact.

I'm not personally acquainted with Mr. Miller; haven't seen him for several months, but I endorse every word he said. I am a Farmer, and have never been anything but one. Brother farmer, have you forgotten 1913 and 1914? If you have, just refresh your memories and I think you will see things in a different light.

The best advertisement any merchant can have is a satisfied customer. No greater recommendation can be given an article than the following by E. B. Milburn, Prop., Guion Drug Store, Guion, Ark. "We have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for years and have always found that it gives perfect satisfaction."

MAN SAVES WIFE IN NICK OF TIME

"My wife was unable to eat even the lightest food, and had fallen away to a living skeleton. She could not even keep doctor's medicine on her stomach and was tortured with pain. On the recommendation of a friend I bought a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and she is all right now and has gained forty pounds." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sold in Oxford by J. N. Pittman and druggist everywhere.

The Ford Motor Company makes this reduction in the face of the fact that they have immediate orders for One Hundred Forty Six Thousand Sixty Five Cars and Tractors. The Company will suffer a temporary loss while using up the material bought at higher prices. They are willing to make a sacrifice in order to bring business back to a going down as quickly as possible and maintain the momentum of the buying power of the country. Henry Ford says "the war is over, and it is time war prices were over. There is no sense or wisdom in trying to maintain an artificial standard of values. For the best interest of all it is time a real particular effort was made to bring the business of the country and the life of the country down to regular pre-war standards". We are at your command with regular Ford efficiency in service and eagerness to fill your orders.
