Wednesday—An Allan Dwan production, "Soldiers of Fortune."

Thursday—Elaine Hammerstein in "The Miracle of Manhattan."

Friday—Jackie Coogan in "Peck's Bad Boy;" also the "White Horseman."

Saturday—"Peck's Bad Boy;" also Larry Semon in "The Stage Hand."

PECK'S BAD BOY

At the Orpheum Next Friday and Saturday.

"Peck's Bad Boy," starring Jackie Coogan, will be the attraction at the Orpheum next Friday and Saturday.

That, we feel, is the biggest announcement that has been made to patrons of this theatre in a long while. The lovable little youngster who won the hearts of all who saw him in "The Kid" is given even a bigger role in "Peck's Bad Boy."

The subtitles are the clever work of that master humorist, Irvin S. Cobb, the production having been adapted from the volumes of the late Governor George Peck and presented by Irving Lesser.

In the cast supporting Jackie Coogan are such well known players as Doris, May, Wheeler Oakman, James Corrigan, Lillian Leighton, Raymond Hatton, Charles Hatton and Baby Gloria Wood.

—One million pounds of wool sent to textile mills in Michigan direct from a farmers' pool was turned back to the farmers in the shape of finished goods. By this method stagnation of the wool clip was overcome; the mills kept running full time and the farmers clothed in a new sort of homespun at about half the usual cost.

—The spreading of culture through the medium of personal contact rather than classroom work is the latest venture in education. The University of Michigan has obtained the services of a prominent poet to perform this service. If the experiment succeeds it will be repeated next year, a painter or sculptor being chosen.

MR. FRANK KELLY DEAD

One Of the Good Men Of Knap Of Reeds Section.

The neighborhood off Knap of Reeds mourns the death of Mr. Frank Kelly which took place at his home Sunday, Sept. 18, in the 57th year of his age. For several months he had been in declining health and about ten days ago when he returned from Watt's hospital but it was apparent to all that the end was drawing near. Mr. Kelly was numbered among the finest citizens this county has produced. In the year 1894 he made a profession of religion and united with Knap of Reeds Baptist church, where he had remained a most faithful and consistent member ever since. It was the pleasure of the writer to have been acquainted with him for the last ten years and we have never dealt with a more honorable and just man. He applied the religion which he professed to all the transactions of business life. The funeral services were conducted in his home Monday afternoon by Rev. Mr. Brinson, a Baptist minister of Durham, and the interment made in the family burying ground near the residence. Mr. Kelly leaves a wife, two brothers, Messrs John and Harrison Kelly, of Albemarle, N. C. and two sisters, Mrs. Henry Beck, of Albemarle, and Mrs. Charlie Beck of relatives to whom we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

SHODDING THE CHILDREN

Every boy and girl wants new Shoes for Winter. And every parent wants the children to look their best for the new Season. Particularly impressive is the Spring display in which we feature all the newest styles and color effects. But as usual durability — the kind that makes our Shoes so economical — continues to be the chief factor in our success.
