

HISTORY OF THE OXFORD GRADED SCHOOL (Continued from First Page)

ery respect, and will fill a long felt need in Oxford. The building which has an attractive rough brick finish contains fourteen well lighted classrooms, a principal's office, a library and an auditorium with a seating capacity of about nine hundred. In the basement, the windows of which are entirely above ground, there is space for domestic science and domestic art for the girls and manual training for the boys. There is also a play room for girls and one for boys. The building will take care of the sixth and seventh grades as well as the high school, and the plan is to have a modern Junior-Senior High School.

The building is situated on a seven acre plot about a quarter of a mile from the business center of Oxford. The site has been graded and will be beautified in accord with plans prepared by Mr. Charles F. Gillette, landscape designer of Richmond, Va. There will be a regulation size football and baseball field with a quarter-mile track around the field, a basket ball court and three tennis courts. There will also be a playground for small children with quite a lot of playground apparatus. When the grounds are covered with grass, shrubs and trees which will be planted in the fall, Oxford will have one of the most attractive school sites in the country.

In addition to the school's growth in numbers and buildings, there has been a wide expansion in its curriculum: physical training and debating have filled an important place in the school's activities. The degree of success which they have attained is easily seen in the victories which have been won over worthy competitors. The Loving Cup, which was offered by the Granville Alumni at Chapel Hill, as a reward to the school in the county winning it three consecutive years in the contests in the county commencements, is a highly prized trophy owned by the school. Commencement Orators.

One factor that gave the school a bound forward and which has always left an indelible impression on the public, has been the messages of encouragement and good cheer which have been brought to the school from year to year by the following speakers in the annual addresses; Hon. J. Y. Joyner, Dr. Henry Louis Smith, Dr. C. D. McIver, Rev. Plato Durham, Maj. Robert Bingham, Hon. Whithead Klutz, Prof. E. K. Graham, Dr. J. A. Hodges, Hon. R. D. W. Connor, Hon. Max Gardner, Judge R. W. Winston, Prof. M. C. S. Noble, Hon. M. H. Stacy, Hon. Tasker Polk, Hon. W. R. Webb and Dr. D. D. Carroll.

Some Heavy Tobacco—We learn that our old friend Thomas Frazier of Surl, Person county, has cured some good heavy tobacco this season. Tom is one of the best farmers in Person and is always as busy as a bee. He finished pulling fodder on August 31.

Native Of South Africa—Mr. P. F. van der Watt, of South Africa, who has been studying the cultivation of tobacco at the Granville Experiment Farm this season, is a very pleasant gentleman and has made many friends here. He is highly pleased with Oxford and the people of town and county. Mr. van der Watt is of Dutch descent, his forefathers having gone to South Africa from Holland many years ago.

The Game Association—The readers of the Public Ledger will be pleased to see that there is a determination, as announced on the first page of this paper by Mr. T. Lanier, to stop the killing of game birds and animals out of season. The Game Association was created by an act of the Legislature and the law has teeth. There is a warden in each township of the county. The following constitute the commission in Granville: Messrs. John Watkins, R. T. Gregory, B. T. Harris, John W. Mays, T. Lanier, secretary.

A Farm Colony. Location in North Carolina of a colony of 500 families for agricultural purposes is a possibility, according to a statement issued by the Chamber of Commerce of Greensboro. The Record tells this story: The local chamber is in touch with an eastern syndicate, the object of which is to colonize about 500 families for agricultural purposes. At the present time the syndicate has 300 families who are ready to go as soon as acreage has been secured. The syndicate would like to secure from 10,000 to 75,000 acres of land that could be used for agriculture, stock, and fruit purposes.

This syndicate proposes to establish a town site wherever the land is secured and to establish a bank, large cannery, commissary, school, church, creamery, and other enterprises that would go to make up a community. While this syndicate is now considering locating in another state, if suitable land can be had in North Carolina the colony can be obtained. The Chamber of Commerce would like to hear from parties who have such a body of land to offer near Greensboro; if not near Greensboro, near the center of the state. Anybody who has anything along this line should communicate with the Secretary, C. W. Roberts, of the Chamber of Commerce, promptly.—Lexington Dispatch.

SALE OF LAND

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain deed of trust executed to me by J. G. Royster on the 28th day of April, 1920, and at the request of the owner and holder of the bonds secured thereby, default having been made in the payment of the said bonds, I shall on MONDAY, OCTOBER 3RD, 1921, AT TWELVE O'CLOCK, NOON, sell to the highest bidder by public auction for cash at the Court House door in Oxford, the following described lot or parcel of land: Lying and being situate in Oxford Township, near the northern limits of the town of Oxford, fronting 505.5 feet on Delacroix street and running back therefrom along the line of Prospect Avenue, and the lands of R. L. Knowles, to Albert street, and being lots Nos. 1, 10, 19 and 28 of the R. L. Knowles or Delacroix property, as shown by plat thereof made by W. A. Peterson, Civil Engineer, of record in Plat Book page 96 of the Office of the Register of Deeds of Granville county and being the lots conveyed to J. G. Royster by Mrs. Mary R. Delacroix. This September 1, 1921. (paid) D. G. BRUMMITT, Trustee.

SALE OF VALUABLE LANDS

Pursuant to an order of sale made by the Superior Court of the County of Granville, in the Special Proceeding therein pending, entitled "J. L. Clark and others Vs. W. H. Clark and others," we shall on MONDAY, OCTOBER 3RD, 1921, AT TWELVE O'CLOCK, NOON, the same being the first Monday in October, 1921, sell to the highest bidder by public auction for cash at the Court House door in Oxford, the following described tract or parcel of land: Lying and being situate in Salem Township, said county, about five miles north of Oxford, adjoining the lands of the late John R. Wilson, Redden Perry, R. T. Clark and others, containing about 126 acres, more or less, and known as the tract of land owned by Mrs. Jennie Clark at the time of her death, less 36 acres sold off to R. T. Clark. The said tract of land will be divided into two smaller tracts, with the Public Road leading through said tract, as the dividing line, and Plats of each tract will be made and exhibited on the day of the sale. The land will be sold first by the separate tracts and then as a whole, in accordance with the order of Court. This September 1, 1921. A. A. HICKS, B. S. ROYSTER, paid Commissioners.

LOVETT HINES, BIG LUMBER FACTOR, DIES AT KINSTON

Kinston, Sept. 1.—Lovett Hines, 72, prominent lumber manufacturer died at his home here late today. He had been in failing health many months. Mr. Hines was a native of this section. He was known in lumber circles throughout the east and south. He was the founder of one of the largest companies in the business in this state. A widow and a number of children survive. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

constitutional precepts in that it creates special privileges for Americans," according to that portion of President Obregon's message to Congress dealing with foreign relations which was read in the house tonight.

The Weekly Ambon Of St. Stephen's Parish

FIFTEENTH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY Our reporter went to the Episcopal Church last Sunday morning in a critical frame of mind, prepared to find fault with the services. He came away in a thoughtful mood. Perhaps the fact that he was impressed in spite of himself might add some force to his impressions. The one dominating thought was that the service was devotional and reverent, and seemed to express the spirit of worship. Somehow you felt that you were in the presence of Almighty God. I used to think that the details of ritual worship were foreign to American ideals of religion, and were certainly not Scriptural. I find that this is inherited prejudice, and that the Bible is full of such accessories of public worship. I came away feeling that hereafter I should go to Church to worship God, and not simply to hear a sermon, no matter how good it may be. I think that I know now why a person should kneel when he prays. I, for one, am going to quit measuring Almighty God by the limits of my own mind. Perhaps the Church is right after all.
